Foreign Aid Reasons Given for 3½ Billion

MAN-MADE BIRD NESTS IN TREE — An off-course approach to an airport saw Alfred Bach, 41-year-old sportsman pilot, wind up in this Clementon, N. J., tree, May 1, but Bach escaped with bruises although the plane was wrecked. Bach, who had borrowed the plane, told police he was approaching for a landing when he noticed he was going to undershoot. Although he gunned his engine, Bach said, the plane failed to gain sufficient altitude to clear the tree. He climbed through the branches to the ground. A crane later removed the plane. ## CP Campaign Aid Praised

The thanks of United Cerebral Palsy were extended today by Tim Law, Kingston chairman, to all the chairmen and workers who took part in last night's successful house-to-house canvass.

While all wards have not completed their counting, Mr. Law says, the indications are that Kingston gave generously to its handicapped children, and the committee is gratified by the results of the community's cooperation.

"As soon as we know them ourselves," said Mr. Law, "we'll make the figures public; and in the meantime, committee workers express their thanks to all who donated to the worthy cause."

Stang Suggests Council Consider Rent Control

In a communication to the Common Council tonight Mayor Frederick H. Stang will urge its members to give the matter of rent controls "serious consideration."

The new state law, which was signed by Gov. Harriman April 27, removes curbs in 17 counties, including Ulster, and eases them in five. The current rent-control law expires at midnight, June 30.

IN ULSTER county the curbs can be restored by local action in cities and towns. Mayor Stang's statement follows:

"On July 1, 1955, rent controls for the city of Kingston, and in certain other commmunities of this state, will be a thing of the past pursuant to recent legislation passed by the legislature and signed by the governor.

HOWEVER, the bill provides that the legislative body of communities may keep in effect the present rent control law. This should be done before July 1.

"Inasmuch as this question affects a great many people, both as landlords and tenants, I respectively suggest that your honorable body give this matter serious consideration to the end that should it be advisable to retain the controls, appropriate action be taken at the June meeting.

"IF NO ACTION is taken at the June meeting there will still be an opportunity at a later date to put the controls back into effect if there are evidences of abuses of the de-control."

When Gov. Harriman signed the Republican-drafted rent control bill he said he regretted the measure was "not a better one." He had called for stricter controls.

"However," the governor noted, "it does continue existing rent protection for most of the families of the state. If the bill were not signed, rent controls would automatically end . . . and more than 2,500,000 families would face rent rises, evictions and other hardships.

Reception Is Held

The grand reception of the Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was held last week at Atharhacton Lodge rooms. The program was planned by Myron F. Ronk, grand master. The Ross Sisters of Woodstock presented several accordion selections.

Russia, 7 Satellites Will Meet

Vienna, May 3 (AP)—Warsaw radio announced today that Russia and her seven East European satellites will meet in the Polish capital May 11 to set up a unified military command.

Western observers in Vienna said the move apparently was being taken to provide the legal basis for retaining Russian troops in Hungary and Romania after the expected end of the four-power occupation of Austria.

THE WARSAW radio said the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, East Germany, Hungary and Albania would take part in the conference, with Communist China sending an observer.

The eight European nations met in Moscow last November to warn that the unified command would be set up if West Europe went ahead with ratification of the Paris treaties and with West German rearmament. Since then the Soviets have reported from time to time that conferences on the subject were going ahead.

WESTERN observers in Vienna said the announcement appeared a positive indication that Russia expects to carry through its promise to sign an Austrian independence treaty and end the occupation.

Governors Hear Report on Giant HighwayProgram

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Administration leaders reported to a pretty well split group of the nation's governors today on what it plans to do about salvaging its big highway program.

The meeting was held behind closed doors and reporters had to wait for a briefing scheduled after the close of the session.

MEANWHILE, Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, chairman of the governors' conference, said he and his supporters will campaign among members of the House of Representatives to revive the administration's controversial road financing program.

That plan has been scrapped by the Senate public roads subcommittee, which instead adopted a "pay as you go" formula proposed by Sen. Gore (D.-Tenn.).

SOME OF THE governors, notably Averell Harriman of New York and George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, endorsed the Gore formula.

Reporting to the governors were Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, head of President Eisenhower's Highway Committee, and Francis V. duPont, special consultant on highways to the secretary of commerce. All three endorsed the Eisnehower road program in hearings before the Senate subcommittee.

Merger Is Snagged on New Name

CIO-AFL Agreed On Working Rules

Washington, May 3 (AP)—AFL and CIO efforts to merge into a single labor union group have snagged at least temporarily in a dispute over a name for the proposed combined organization.

Both sides declined to say today what names they have in mind but apparently the AFL wants the new organization to bear its own name while the CIO wants something new like "The American Congress of Labor."

GEORGE MEANY, AFL president, said the quarrel over a name could cause "trouble" but he added: "We've had trouble before and we've gotten over it."

Otherwise, Meany, CIO President Walter Reuther and other AFL and CIO leaders reached complete agreement yesterday on a constitution, or set of working rules, for the proposed merger organization.

The constitution, with the name of the new organization left blank, will be submitted to the AFL Executive Council and CIO Executive Board this week, with approval expected. Thereafter, if the name quarrel is settled, only ratification by the AFL and CIO conventions would be needed to put the merger into effect.

Trade Bill Vote Due Tomorrow

Democrat Asks Limited Debate

Washington, May 3 (AP)—The Senate today agreed to start voting tomorrow on President Eisenhower's foreign trade bill. The action might bring final passage by tomorrow night.

An agreement to curtail debate on the measure was adopted with almost no discussion.

IT WAS OFFERED by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and approved by Minority Leader Knowland (R-Calif.).

Sen. Malone (R-Nev.), bitter foe of the reciprocal trade program, was not present when Johnson proposed the debate limitation. One dissent could have blocked it, but it was reported Malone had agreed privately not to object.

Starting when the Senate meets tomorrow, the debate will be limited to two hours on each amendment, four hours on final passage.

JOHNSON SAID the Senate might have to stay in session late tonight to get all speeches out of the way, and do the same tomorrow night if final passage appeared possible in one day of voting.

Knowland said he expects the Senate to approve Eisenhower's request for an extension of the reciprocal trade program much as it came from the finance committee.

Sen. Byrd (D.-Va.), floor manager of the bill, already had said most of the opposition to the program seems to have disappeared. Malone, too, conceded that there would be only a few votes against it.

A REWRITING job done on the trade bill by the finance committee, which Byrd heads, appeared to have quieted much of the opposition.

Outlook Is Seen Good For Peace

Democrats May Propose Changes

Washington, May 3 (AP) — President Eisenhower talked over the world situation today with congressional leaders of both parties, giving what one characterized as a "helpful and hopeful" report.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas said there was nothing "alarming" in the rundown on world affairs by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

Johnson added that he personally feels the outlook for peace is today "more hopeful and optimistic" that in certain periods of the past.

THE HOUR and 40-minute session at the White House was intended to bring the congressional leaders up to date on foreign developments and give background for the administration's request for 3½ billion dollars for foreign aid.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee will begin hearings tomorrow on the foreign aid bill. Its chairman, Sen. George (D.-Ga.), told reporters: "There is no question but that it will get through—in what form, I don't know."

As to foreign aid, Johnson said Congress will "carefully scrutinize and thoroughly explore" the President's program. He added that there was "no question" but that "some changes will be made."

JOHNSON said that under administration plans the largest slice of military aid—452 million dollars—would go to Korea. Indochina, including free Viet Nam, would get 417½ million dollars and the Republic of China on Formosa 99 million dollars.

As to the general discussions at the White House meeting, Johnson said Dulles gave the lawmakers "a brief trip around the world," bringing them up to date on developments in Europe as well as in the Pacific area.

THE "EMPHASIS" in Dulles' briefing, Johnson said, was on the recent Bandung conference of 29 Asian and African powers "and the situation in Formosa."

The question of cease-fire negotiations with Red China, Johnson indicated, did not come up at all.

Partisans of Santana Riotous Near Chapel

New York, May 3 (AP)—The teen-age hatreds that killed 15-year-old William Blankenship Jr. flared anew last night.

There were angry voices of juvenile hoodlums outside a Bronx funeral chapel after religious services for the high school honor student, killed Saturday by a bullet of a youth gang member.

Police dispersed the crowd of some 100 persons outside the chapel after a group of teenagers threatened to attack news photographers who tried to photograph them.

Police assumed the teen-agers, including several girls, were partisans of Frank (Tarzan) Santana, 17-year-old Bronx gang member, who is charged with homicide in young Blankenship's slaying.

The new flareup of teen-age trouble came shortly after civic and religious leaders called on New Yorkers for effective measures to fight juvenile crime.

Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adames said on Sunday that the rate of juvenile crime is "alarming."

Young Blankenship, son of a civic leader and fighter against juvenile delinquency, was shot because the gang mistook him for a member of a rival group. The feud between the gangs was over the use of similar jackets, police said.

Bronx Dist. Atty. Daniel V. Sullivan said he will seek a first degree murder indictment against Santana.

At Santana's arraignment yesterday, Magistrate Hyman Korn denied bail. A companion of Santana, Ralph (Rocky) Falcon, 16, charged with rioting, was held in $50,000 bail.

As the mothers of both boys wept in court Magistrate Korn said:

"If you ask me who is to blame, I would say the people of the city of New York.

Shufeldt Named To Tax Group

The National Association of Manufacturers has announced from New York the appointment of A. B. Shufeldt, treasurer of the Universal Road Machinery Company here to serve on its taxation committee during the ensuing year.

The NAM's taxation committee studies the effect of various forms of taxation on free enterprise and recommends tax adjustments and reductions which benefit the economy as a whole. The committee also gives special attention to the need for reduction and control of income taxation.

Chairman of the taxation committee is William J. Grede, president of the Grede Foundries, Inc., of Milwaukee, Wis.

Through this and other policy committees which meet during the year, the NAM says "management explores its problems and crystallizes its views on questions of a national character." The committees formulate policy recommendations on economic and industrial issues for appropriate action by the association as a whole.

Top Dai General Dies In Attack on Rebels

Saigon, South Viet Nam, May 3 (AP)—Gen. Trinh Minh the top Cao Dai general and one of the chief supporters of the free Viet Nam revolutionary committee, was killed in action tonight.

HIS DEATH was disclosed a short time after hard-hitting troops of the Cao Dai religious sect joined the Nationalist army of Premier Ngo Dien Diem in an offensive against the Binh Xuyen rebels.

Gen. The's Cao Dai forces were once allied with the Binh Xuyen society and the Hoa Hao sect in a united front demanding Diem's resignation. But the general switched sides three months ago when Gen. Le Van Vien, the Binh Xuyen leader, rejected demands that armed struggle be avoided.

Gen. The had thrown four battalions of his troops, perhaps 2,400 men to Diem's support in mopping up Vien's battered force of 2,000 men on Saigon outskirts.

He died while directing the battalions in this action.

The Cao Dai general was fired upon by Binh Xuyten commandos in an amored motorboat and died instantly.

This blow to the armed forces supporting Diem came as the

Adlers Plan Move To New Location

Adler's Store, 71 Albany avenue, will move to 36 John street next to O'Reilly's about the end of May, it was announced today.

The store, which handles children and infant's clothing, has been in its present location for the past five years.

Repairs and renovations began today on the new location. Mrs. Milton Adler said she expects the alterations to be completed by the end of this month.

SHE SAID the store would expand its services with a larger stock and selection of the same type of merchandise it now handles. Adler's offers merchandise for infants through preteens for girls and for infants

Last of Escapees Gives Up By Walking Into Jail Alone

Canton, May 3 (AP) — A manhunt through northern New York wilderness has ended where it began—in the county jail from which four men fled.

Freshly shaven and clothed, Patrick Brooks of Gabriels walked quietly into the main jail office at 9:06 last night. A friend drove him from the swampy woodland where he had been hunted since Friday. Two children rode with them.

The final score stood: One desperado dead, one wounded and two in custody. A state trooper was recovering from his wounds.

One of the four who escaped from the St. Lawrence county jail Wednesday was taken after a gun battle Friday. Two others were shot, one fatally, when troopers found them yesterday morning.

More than 200 state police, sheriff's deputies and volunteers took part in the manhunt in

To Ask Physician's Approval for License

Chauffeur license holders who are now renewing for the coming three years will have to furnish a physician's statement of safe driving capability in all cases where there is a record of specified physical disabilities, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly said today.

About one million of the state's 1,330,000 chauffeur licenses expire next May 31.

Commissioner Kelly said that in accordance with motor vehicle bureau procedural requirements established a year ago, a physician's statement is required with every license renewal application which shows the applicant has had fainting spells, diabetes, stroke, Bright's disease, excessive high blood pressure or any heart ailment.

The bureau will also continue its long-established strict regulations covering license applications of individuals who have defects of hearing or vision, other physical disability or deformities, or a record of mental illness, Kelly said.

Ulster, Greene Play Areas Spend $750,000 to Expand

An expansion and building program involving millions of dollars is in progress in the Catskills and other vacation areas of the state, it was reported today by Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson.

This boom reflects "confidence in the future of the vacation business in New York state," he said.

More than $750,000 has been spent in the Catskill counties of Ulster and Greene, Dickinson pointed out.

New hotels have been built on Route 23 near Cairo. On Route 9W 12 new units have been built at Marlborough, 20 at Highland and 10 at Catskill. In Ellenville the Sunrise Manor Hotel is starting work on a $100,000 addition and one for the Falls View Hotel will cost $70,000.

Near Middletown, Orange county, a new motel costing $60,000 is nearing completion.

Typical of the trend, noticeable all over the state, is the construction on Long Island of two motels at Montauk Point and of ocean-front apartments at Westhampton. Expansion of tourist facilities at Hyde Park, near the Roosevelt Home and the Vanderbilt Mansion, continues. Some motels are being remodeled and there are new restaurants in the area.

Sullivan county resorts in the southern Catskills have completed one of the biggest expansion programs in the area's history. More than $10,000,000 has been spent on hotels, swimming pools, summer theaters and other recreational facilities in the county.

On Route 9, modern motels have been built south of Albany and also at Albany and in the Saratoga Springs vicinity. New motels are also open on Route 9N in the Lake George section.

Conference on Bank Holdups Is Scheduled May 12 by FBI

James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the New York office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, today announced plans for a conference on bank robbery which will be held at the Bear Mountain Inn, Bear Mountain, May 12.

This conference is one of a series of more than 100 on the bank robbery problem being held by the FBI throughout the United States during 1955. Local law enforcement officers and bankers are expected to be invited.

These conferences are designed to bring about additional cooperation and increased efficiency in dealing with this crime.

The conferences will be of a forum type and will be held from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. The panels will be composed of representatives from the banking field as well as law enforcement officers and will provide a mutual exchange of information and knowledge.

The panelists will include Chief Inspector William McDonald, Mt. Vernon Police Department; Louis Spyes, vice-president, First National Bank, Yonkers; Raymond Mieczkowski, treasurer, County Trust

Nationalists Deny Report On Agreement to Cease-Fire

Taipei, Formosa, May 3 (AP)—The Nationalist Chinese Foreign Office flatly denied today a local press report that Foreign Minister George Yeh had hinted Nationalist China might agree to a cease-fire in the Formosa strait.

Yeh made a report today at a closed session of the legislative Yuan (Parliament) on the recent talks here between President Chiang Kai-Shek and two special White House envoys.

The English language China News said Yeh hinted that while Nationalist China had not officially approved any ceasefire plan "there might be a certain area of understanding on the issue."

Official quarters not only said this was speculative, but that Yeh covered much the same ground as in the past when he has stressed these points:

1. A Nationalist withdrawal from Quemoy and Matsu is unthinkable.
2. Nationalist China opposes a cease-fire in Formosa strait.
3. The Nationalists will never sit at the same table with the Reds.

Stang Suggests Council Consider Rent Control

In a communication to the Common Council tonight Mayor Frederick H. Stang will urge its members to give the matter of rent controls "serious consideration."

The new state law, which was signed by Gov. Harriman April 27, removes curbs in 17 counties, including Ulster, and eases them in five. The current rent-control law expires at midnight, June 30.

IN ULSTER county the curbs can be restored by local action in cities and towns. Mayor Stang's statement follows:

"On July 1, 1955, rent controls for the city of Kingston, and in certain other commmunities of this state, will be a thing of the past pursuant to recent legislation passed by the legislature and signed by the governor.

The new flareup of teen-age trouble came shortly after civic and religious leaders called on New Yorkers for effective measures to fight juvenile crime.

Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adames said on Sunday that the rate of juvenile crime is "alarming."

Young Blankenship, son of a civic leader and fighter against juvenile delinquency, was shot because the gang mistook him for a member of a rival group. The feud between the gangs was over the use of similar jackets, police said.

Bronx Dist. Atty. Daniel V. Sullivan said he will seek a first degree murder indictment against Santana.

At Santana's arraignment yesterday, Magistrate Hyman Korn denied bail. A companion of Santana, Ralph (Rocky) Falcon, 16, charged with rioting, was held in $50,000 bail.

As the mothers of both boys wept in court Magistrate Korn said:

"If you ask me who is to blame, I would say the people of the city of New York.

Shufeldt Named To Tax Group

The National Association of Manufacturers has announced from New York the appointment of A. B. Shufeldt, treasurer of the Universal Road Machinery Company here to serve on its taxation committee during the ensuing year.

The NAM's taxation committee studies the effect of various forms of taxation on free enterprise and recommends tax adjustments and reductions which benefit the economy as a whole. The committee also gives special attention to the need for reduction and control of income taxation.

Chairman of the taxation committee is William J. Grede, president of the Grede Foundries, Inc., of Milwaukee, Wis.

Through this and other policy committees which meet during the year, the NAM says "management explores its problems and crystallizes its views on questions of a national character." The committees formulate policy recommendations on economic and industrial issues for appropriate action by the association as a whole.

Last of Escapees Gives Up By Walking Into Jail Alone

Canton, May 3 (AP) — A manhunt through northern New York wilderness has ended where it began—in the county jail from which four men fled.

Freshly shaven and clothed, Patrick Brooks of Gabriels walked quietly into the main jail office at 9:06 last night. A friend drove him from the swampy woodland where he had been hunted since Friday. Two children rode with them.

The final score stood: One desperado dead, one wounded and two in custody. A state trooper was recovering from his wounds.

One of the four who escaped from the St. Lawrence county jail Wednesday was taken after a gun battle Friday. Two others were shot, one fatally, when troopers found them yesterday morning.

More than 200 state police, sheriff's deputies and volunteers took part in the manhunt in

To Ask Physician's Approval for License

Chauffeur license holders who are now renewing for the coming three years will have to furnish a physician's statement of safe driving capability in all cases where there is a record of specified physical disabilities, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly said today.

About one million of the state's 1,330,000 chauffeur licenses expire next May 31.

Commissioner Kelly said that in accordance with motor vehicle bureau procedural requirements established a year ago, a physician's statement is required with every license renewal application which shows the applicant has had fainting spells, diabetes, stroke, Bright's disease, excessive high blood pressure or any heart ailment.

The bureau will also continue its long-established strict regulations covering license applications of individuals who have defects of hearing or vision, other physical disability or deformities, or a record of mental illness, Kelly said.

Russia, 7 Satellites Will Meet

Vienna, May 3 (AP)—Warsaw radio announced today that Russia and her seven East European satellites will meet in the Polish capital May 11 to set up a unified military command.

Western observers in Vienna said the move apparently was being taken to provide the legal basis for retaining Russian troops in Hungary and Romania after the expected end of the four-power occupation of Austria.

THE WARSAW radio said the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, East Germany, Hungary and Albania would take part in the conference, with Communist China sending an observer.

The eight European nations met in Moscow last November to warn that the unified command would be set up if West Europe went ahead with ratification of the Paris treaties and with West German rearmament. Since then the Soviets have reported from time to time that conferences on the subject were going ahead.

WESTERN observers in Vienna said the announcement appeared a positive indication that Russia expects to carry through its promise to sign an Austrian independence treaty and end the occupation.

Ulster, Greene Play Areas Spend $750,000 to Expand

An expansion and building program involving millions of dollars is in progress in the Catskills and other vacation areas of the state, it was reported today by Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson.

This boom reflects "confidence in the future of the vacation business in New York state," he said.

More than $750,000 has been spent in the Catskill counties of Ulster and Greene, Dickinson pointed out.

New hotels have been built on Route 23 near Cairo. On Route 9W 12 new units have been built at Marlborough, 20 at Highland and 10 at Catskill. In Ellenville the Sunrise Manor Hotel is starting work on a $100,000 addition and one for the Falls View Hotel will cost $70,000.

Near Middletown, Orange county, a new motel costing $60,000 is nearing completion.

Typical of the trend, noticeable all over the state, is the construction on Long Island of two motels at Montauk Point and, of ocean-front apartments at Westhampton. Expansion of tourist facilities at Hyde Park, near the Roosevelt Home and the Vanderbilt Mansion, continues. Some motels are being remodeled and there are new restaurants in the area.

Sullivan county resorts in the southern Catskills have completed one of the biggest expansion programs in the area's history. More than $10,000,000 has been spent on hotels, swimming pools, summer theaters and other recreational facilities in the county.

On Route 9, modern motels have been built south of Albany and also at Albany and in the Saratoga Springs vicinity. New motels are also open on Route 9N in the Lake George section.

Conference on Bank Holdups Is Scheduled May 12 by FBI

James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the New York office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, today announced plans for a conference on bank robbery which will be held at the Bear Mountain Inn, Bear Mountain, May 12.

This conference is one of a series of more than 100 on the bank robbery problem being held by the FBI throughout the United States during 1955. Local law enforcement officers and bankers are expected to be invited.

These conferences are designed to bring about additional cooperation and increased efficiency in dealing with this crime.

The conferences will be of a forum type and will be held from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. The panels will be composed of representatives from the banking field as well as law enforcement officers and will provide a mutual exchange of information and knowledge.

The panelists will include Chief Inspector William McDonald, Mt. Vernon Police Department; Louis Spyes, vice-president, First National Bank, Yonkers; Raymond Mieczkowski, treasurer, County Trust

Nationalists Deny Report On Agreement to Cease-Fire

Taipei, Formosa, May 3 (AP)—The Nationalist Chinese Foreign Office flatly denied today a local press report that Foreign Minister George Yeh had hinted Nationalist China might agree to a cease-fire in the Formosa strait.

Yeh made a report today at a closed session of the legislative Yuan (Parliament) on the recent talks here between President Chiang Kai-Shek and two special White House envoys.

The English language China News said Yeh hinted that while Nationalist China had not officially approved any ceasefire plan "there might be a certain area of understanding on the issue."

Official quarters not only said this was speculative, but that Yeh covered much the same ground as in the past when he has stressed these points:

1. A Nationalist withdrawal from Quemoy and Matsu is unthinkable.
2. Nationalist China opposes a cease-fire in Formosa strait.
3. The Nationalists will never sit at the same table with the Reds.

Gun, Bomb Phony

Goteborg, Sweden, May 3 (AP)—A short, stocky man with sleepy eyes walked into the Scandinavian Bank here with a gun in his left hand yesterday. He held out an open paper bag and demanded that the teller fill it with money. He also placed a parcel with a lighted fuse on the counter, police reported. While customers and staff scrambled for cover, the man filled his bag. Unhurriedly he walked out and mounted a bicycle held for him by another man. A bundle containing 20,000 crowns ($4,000) dropped to the pavement. A passerby returned it to the bank. The man escaped with 90,000 crowns ($18,000). The police said the parcel with the fuse was no bomb. It contained only combustible cord. The gun was found outside the bank. It was a toy pistol.

To Repair Big Ben

London, May 3 (AP)—Big Ben is going to take a rest after having taken note of each passing hour for more than a century. The great four-faced clock high in one of the towers of the Houses of Parliament is going to be stopped for major repairs late this month. Its voice, the deep boom of its 15-ton bell, is familiar around the world because it is heard daily in introducing British Broadcasting Corp. programs. Big Ben's voice will be silent for about two months. Another thoroughly masculine clock, Big Tom in St. Paul's Cathedral, will take over the radio programs temporarily. Big Ben is 101 years old. The overhaul on the clock and its tower is a major engineering operation which will cost about $112,000.

Suffers Cuts in Fall

New York, May 3 (AP)—Ralph Solberg, 51, of Rosedale, Queens, suffered lacerations of the head today when he fell about 10 feet to the sidewalk from a scaffold on a building at 2 West 56th street. Solberg, an employe of the Chesebro Whitman Construction Co., Long Island City, Queens, was taken to Roosevelt Hospital for treatment and examination. His condition was described as good.

Stoppage in Offing

New Haven, Conn., May 3 (AP)—An AFL railroad union spokesman says "next Friday or a week from Friday could be a good time" for a 24-hour work stoppage on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. The union is protesting a system-wide layoff of 367 employes last month. Union workers had voted over the weekend in Boston, New Haven and New York to authorize the AFL officials to set a "D-Day" for the work stoppage.

Gazlay Is Named By State Group

The New York State Association of Fire Districts, Raymond C. Griffen, Point Pleasant, president and Stephen P. Fox, secretary-treasurer, New Hyde Park, have announced the appointive officers and committees for the 1955-56 year.

Percy W. Gazlay, secretary of the commissioners of the Accord Fire District, has been appointed sergeant-at-arms representing Ulster county.

There are 384 fire districts in the state who have a paid up membership in the State Association and Ulster county is well represented.

The annual meeting will be held in Buffalo in early February, 1956.

Search Continues

Miami, Fla., May 3 (AP)—Law enforcement officers intensified their search today for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferri but they said there was little hope that the well-to-do couple would be found alive. Officially, the couple was still classified as "missing persons." Two private airplanes planned an extensive search over the area near the Ferri home. The condition of the seven-room home from which they disappeared Friday night pointed to murder. Blood spots led from the front room to a bedroom and then to a carport. Human blood was on a pair of Ferri's slippers, near the driveway. A theory that Ferri, 68-year-old retired plumber and pipe fitter, was the victim of a gangland slaying lost significance as officers delved into the couple's background.

Says Offer Doubted

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R.-N.J.) said today Secretary of State Dulles has indicated he doubts Red China's Premier Chou En-lai will follow through on his offer to discuss far eastern tensions. Speculation that the United States and Communist China might be able to get together on same kind of ceasefire in Formosa Strait increased sharply 10 days ago when Chou expressed willingness to undertake direct talks and said China did not want war with this country.

Governors Hear

THE SUBCOMMITTEE last Friday approved a five-year, 22-billion-dollar new road program with the federal and state governments sharing in the cost. Eisenhower urged a 10-year program involving 54 billion dollars more than would be spent at the present rate.

The subcommittee dropped an administration proposal for a new federal agency to issue 30-year bonds to finance federal expenditures on an interstate highway network. Instead, the Senate group recommended an increased federal-aid highway program and a 1-cent increase in the present 2 cents-a-gallon federal gasoline tax. It also suggested new limitations on truck weight and size.

IN THE AFTERNOON the governors were to consider health, education and welfare problems. Secretary of Welfare Hobby was scheduled to speak.

Forty-five governors were on hand yesterday for a briefing on foreign and defense policy. Afterward there was some grumbling about what they heard. Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said "we didn't learn anything we didn't know before." Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said he heard nothing that he thought ought to be kept secret, adding that "a current, careful reader of the newspapers would be as well informed." Both Faubus and Harriman are Democrats.

At a dinner last night, Eisenhower told the governors in a brief informal talk that the meeting serves to "bring us back closer to the people of your states."

Mob Attacks Police

New York, May 3 (AP)—A Brooklyn mob attacked two police officers last night when they tried to break up a fight between two men. Patrolmen Charles Zambri and Frank Rompulo, were thrown to the ground and beaten as the crowd demanded that the pair be allowed to "fight it out." The crowd of 200-odd scattered when police reinforcements arrived. One of the two battlers was seized at the scene, the other was arrested a short time later. They were identified as Miguel Astor, 29, and Gregorio Santana, 32, of Brooklyn. Astor, who police said carried a 3½-inch blade, was charged with violation of the weapons law and assault. Santana was charged with assault.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 3 (AP)—The stock market declined today without any show of weakness.

Prices in the early afternoon ranged from 2 points lower to 2 points higher, but losers predominated.

Volume remained subdued near yesterday's 2,220,000 shares.

Steels, with the exception of Bethlehem, were higher. Motors were mixed, while rubbers were lower. Aircrafts mostly lower, radio-televisions mixed, utilities lower. Coppers mixed, chemicals largely higher, electrical equipments lower, railroads lower, oils lower, airlines mostly lower, motion pictures steady, and building material mixed.

Would Abandon Custom

New Delhi, May 3 (AP)—A bill setting up strict penalties for the practice of untouchability went to President Rajendra Prasad today for his formal assent. He is expected to sign the measure into law later this week. The bill aims at stamping out age-old restrictions on India's estimated 60 million untouchables — members of the lowest castes in the Hindu social and religious system. To devout Hindus, their touch is considered a defilement of members of the higher classes.

Foreign Aid

thing new on Formosa and Indochina. Neither Mr. Dulles nor the President gave us anything new on that."

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson were to confer with Eisenhower later in the day on their recent trip to Formosa.

Johnson said the belief that outlook for peace is more hopeful was not based specifically on today's White House talks but on "recent statements" by Eisenhower and Sen. George.

HE DID NOT elaborate but apparently referred to Eisenhower's expressed willingness to confer with Red China on a cease-fire without the Chinese Nationalists necessarily being present, a policy he announced last Wednesday after George called for such a conference.

Johnson also stressed the "position of our friends at the Bandung conference" as a further indication that peace prospects appear somewhat more hopeful.

Johnson said Dulles discussed the Austrian treaty, now under study by the Big Four at Vienna, and the German question. He quoted Dulles as saying the German situation is "coming along fine."

JOHNSON, George and House Speaker Rayburn of Texas headed the 11 Democrats at the conference. The Republicans included Vice President Nixon, Senate leader Knowland of California and House leader Martin of Massachusetts.

Also present were the chairmen and key members of the committees which will handle the foreign aid bills.

After Dulles' presentation, Harold E. Stassen, foreign operations administrator, discussed the aid program.

Rayburn told reporters that Dulles and the other officials gave a worldwide review of economic and military conditions.

"I THOUGHT they handled themselves very well," Rayburn said.

Knowland said Dulles' briefing centered on "developments in the Far Pacific area." He gave no details.

Martin said the administration officials gave a "thorough, careful explanation" of their reasons for favoring a continuation of foreign aid. The pending bill would earmark about two thirds of the 3½ billion dollars for Asiatic countries.

There has been talk among some legislators of substituting long-term loans for much of the proposed direct economic aid. One of those pushing this idea is Sen. Potter (R-Mich.).

Potter, who was invited to the White House meeting, said in advance of the session that he had already discussed the long-term idea with presidential advisor Joseph M. Dodge.

Last of Escapees

rough country near the Canadian border.

Louis Greenwood, 38, said Brooks appeared at his house 13 miles north of Potsdam about 8 p. m. and asked for food. Greenwood's sister is married to Brooks' brother.

The 26-year-old Indian was not armed.

The fugitives had taken two revolvers from the jail. Both were found on the men shot yesterday.

The four men had been held on burglary and/or assault charges.

Greenwood said his wife gave Brooks a meal. Then the couple urged him to surrender.

Brooks told them he had become ill from drinking swamp water and had collapsed in the woods. He had not eaten since Friday.

In discussing the wounding of the trooper, Greenwood said Brooks raised his right hand and declared: "I swear to God, I never used a gun."

Brooks agreed to surrender, Greenwood said, on condition that Greenwood's car be used for the trip and, "don't let the police get me."

Patricia Greenwood, the couple's 12-year-old daughter, and Clarence Dunham, a four-year-old neighbor, rode with them to Canton.

No one challenged them on the 25-mile trip.

EARLIER in the day, Frank (The Hook) Talarico, a three-time felony loser, kept his vow that he would never be taken alive.

Talarico, 44, of Utica, and Ralph La Shomb, 29, of Potsdam, were shot after nine troopers found them in a clearing on a farm near Hopkinton.

La Shoms was taken to Potsdan General Hospital, where his right leg was amputated. His condition was reported fair today. A trooper was assigned to his hospital room.

IN THE ESCAPE Wednesday, La Shomb slugged a jailer, stole the two revolvers and freed three other prisoners.

After a gun battle around an abandoned farmhouse near North Lawrence Friday, Leon Caskinette, 24, of Raymondville, the fourth fugitive, was captured. He said the others forced him at gunpoint to accompany them.

Trooper Austin J. McDonagh, 34, of Malone, was recovering today at a Malone hospital from shoulder and leg wounds suffered in Friday's fray.

Trade Bill

key features of the bill requested by President Eisenhower and passed by the House. These extend the reciprocal trade program three years and give the Chief Executive additional powers to cut tariffs during that period by 15 per cent.

BUT THE FINANCE committee wrote in some additional authority for the President to curb imports if he believed this essential to protect an industry important to national security.

The committee amendments were largely acceptable to the administration.

Nationalists Deny

4. The White House envoys, Adm. Arthur Radford and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson, did not press for a Nationalist abandonment of the offshore islands.

5. The talks with Chiang covered the whole Far East situation.

The only military action announced today involved a small islet in Amoy Bay. A defense ministry communique said the Reds fired four shells "aimlessly" from Chingyu island on to the Nationalist held inlet of Ehrtan, two and a half miles south of Amoy. It said no casualties were reported.

Averaging 40 to 70 pounds, the beaver is the largest rodent in North America and the second largest in the world.

Gun, Bomb Phony

Goteborg, Sweden, May 3 (AP)—A short, stocky man with sleepy eyes walked into the Scandinavian Bank here with a gun in his left hand yesterday. He held out an open paper bag and demanded that the teller fill it with money. He also placed a parcel with a lighted fuse on the counter, police reported. While customers and staff scrambled for cover, the man filled his bag. Unhurriedly he walked out and mounted a bicycle held for him by another man. A bundle containing 20,000 crowns ($4,000) dropped to the pavement. A passerby returned it to the bank. The man escaped with 90,000 crowns ($18,000). The police said the parcel with the fuse was no bomb. It contained only combustible cord. The gun was found outside the bank. It was a toy pistol.

To Repair Big Ben

London, May 3 (AP)—Big Beh is going to take a rest after having taken note of each passing hour for more than a century. The great four-faced clock high in one of the towers of the Houses of Parliament is going to be stopped for major repairs late this month. Its voice, the deep boom of its 15-ton bell, is familiar around the world because it is heard daily in introducing British Broadcasting Corp. programs. Big Ben's voice will be silent for about two months. Another thoroughly masculine clock, Big Tom in St. Paul's Cathedral, will take over the radio programs temporarily. Big Ben is 101 years old. The overhaul on the clock and its tower is a major engineering operation which will cost about $112,000.

Suffers Cuts in Fall

New York, May 3 (AP)—Ralph Solberg, 51, of Rosedale, Queens, suffered lacerations of the head today when he fell about 10 feet to the sidewalk from a scaffold on a building at 2 West 56th street. Solberg, an employe of the Chesebro Whitman Construction Co., Long Island City, Queens, was taken to Roosevelt Hospital for treatment and examination. His condition was described as good.

Stoppage in Offing

New Haven, Conn., May 3 (AP)—An AFL railroad union spokesman says "next Friday or a week from Friday could be a good time" for a 24-hour work stoppage on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. The union is protesting a system-wide layoff of 367 employes last month. Union workers had voted over the weekend in Boston, New Haven and New York to authorize the AFL officials to set a "D-Day" for the work stoppage.

Octopus Ink Paralyzing

Octopuses squirt ink at their enemies and recent research indicates it is a chemical which can paralyze the sense of smell in the moray eel, one of the principal enemies of the octopus.

California grows about 90 per cent of the almonds raised in the United States.

Gazlay Is Named By State Group

The New York State Association of Fire Districts, Raymond C. Griffen, Point Pleasant, president and Stephen P. Fox, secretary-treasurer, New Hyde Park, have announced the appointive officers and committees for the 1955-56 year.

Percy W. Gazlay, secretary of the commissioners of the Accord Fire District, has been appointed sergeant-at-arms representing Ulster county.

There are 384 fire districts in the state who have a paid up membership in the State Association and Ulster county is well represented.

The annual meeting will be held in Buffalo in early February, 1956.

Search Continues

Miami, Fla., May 3 (AP)—Law enforcement officers intensified their search today for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferri but they said there was little hope that the well-to-do couple would be found alive. Officially, the couple was still classified as "missing persons." Two private airplanes planned an extensive search over the area near the Ferri home. The condition of the seven-room home from which they disappeared Friday night pointed to murder. Blood spots led from the front room to a bedroom and then to a carport. Human blood was on a pair of Ferri's slippers near the driveway. A theory that Ferri, 68-year-old retired plumber and pipe fitter, was the victim of a gangland slaying lost significance as officers delved into the couple's background.

Says Offer Doubted

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R.-N.J.) said today Secretary of State Dulles has indicated he doubts Red China's Premier Chou En-lai will follow through on his offer to discuss far eastern tensions. Speculation that the United States and Communist China might be able to get together on same kind of ceasefire in Formosa Strait increased sharply 10 days ago when Chou expressed willingness to undertake direct talks and said China did not want war with this country.

Governors Hear

THE SUBCOMMITTEE last Friday approved a five-year, 22-billion-dollar new road program with the federal and state governments sharing in the cost. Eisenhower urged a 10-year program involving 54 billion dollars more than would be spent at the present rate.

The subcommittee dropped an administration proposal for a new federal agency to issue 30-year bonds to finance federal expenditures on an interstate highway network. Instead, the Senate group recommended an increased federal-aid highway program and a 1-cent increase in the present 2 cents-a-gallon federal gasoline tax. It also suggested new limitations on truck weight and size.

IN THE AFTERNOON the governors were to consider health, education and welfare problems. Secretary of Welfare Hobby was scheduled to speak.

Forty-five governors were on hand yesterday for a briefing on foreign and defense policy. Afterward there was some grumbling about what they heard. Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said "we didn't learn anything we didn't know before." Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said he heard nothing that he thought ought to be kept secret, adding that "a current, careful reader of the newspapers would be as well informed." Both Faubus and Harriman are Democrats.

At a dinner last night, Eisenhower told the governors in a brief informal talk that the meeting serves to "bring us back closer to the people of your states."

Mob Attacks Police

New York, May 3 (AP)—A Brooklyn mob attacked two police officers last night when they tried to break up a fight between two men. Patrolmen Charles Zambri and Frank Rompulo, were thrown to the ground and beaten as the crowd demanded that the pair be allowed to "fight it out." The crowd of 200-odd scattered when police reinforcements arrived. One of the two battlers was seized at the scene, the other was arrested a short time later. They were identified as Miguel Astor, 29, and Gregorio Santana, 32, of Brooklyn. Astor, who police said carried a 3½-inch blade, was charged with violation of the weapons law and assault. Santana was charged with assault.

MAY BE RARE SIGHT—Will scenes like this disappear entirely, eliminated by the Salk polio vaccine? Back to camera, Ryan McKendrick, physical therapist at the Utah Valley Hospital, Provo, Utah, encourages Eugene Park, 5, to use his legs. Thanks to exercises designed slowly to revive paralyzed muscles in both legs, his abdomen and back, Eugene is now able to walk slowly, even without his crutches.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 3 (AP)—The stock market declined today without any show of weakness.

Prices in the early afternoon ranged from 2 points lower to 2 points higher, but losers predominated.

Volume remained subdued near yesterday's 2,220,000 shares.

Steels, with the exception of Bethlehem, were higher. Motors were mixed, while rubbers were lower. Aircrafts mostly lower, radio-televisions mixed, utilities lower. Coppers mixed, chemicals largely higher, electrical equipments lower, railroads lower, oils lower, airlines mostly lower, motion pictures steady, and building material mixed.

Would Abandon Custom

New Delhi, May 3 (AP)—A bill setting up strict penalties for the practice of untouchability went to President Rajendra Prasad today for his formal assent. He is expected to sign the measure into law later this week. The bill aims at stamping out age-old restrictions on India's estimated 60 million untouchables — members of the lowest castes in the Hindu social and religious system. To devout Hindus, their touch is considered a defilement of members of the higher classes.

Foreign Aid

thing new on Formosa and Indochina. Neither Mr. Dulles nor the President gave us anything new on that."

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson were to confer with Eisenhower later in the day on their recent trip to Formosa.

Johnson said the belief that outlook for peace is more hopeful was not based specifically on today's White House talks but on "recent statements" by Eisenhower and Sen. George.

HE DID NOT elaborate but apparently referred to Eisenhower's expressed willingness to confer with Red China on a cease-fire without the Chinese Nationalists necessarily being present, a policy he announced last Wednesday after George called for such a conference.

Johnson also stressed the "position of our friends at the Bandung conference" as a further indication that peace prospects appear somewhat more hopeful.

Johnson said Dulles discussed the Austrian treaty, now under study by the Big Four at Vienna, and the German question. He quoted Dulles as saying the German situation is "coming along fine."

JOHNSON, George and House Speaker Rayburn of Texas headed the 11 Democrats at the conference. The Republicans included Vice President Nixon, Senate leader Knowland of California and House leader Martin of Massachusetts.

Also present were the chairmen and key members of the committees which will handle the foreign aid bills.

After Dulles' presentation, Harold E. Stassen, foreign operations administrator, discussed the aid program.

Rayburn told reporters that Dulles and the other officials gave a worldwide review of economic and military conditions.

"I THOUGHT they handled themselves very well," Rayburn said.

Knowland said Dulles' briefing centered on "developments in the Far Pacific area." He gave no details.

Martin said the administration officials gave a "thorough, careful explanation" of their reasons for favoring a continuation of foreign aid. The pending bill would earmark about two thirds of the 3½ billion dollars for Asiatic countries.

There has been talk among some legislators of substituting long-term loans for much of the proposed direct economic aid. One of those pushing this idea is Sen. Potter (R-Mich.).

Potter, who was invited to the White House meeting, said in advance of the session that he had already discussed the long-term idea with presidential advisor Joseph M. Dodge.

Last of Escapees

rough country near the Canadian border.

Louis Greenwood, 38, said Brooks appeared at his house 13 miles north of Potsdam about 8 p. m. and asked for food. Greenwood's sister is married to Brooks' brother.

The 26-year-old Indian was not armed.

The fugitives had taken two revolvers from the jail. Both were found on the men shot yesterday.

The four men had been held on burglary and/or assault charges.

Greenwood said his wife gave Brooks a meal. Then the couple urged him to surrender.

Brooks told them he had become ill from drinking swamp water and had collapsed in the woods. He had not eaten since Friday.

In discussing the wounding of the trooper, Greenwood said Brooks raised his right hand and declared: "I swear to God, I never used a gun."

Brooks agreed to surrender, Greenwood said, on condition that Greenwood's car be used for the trip and, "don't let the police get me."

Patricia Greenwood, the couple's 12-year-old daughter, and Clarence Dunham, a four-year-old neighbor, rode with them to Canton.

No one challenged them on the 25-mile trip.

EARLIER in the day, Frank (The Hook) Talarico, a three-time felony loser, kept his vow that he would never be taken alive.

Talarico, 44, of Utica, and Ralph La Shomb, 29, of Potsdam, were shot after nine troopers found them in a clearing on a farm near Hopkinton.

La Shoms was taken to Potsdan General Hospital, where his right leg was amputated. His condition was reported fair today. A trooper was assigned to his hospital room.

IN THE ESCAPE Wednesday, La Shomb slugged a jailer, stole the two revolvers and freed three other prisoners.

After a gun battle around an abandoned farmhouse near North Lawrence Friday, Leon Caskinette, 24, of Raymondville, the fourth fugitive, was captured. He said the others forced him at gunpoint to accompany them.

Trooper Austin J. McDonagh, 34, of Malone, was recovering today at a Malone hospital from shoulder and leg wounds suffered in Friday's fray.

Trade Bill

key features of the bill requested by President Eisenhower and passed by the House. These extend the reciprocal trade program three years and give the Chief Executive additional powers to cut tariffs during that period by 15 per cent.

BUT THE FINANCE committee wrote in some additional authority for the President to curb imports if he believed this essential to protect an industry important to national security.

The committee amendments were largely acceptable to the administration.

Nationalists Deny

4. The White House envoys, Adm. Arthur Radford and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson, did not press for a Nationalist abandonment of the offshore islands.

5. The talks with Chiang covered the whole Far East situation.

The only military action announced today involved a small islet in Amoy Bay. A defense ministry communique said the Reds fired four shells "aimlessly" from Chingyu island on to the Nationalist held inlet of Ehrtan, two and a half miles south of Amoy. It said no casualties were reported.

Averaging 40 to 70 pounds, the beaver is the largest rodent in North America and the second largest in the world.

O. & W. Abandonment

Editor, The Freeman:

There has recently been a good deal of misinformation bandied about, both on the radio and in the press, concerning the abandonment of the Kingston-Ellenville section of the New York Ontario & Western Ry., and the proposed use of this railroad's roadbed for highway purposes.

Certainly your paper was not at fault when on April 22nd, 1955 it factually reported "Text of the telegram from James Treux, Director of Public Relations, State Department of Public Works, Albany, said: (in speaking of Gov. Harriman's recent veto of the Wilson bill)

"There is pending an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the abandonment of the Kingston Ellenville Branch of the New York Ontario & Western Ry."

This statement by the State Department does not square with the facts. A fairly recent sale of the old O & W passenger depot in Kingston to Herzogs, who have long used this building for storage space, necessitated the removal of some 250 ft. of trackage fronting the former station. As this trackage comprised a portion of main line track, no matter what length, I.C.C. approval was needed for removal of the rail. Mr. Freeman, operating Trustee of the Railroad, appointed by the Court, today assured me that there was absolutely no though of the abandonment of the Kingston-Ellenville section. At the moment there is under consideration a plan to sell the railroad in its entirety to the Pinsley group in Boston. These prospective buyers are successful operators of short line Railroad properties and the Trustee tells me he favors the sale to this group who, he thinks, will be able to operate the line profitably. Rail re-organizations are long lengthy affairs in any event and the Trustee told me that even if the transfer of ownership proceeds smoothly, at least two years will probably pass before final I.C.C. approval.

From these known facts, it would seem that we will all have long white whiskers if we wait for abandonment of the railroad before something is done to improve Route 209.

To my way of thinking, there is something fundamentally wrong with the idea that this vicinity would benefit from loss of the railroad and the substitution of a new highway, on its property. Our area is on the threshold of a period of tremendous growth and it would seem tragic at that moment to lose our only direct east-west rail route, regardless of the light traffic density of recent years. Times are changing fast and this line, under proper management, might surprise us all within the not too distant future.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM E. GAFFKEN

THAT 'SIXTH SENSE'

Not all the great decisions of war and peace and politics represent just a strict weighing of the facts. Men play hunches. And so do the reporters and columnists who record their doings.

The other day President Eisenhower told newsmen a "sixth sense" suggested to him that prospects for world peace are on the upswing. On the same occasion he casually disclosed that he knew exactly how many months are left in his present White House term—21.

Putting their own 'sixth sense" quickly into play, many of the correspondents started speculating afresh that Mr. Eisenhower had decided against a second term. Their reasoning was simple:

After all, when a man is counting the months, it strongly indicates that he can hardly wait to escape. Put that together with facts like his costly improvements to his Gettysburg farm, his purchase of more farmland, his frequent flight from the capital, and maybe you have a picture of a man who is laying all his plans to retire from politics on Jan. 20, 1957.

Maybe. There can't be much question about what the President would do on that date if he were a wholly free agent. He would get in his car and drive to Gettysburg —to stay. But he isn't really a free agent.

It goes without saying he will be subject, indeed, is already subject to terrific pressures from within his own party to run again. Public opinion polls showing the two top Democratic choices, Adlai Stevenson and Senator Kefauver, running well ahead of any GOP possibility except the President will do nothing to lessen those pressures.

Men close to Mr. Eisenhower say, though, that he would never let mere political considerations determine his course. Naturally, there are other factors at work.

The very thing that brought him onto the presidential scene in the first instance—his sense of duty—may make powerful impact on him once more in the intervening months.

We all realize our affairs today are governed overwhelmingly by world events, by the outlook for peace or war. And this is the one field where the President seems to believe himself able to make deeply thoughtful decisions considerate of America's and humanity's future.

He is no politician, no domestic affairs expert. But he approaches the problem of peace with dedication. And there is a good deal of evidence to show that this lies at the root of the great trust a large share of American voters have in him.

Mr. Eisenhower may well be counting the months. But those who think this is significant might take one eye off the calendar and keep it on the events that will unfold in the arena of war and peace. For it seems more likely that it will there be determined whether or not the President runs in 1956.

FOUR-STAR GENERAL

Peyton C. March, who has just died at 90, was a four-star general when these were scarce and five-star generals unknown. He earned the distinction in World War I when, as chief of staff, he may have contributed as much to winning the war as the commander-in-chief himself, General John J. Pershing.

March had been an artillery officer whose experience included duty as an official American observer in the Russo-Japanese war. He was a brigadier general in France when called back to serve as chief of staff. The choice was Pershing's, who had been asked by Secretary of War Newton D. Baker to pick out an energetic officer who would put life into the Washington army effort.

When March took hold, the home army heads were operating on a peace-time schedule, with time off and the offices closed in the evening. March changed all that, and work began to hum. He did not hesitate, on occasion, to rebuke General Pershing himself, to whom he owed his appointment.

March's opinion of our World War II military operations would have been interesting, but so far as known, he kept it to himself.

THE FORMOSAN VIEW

When last February, the Nationalists on Formosa evacuated the Tachen Islands, with the assistance of the American Seventh Fleet, they assumed that they had an agreement, in writing, with the United States that because of such evacuation, Quemoy and Matsu would be defended by the United States. They believed that to be true up to Sunday, April 24, when Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson arrived on Formosa to tell them otherwise.

(In this article, I am trying to give the picture as I understand the Chinese on Formosa see it. I do not know, of my own knowledge, what the Tachen evacuation agreement was.)

As a matter of fact, the initial rejection of Chou En-lai's invitation to talk on a Saturday, which was nullified on the following Tuesday, was in conformity with the spirit, if not the letter, of such an agreement.

To the Nationalists, therefore, the change of attitude between Saturday and Tuesday is in the nature of a double cross—"walk the garden path," as the Chinese say it—and they are blaming it, as usual, on the British, by which they mean that the constant necessity for adjusting American to British policy, or, to put it differently, the readjustments of American and British policy give the British, who dislike Chiank Kai-shek, an opportunity to influence American views.

The Nationalists intend to stay put which is embarrassing to the United States, because the question then arises, will the United States blast the Nationalists off Quemoy and Matsu in the interest of Communist China. The alternative to that is to let the Nationalists do their own fighting, the Seventh Fleet watching the engagement. The Nationalists will, of course, fight with American equipment just as the Chinese Communists will fight with Russian equipment. It will be something like the Civil War in Spain during which one side was supported by Soviet Russia and the other side by Nazi Germany. It might even be regarded in Asia as a prelude to the big fight.

Should the Nationalists be defeated and the Communists decide to push on to Formosa, the Seventh Fleet would become engaged automatically, unless the United States decided to violate its treaty of alliance with Nationalist China. Should such a violation occur, the Communists could readily take Formosa and Japan would be forced to reconsider her position vis-a-vis the United States. The Japan-Australia line would be in a state of collapse, and the United States would have to form a new defensive line, probably with Pearl Harbor as the core. Then Southeast Asia would go pro-Communist China and anti-American because no country can accept the reliability of a treaty-breaker.

Nobody in Asia is quite sure as to what American policy is. Chiang Kai-shek has put his faith in Radford and Robertson, two excellent officials, who have been required to make proposals to him which he cannot and will not accept. Suicide is, for him, more acceptable, and may some day be the only way out.

Chiang has been dealing with countries for a long time. He understands that Radford and Robertson were sent on the mission to nullify the agreement concerning Quemoy and Matsu precisely because the Nationalists regard them as friends and trust them. He recognizes that public officials are often required to perform wholly unpalatable duties. Therefore, in his mind, their arguments are discounted because he does not believe that they mean what they say. They are merely carrying out their public duties, whatever their private opinions may be.

Further, all governments dealing with the United States recognize that there are actually two State Departments, if not more, and that the two do not always agree, which is why it was possible to say something officially on Saturday and to back away from it on Tuesday.

The formal State Department, presided over by John Foster Dulles and Herbert Hoover, Jr., holds the view that was expressed on Saturday; the White House group, which includes Dr. Milton Eisenhower, Harold Stassen and Nelson Rockefeller, holds the view which was expressed on Tuesday. The British, who frankly do not like Dulles, try to by-pass him by going directly to the White House group, and that makes for confusion and uncertainty.

THE USE AND ABUSE OF REST

A few weeks ago I wrote about the modern method of getting patients up and about early after operations, the fewer complications that set in when the patient was allowed up early rather than when he was allowed to remain in bed. An editorial in the Canadian Medical Association Journal points out that before the discovery of modern methods of treatment, rest in bed was often the only treatment available and that it is only in recent years that the dangers of rest have been recognized. Rest, whether for short or prolonged periods, may be a double-edged sword in the treatment of patients with injury or disease.

The effects on the elderly patient when put to bed are often quite serious. Sometimes, because of shortage of a nursing staff, an elderly person, not too seriously disabled, is placed in bed with disastrous results. He or she becomes dependent on the attendants for all bodily and mental needs with resultant stagnation. Lack of control of urine and bowel or mental and physical inactivity may result from such enforced rest in bed. If they can be coaxed out of bed and reassured, they may be cured of their lack of control.

We have also mentioned the newer method of treating patients who have had a stroke in allowing them to sit up in a chair for certain periods every day and to go to the bathroom rather than undergo the discomfort of a bedpan. Even when rest in bed is for just a short period, attention should be paid to movements of shoulders and legs, otherwise stiffness may result that will take some time to get over. These same principles apply to all classes of patient, and exercises for feet, legs and spinal muscles are a necessary daily task for the bedridden patient.

We must not overlook the fact that, in such diseases as tuberculosis, rest remains the mainstay of treatment as it does in rheumatoid arthritis, sciatica and fractures, but must be associated in these latter conditions with intelligent physiotherapy (exercise, heat in various forms, massage, etc.). Rest of mind is another essential in treatment of any disease and this should be remembered when allowing visitors who may disturb the feeling of peacefulness necessary to healing.

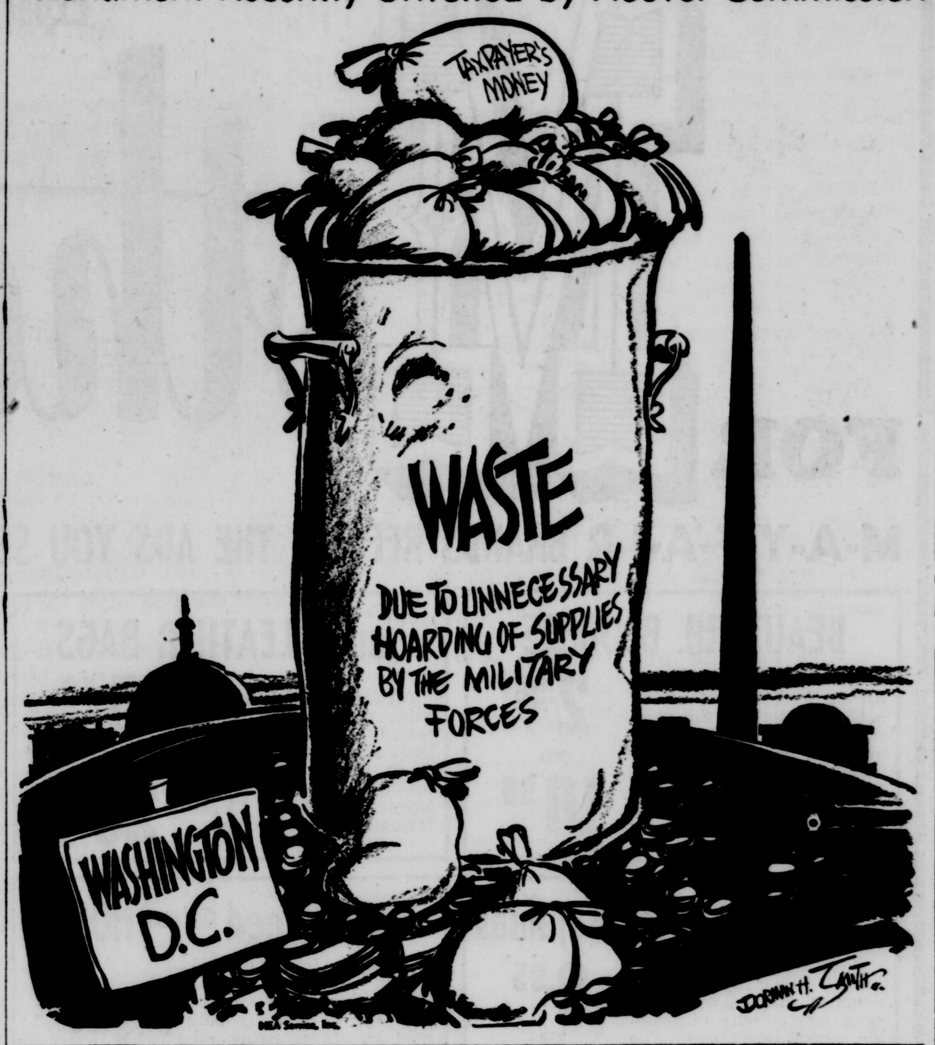

The editorial reminds us of Mark Twain's observation on how many more people die in their beds than when traveling by train: "Don't take any more chances in those beds, the railroads are good enough for me."

Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis

There are many helpful suggestions as to exercise, heat, massage, etc., in Dr. Barton's booklet entitled "Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis," which may be obtained by sending 25 cents, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington— (NEA) — In addition to the early spring book on the presidential sweepstakes of 1956, there is also the birthday book to consider.

For say what you like about tough and indestructible politicians still going strong in their 70's and 80's, the responsibilities of the American presidency are nothing for a tired man to tackle.

Only seven of the 34 U. S. presidents have taken office at age 60 or more. They were:

John Adams, 61, who finished his term and lived to be 90.

Andrew Jackson, 61, who finished his term and lived to be 78.

William Henry Harrison, 68, who died a month after inauguration.

Zachary Taylor, 64, who died 16 months after inauguration.

James Buchanan, 65, finished his term and lived to be 77.

Harry S. Truman took office at 60, was president more than seven years and is still going strong at 71.

Dwight D. Eisenhower was 62 at his inauguration and will be 66 at the end of his first term.

That is more years than any other president has had at the beginning of a term, except William Henry Harrison.

SOUND IN HEALTH TODAY, President Eisenhower may well expect the longevity of Andy Jackson, James Buchanan or Harry Truman.

Other presidents who have lived to ripe old age after retirement include Thomas Jefferson 83, James Madison 85, John Quincy Adams 80, and Herbert Hoover 81.

But what about the other politicians who are being mentioned as presidential possibilities for the 1956 race? The age limit would seem to raise barriers against many hopefuls as well as the still-undecided Eisenhower.

In 1956 Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be 68. He ran fourth in the recent Gallup poll.

Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey is six months older than President Eisenhower. He wasn't mentioned in the Gallup poll and he says he wants no part of the job, but he has considerable support none the less.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who has now taken himself out of the 1956 race though he ran first in the poll, will be 65 next year. He is a year and a half younger than Ike.

THIS MATTER cuts across party lines into the Democratic camp, too.

Sen. Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia, whom a lot of people have wanted to see in the White House for a long time, will be 68 this June 10.

Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York will be 64 on November 15. He was an open candidate for the Democratic nomination in 1952. His election to the New York governorship last year is supposed to have raised his presidential stock for next year. But he is only 13 months younger than President Eisenhower.

Among the others who will be past the three-score mark in 1956 are Republican senators John W. Bricker (Ohio), who will be 63 and Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.), who will be 60.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche (D.-Ohio) will be 60 in November. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D.-Ga.) long-time favorite of the south will be 58 in November.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, a dark-horse favorite in some parts of the country will be 61 next Jan. 1.

IN THE 50's, the Republicans have Gov. Goodwin J. Knight (Calif.) who will be 59 in December. Also ex-Gov. Thomas M. Dewey (N. Y.) and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., (Mass.) who are 53 this year.

The two Democratic candidates of 1952, ex-Gov. Adlai Stevenson (Ill.) and Sen. John Sparkman (Ala.) are now 55. Sen. Stuart Symington (D.-Mo.) and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) will be 52 in June and July.

In the 40's the Republicans have Sen. William F. Knowland (Calif.) at 47, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (Wis.) and ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen (Minn.) at 46 and Vice President Richard M. Nixon (Calif.) now 42.

The Democrats offer Sen. Lyndon M. Johnson (Tex.) at 47, Gov. Richard B. Meyer (N. J.) at 48 and Gov. G. Mennen Williams (Mich.) at 44.

UN's Exclusion of Spain by 1946 Ruling Is Held as Precedent for Peiping

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Madrid, May 3—This is a place where they can enjoy a big laugh at the expense of the various statesmen of the world who lately have been proclaiming that it doesn't matter what kind of government they have in Peiping—admission to the United Nations should be granted, anyhow. Yet the record shows that a resolution by the United Nations Assembly adopted Dec. 12, 1946, did assert that the form of government in a given country is a matter for approval or disapproval by the United Nations.

The present government here is, of course, in complete control of every inch of Spanish territory, including all offshore islands. If international law and custom alone is the basis, Spain is entitled to admission into the United Nations. But there is another point, and that is whether an applicant government is or is not "peace loving" or whether its behavior constitutes a threat to peace. Spain has not manifested any threats against any other nation and is "peace loving" in every sense of the word.

Then why isn't the government of Spain admitted to the United Nations? The words of the 1946 resolution set forth the qualifications for Spain's admission. The resolution read in part as follows:

"The General Assembly . . . further desiring to secure the participation of all peace-loving peoples, including the people of Spain, in the community of nations.

"Recommends that if, within a reasonable time, there is not established a government which derives its authority from the consent of the governed, committed to respect freedom of speech, religion and assembly and to the prompt holding of an election in which the Spanish people, free from force and intimidation and regardless of party, may express their will, the Security Council consider the adequate measures to be taken in order to remedy the situation;

"Recommends that all members of the United Nations immediately recall from Madrid their ambassadors and ministers plenipotentiary accredited there.

"The General Assembly further recommends that the states members of the organization report to the Secretary-General and to the next session of the Assembly what action they have taken in accordance with this recommendation."

The foregoing sounds strangely unlike the speeches which British spokesmen, for example, have been making in the United States lately telling audiences that it isn't a matter of approval or disapproval of a particular government when admission to the United Nations or even diplomatic recognition is involved. Indeed between November 1936 and May 1939 fifty-three governments of the world, including Great Britain, the United States and France extended diplomatic recognition to the present government of Spain, and not one expressed any reservation or allegation that the government here was not independent or free.

Today, however, if the resolution of 1946 by the United Nations means anything, it means that recognition must be withdrawn from the Soviet Union and the government at Pieping, or at least that ambassadors must be recalled. Certainly the resolution means also that the United Nations considers itself responsible for the establishment of free governments through free elections.

But everybody knows today that the United Nations doesn't practice what it has preached. In fact, probably most of the members who voted for the 1946 resolution would like to see it expunged from the records because it contains a very troublesome precedent. Yet, if the principle is to be buried and governments like those at Moscow and Peiping are to be accepted as worthy members hereafter, then what possible excuse is there any longer for refusing to admit the government of Spain?

It so happens that the Spaniards are not knocking at the door of the United Nations. They still remember the unkind action of 1946, and they do not care to apply for admission to a club from which they have been blackballed.

Spain can get along without membership in the United Nations, but the big question is, how long can the members of the United Nations remain guilty of hypocrisy and inconsistency by arguing so fervently nowadays for admission of Red China, whose government just recently was declared to be an "aggressor"? The Spanish folks hereabouts smile at the discomfiture of their onetime critics.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Phoenix, Arizona, May 2—The closed shop movement has made a nasty, lying attack on Barry Goldwater, Republican, the junior senator from Arizona. This is an early move in the rising national campaign to repeal the open shop laws and constitutional amendments in 18 states.

Mrs. Margaret Thornburg, of the AF of L's Washington bureaucracy, came to Arizona to address the state convention of the AF of L in the name of the Women's Division of Labor's League for Political Education. She said Goldwater was "one of the most hated men in the United States among working men and women."

This was a lie. Goldwater, a handsome, energetic citizen of many activities, including service in municipal politics in Phoenix, is easily the most popular individual citizen in the state. His personal reputation is spotless and no other freshman senator now sitting has stood out from the initial obscurity as favorably. He in consulted by elders in the Republican party and respected on both sides of the aisle. Outside politics he runs in Phoenix one of the largest department stores in the southwest and a branch in Scottsdale. He is a representative of a family of good renown which has been more and more prominent in Arizona for three generations. In these young states of the southwest such a family is comparable to the FFV's of Virginia. The Goldwater family's record in many labor relations in enviable.

Goldwater struck right back. The Thornburg woman is a stranger in Arizona and has no credentials from the "working men and women" whom she had the effrontery to commit to hatred. Goldwater noted that she had introduced hate as a theme in a political dispute which thus far has been decided against the union bosses, national and local, three times by popular vote. James C. Wood, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, pounced on the word "hate" and noted that Mrs. Thornburg was only a paid propagandist. Goldwater said he was under attack for upholding a provision of the Arizona Constitution as he had sworn to do.

Eugene Pulliam's "Arizona Republic", the dominant daily of Arizona, jumped to Goldwater's side with clarity and emphasis unusual in a controversy involving a prelate of the Catholic Church. Bishop Daniel J. Gercke, in Tucson, had declared that the right-to-work amendment was tolling the "death knell of unions" and sending men "back to slavery." This seems to be the "line" of the prelacy although the church, as such, is said to be uncommitted.

Pulliam's "Republic" said: "The bishop well knows that neither of these doleful predictions has been borne out during the six years that Arizona has had a right-to-work law, which is nothing more than a prohibition against compulsory unionism."

"The "Republic" might have added a general reminder that the exemption of religious institutions from taxes on their incomes is not unconditional. Neither is the deductibility of contributions by communicants. These exemptions may be denied by internal revenue if the activities of a religious see, parish or congregation, to a substantial extent consist of efforts to influence legislation. Henry Morgenthau flatly declared that he would never dare enforce this congressional enactment although that was one of the duties which he swore faithfully to perform. It is a dead letter.

Robert Morrison, the attorney general of Arizona in a Democratic administration, also took part in the AF of L convention. During his campaign he flatly declared that he had never read the right-to-work legislation and so was neither for nor against it. He did not need to be reminded that he had left a police record in California where he engaged in check-bouncing, and had changed his name from Morzikian to Morrison for a fresh start in Arizona. His picture with his jail-bird's number was widely circulated. He tried to explain that some scoundrel had cashed a check instead of holding it.

The dominant union of the most important activity in the state is the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, a notorious Communist front. This union was involved in the recent Harvey Matusow conviction in the U. S. Court in El Paso, a trifling belittlement of one of the many witnesses against many Red traitors.

Goldwater has fought this union and familiar predatory rackets of the AF of L for years. He also called Walter Reuther "A Socialist who believes in control of all phases of our lives by the federal government except the activities of professional labor bosses."

The president of the Arizona Federation of Labor for many years was a stickup man, with a prison record from Deer Lodge, Mont. He was exposed in these essays but lingered several years thereafter in office. Ralph Howard Alsup, the czar of all unions in Nevada, adjoining Arizona, is a gunman, extortioner and habitual criminal. Bishop Gercke seems never to have taken any initiative to drive crooks out of the unions when criminal union bosses and their goons kill or main, burn property or wreck trains. Their subjects share their guilt as members of criminal conspiraces.

THAT 'SIXTH SENSE'

Not all the great decisions of war and peace and politics represent just a strict weighing of the facts. Men play hunches. And so do the reporters and columnists who record their doings.

The other day President Eisenhower told newsmen a "sixth sense" suggested to him that prospects for world peace are on the upswing. On the same occasion he casually disclosed that he knew exactly how many months are left in his present White House term—21.

Putting their own 'sixth sense" quickly into play, many of the correspondents started speculating afresh that Mr. Eisenhower had decided against a second term. Their reasoning was simple:

After all, when a man is counting the months, it strongly indicates that he can hardly wait to escape. Put that together with facts like his costly improvements to his Gettysburg farm, his purchase of more farmland, his frequent flight from the capital, and maybe you have a picture of a man who is laying all his plans to retire from politics on Jan. 20, 1957.

Maybe. There can't be much question about what the President would do on that date if he were a wholly free agent. He would get in his car and drive to Gettysburg —to stay. But he isn't really a free agent.

It goes without saying he will be subject, indeed, is already subject to terrific pressures from within his own party to run again. Public opinion polls showing the two top Democratic choices, Adlai Stevenson and Senator Kefauver, running well ahead of any GOP possibility except the President will do nothing to lessen those pressures.

Men close to Mr. Eisenhower say, though, that he would never let mere political considerations determine his course. Naturally, there are other factors at work.

The very thing that brought him onto the presidential scene in the first instance—his sense of duty—may make powerful impact on him once more in the intervening months.

We all realize our affairs today are governed overwhelmingly by world events, by the outlook for peace or war. And this is the one field where the President seems to believe himself able to make deeply thoughtful decisions considerate of America's and humanity's future.

He is no politician, no domestic affairs expert. But he approaches the problem of peace with dedication. And there is a good deal of evidence to show that this lies at the root of the great trust a large share of American voters have in him.

Mr. Eisenhower may well be counting the months. But those who think this is significant might take one eye off the calendar and keep it on the events that will unfold in the arena of war and peace. For it seems more likely that it will there be determined whether or not the President runs in 1956.

FOUR-STAR GENERAL

Peyton C. March, who has just died at 90, was a four-star general when these were scarce and five-star generals unknown. He earned the distinction in World War I when, as chief of staff, he may have contributed as much to winning the war as the commander-in-chief himself, General John J. Pershing.

March had been an artillery officer whose experience included duty as an official American observer in the Russo-Japanese war. He was a brigadier general in France when called back to serve as chief of staff. The choice was Pershing's, who had been asked by Secretary of War Newton D. Baker to pick out an energetic officer who would put life into the Washington army effort.

When March took hold, the home army heads were operating on a peace-time schedule, with time off and the offices closed in the evening. March changed all that, and work began to hum. He did not hesitate, on occasion, to rebuke General Pershing himself, to whom he owed his appointment.

March's opinion of our World War II military operations would have been interesting, but so far as known, he kept it to himself.

THE FORMOSAN VIEW

When last February, the Nationalists on Formosa evacuated the Tachen Islands, with the assistance of the American Seventh Fleet, they assumed that they had an agreement, in writing, with the United States that because of such evacuation, Quemoy and Matsu would be defended by the United States. They believed that to be true up to Sunday, April 24, when Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson arrived on Formosa to tell them otherwise.

(In this article, I am trying to give the picture as I understand the Chinese on Formosa see it. I do not know, of my own knowledge, what the Tachen evacuation agreement was.)

As a matter of fact, the initial rejection of Chou En-lai's invitation to talk on a Saturday, which was nullified on the following Tuesday, was in conformity with the spirit, if not the letter, of such an agreement.

To the Nationalists, therefore, the change of attitude between Saturday and Tuesday is in the nature of a double cross—"walk the garden path," as the Chinese say it—and they are blaming it, as usual, on the British, by which they mean that the constant necessity for adjusting American to British policy, or, to put it differently, the readjustments of American and British policy give the British, who dislike Chiank Kai-shek, an opportunity to influence American views.

The Nationalists intend to stay put which is embarrassing to the United States, because the question then arises, will the United States blast the Nationalists off Quemoy and Matsu in the interest of Communist China. The alternative to that is to let the Nationalists do their own fighting, the Seventh Fleet watching the engagement. The Nationalists will, of course, fight with American equipment just as the Chinese Communists will fight with Russian equipment. It will be something like the Civil War in Spain during which one side was supported by Soviet Russia and the other side by Nazi Germany. It might even be regarded in Asia as a prelude to the big fight.

Should the Nationalists be defeated and the Communists decide to push on to Formosa, the Seventh Fleet would become engaged automatically, unless the United States decided to violate its treaty of alliance with Nationalist China. Should such a violation occur, the Communists could readily take Formosa and Japan would be forced to reconsider her position vis-a-vis the United States. The Japan-Australia line would be in a state of collapse, and the United States would have to form a new defensive line, probably with Pearl Harbor as the core. Then Southeast Asia would go pro-Communist China and anti-American because no country can accept the reliability of a treaty-breaker.

Nobody in Asia is quite sure as to what American policy is. Chiang Kai-shek has put his faith in Radford and Robertson, two excellent officials, who have been required to make proposals to him which he cannot and will not accept. Suicide is, for him, more acceptable, and may some day be the only way out.

Chiang has been dealing with countries for a long time. He understands that Radford and Robertson were sent on the mission to nullify the agreement concerning Quemoy and Matsu precisely because the Nationalists regard them as friends and trust them. He recognizes that public officials are often required to perform wholly unpalatable duties. Therefore, in his mind, their arguments are discounted because he does not believe that they mean what they say. They are merely carrying out their public duties, whatever their private opinions may be.

Further, all governments dealing with the United States recognize that there are actually two State Departments, if not more, and that the two do not always agree, which is why it was possible to say something officially on Saturday and to back away from it on Tuesday.

The formal State Department, presided over by John Foster Dulles and Herbert Hoover, Jr., holds the view that was expressed on Saturday; the White House group, which includes Dr. Milton Eisenhower, Harold Stassen and Nelson Rockefeller, holds the view which was expressed on Tuesday. The British, who frankly do not like Dulles, try to by-pass him by going directly to the White House group, and that makes for confusion and uncertainty.

THE USE AND ABUSE OF REST

A few weeks ago I wrote about the modern method of getting patients up and about early after operations, the fewer complications that set in when the patient was allowed up early rather than when he was allowed to remain in bed. An editorial in the Canadian Medical Association Journal points out that before the discovery of modern methods of treatment, rest in bed was often the only treatment available and that it is only in recent years that the dangers of rest have been recognized. Rest, whether for short or prolonged periods, may be a double-edged sword in the treatment of patients with injury or disease.

The effects on the elderly patient when put to bed are often quite serious. Sometimes, because of shortage of a nursing staff, an elderly person, not too seriously disabled, is placed in bed with disastrous results. He or she becomes dependent on the attendants for all bodily and mental needs with resultant stagnation. Lack of control of urine and bowel or mental and physical inactivity may result from such enforced rest in bed. If they can be coaxed out of bed and reassured, they may be cured of their lack of control.

We have also mentioned the newer method of treating patients who have had a stroke in allowing them to sit up in a chair for certain periods every day and to go to the bathroom rather than undergo the discomfort of a bedpan. Even when rest in bed is for just a short period, attention should be paid to movements of shoulders and legs, otherwise stiffness may result that will take some time to get over. These same principles apply to all classes of patient, and exercises for feet, legs and spinal muscles are a necessary daily task for the bedridden patient.

We must not overlook the fact that, in such diseases as tuberculosis, rest remains the mainstay of treatment as it does in rheumatoid arthritis, sciatica and fractures, but must be associated in these latter conditions with intelligent physiotherapy (exercise, heat in various forms, massage, etc.). Rest of mind is another essential in treatment of any disease and this should be remembered when allowing visitors who may disturb the feeling of peacefulness necessary to healing.

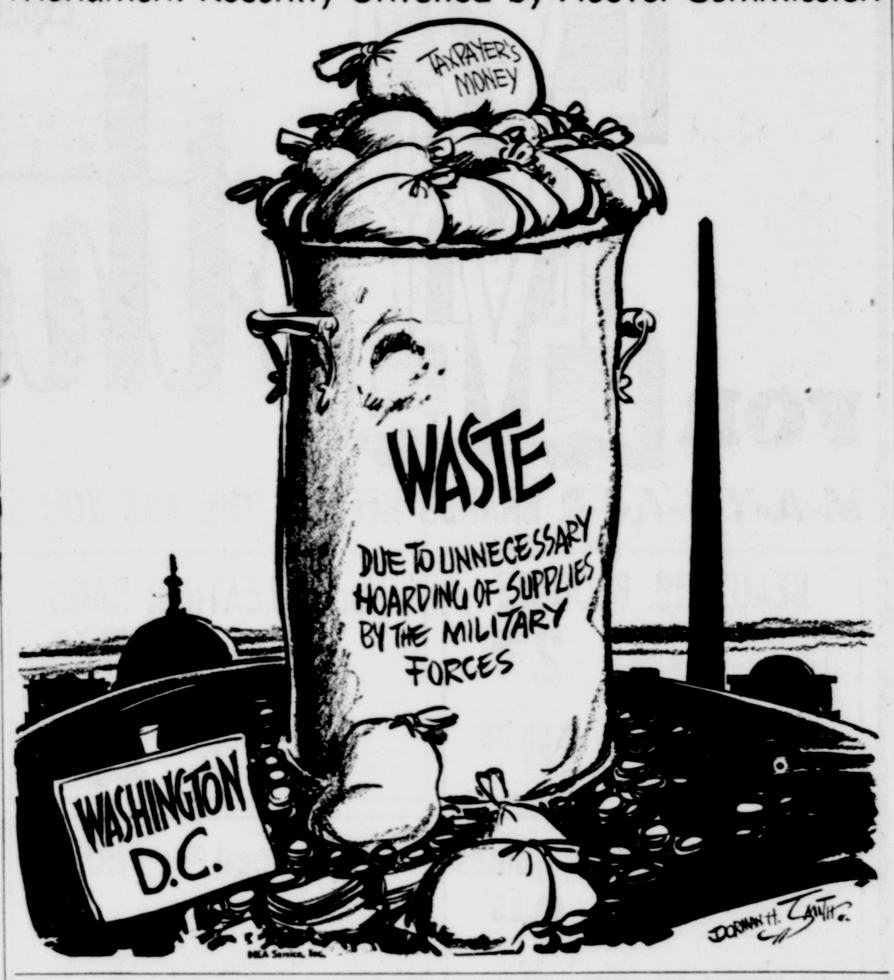

The editorial reminds us of Mark Twain's observation on how many more people die in their beds than when traveling by train: "Don't take any more chances in those beds, the railroads are good enough for me."

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington— (NEA) — In addition to the early spring book on the presidential sweepstakes of 1956, there is also the birthday book to consider.

For say what you like about tough and indestructible politicians still going strong in their 70's and 80's, the responsibilities of the American presidency are nothing for a tired man to tackle.

Only seven of the 34 U. S. presidents have taken office at age 60 or more. They were:

John Adams, 61, who finished his term and lived to be 90.

Andrew Jackson, 61, who finished his term and lived to be 78.

William Henry Harrison, 68, who died a month after inauguration.

Zachary Taylor, 64, who died 16 months after inauguration.

James Buchanan, 65, finished his term and lived to be 77.

Harry S. Truman took office at 60, was president more than seven years and is still going strong at 71.

Dwight D. Eisenhower was 62 at his inauguration and will be 66 at the end of his first term.

That is more years than any other president has had at the beginning of a term, except William Henry Harrison.

SOUND IN HEALTH TODAY, President Eisenhower may well expect the longevity of Andy Jackson, James Buchanan or Harry Truman.

Other presidents who have lived to ripe old age after retirement include Thomas Jefferson 83, James Madison 85, John Quincy Adams 80, and Herbert Hoover 81.

But what about the other politicians who are being mentioned as presidential possibilities for the 1956 race? The age limit would seem to raise barriers against many hopefuls as well as the still-undecided Eisenhower.

In 1956 Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be 68. He ran fourth in the recent Gallup poll.

Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey is six months older than President Eisenhower. He wasn't mentioned in the Gallup poll and he says he wants no part of the job, but he has considerable support none the less.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who has now taken himself out of the 1956 race though he ran first in the poll, will be 65 next year. He is a year and a half younger than Ike.

THIS MATTER cuts across party lines into the Democratic camp, too.

Sen. Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia, whom a lot of people have wanted to see in the White House for a long time, will be 68 this June 10.

Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York will be 64 on November 15. He was an open candidate for the Democratic nomination in 1952. His election to the New York governorship last year is supposed to have raised his presidential stock for next year. But he is only 13 months younger than President Eisenhower.

Among the others who will be past the three-score mark in 1956 are Republican senators John W. Bricker (Ohio), who will be 63 and Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.), who will be 60.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche (D.-Ohio) will be 60 in November. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D.-Ga.) long-time favorite of the south will be 58 in November.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, a dark-horse favorite in some parts of the country will be 61 next Jan. 1.

IN THE 50's, the Republicans have Gov. Goodwin J. Knight (Calif.) who will be 59 in December. Also ex-Gov. Thomas M. Dewey (N. Y.) and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., (Mass.) who are 53 this year.

The two Democratic candidates of 1952, ex-Gov. Adlai Stevenson (Ill.) and Sen. John Sparkman (Ala.) are now 55. Sen. Stuart Symington (D.-Mo.) and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) will be 52 in June and July.

In the 40's the Republicans have Sen. William F. Knowland (Calif.) at 47, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (Wis.) and ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen (Minn.) at 46 and Vice President Richard M. Nixon (Calif.) now 42.

The Democrats offer Sen. Lyndon M. Johnson (Tex.) at 47, Gov. Richard B. Meyer (N. J.) at 48 and Gov. G. Mennen Williams (Mich.) at 44.

Baby of the lot is Gov. Frank G. Clement (D.-Tenn.) who is now a ripe old 34.

UN's Exclusion of Spain by 1946 Ruling Is Held as Precedent for Peiping

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Madrid, May 3—This is a place where they can enjoy a big laugh at the expense of the various statesmen of the world who lately have been proclaiming that it doesn't matter what kind of government they have in Peiping—admission to the United Nations should be granted, anyhow. Yet the record shows that a resolution by the United Nations Assembly adopted Dec. 12, 1946, did assert that the form of government in a given country is a matter for approval or disapproval by the United Nations.

The present government here is, of course, in complete control of every inch of Spanish territory, including all offshore islands. If international law and custom alone is the basis, Spain is entitled to admission into the United Nations. But there is another point, and that is whether an applicant government is or is not "peace loving" or whether its behavior constitutes a threat to peace. Spain has not manifested any threats against any other nation and is "peace loving" in every sense of the word.

Then why isn't the government of Spain admitted to the United Nations? The words of the 1946 resolution set forth the qualifications for Spain's admission. The resolution read in part as follows:

"The General Assembly . . . further desiring to secure the participation of all peace-loving peoples, including the people of Spain, in the community of nations.

"Recommends that if, within a reasonable time, there is not established a government which derives its authority from the consent of the governed, committed to respect freedom of speech, religion and assembly and to the prompt holding of an election in which the Spanish people, free from force and intimidation and regardless of party, may express their will, the Security Council consider the adequate measures to be taken in order to remedy the situation;

"Recommends that all members of the United Nations immediately recall from Madrid their ambassadors and ministers plenipotentiary accredited there.

"The General Assembly further recommends that the states members of the organization report to the Secretary-General and to the next session of the Assembly what action they have taken in accordance with this recommendation."

The foregoing sounds strangely unlike the speeches which British spokesmen, for example, have been making in the United States lately telling audiences that it isn't a matter of approval or disapproval of a particular government when admission to the United Nations or even diplomatic recognition is involved. Indeed between November 1936 and May 1939 fifty-three governments of the world, including Great Britain, the United States and France extended diplomatic recognition to the present government of Spain, and not one expressed any reservation or allegation that the government here was not independent or free.

Today, however, if the resolution of 1946 by the United Nations means anything, it means that recognition must be withdrawn from the Soviet Union and the government at Pieping, or at least that ambassadors must be recalled. Certainly the resolution means also that the United Nations considers itself responsible for the establishment of free governments through free elections.

But everybody knows today that the United Nations doesn't practice what it has preached. In fact, probably most of the members who voted for the 1946 resolution would like to see it expunged from the records because it contains a very troublesome precedent. Yet, if the principle is to be buried and governments like those at Moscow and Peiping are to be accepted as worthy members hereafter, then what possible excuse is there any longer for refusing to admit the government of Spain?

It so happens that the Spaniards are not knocking at the door of the United Nations. They still remember the unkind action of 1946, and they do not care to apply for admission to a club from which they have been blackballed.

Spain can get along without membership in the United Nations, but the big question is, how long can the members of the United Nations remain guilty of hypocrisy and inconsistency by arguing so fervently nowadays for admission of Red China, whose government just recently was declared to be an "aggressor"? The Spanish folks hereabouts smile at the discomfiture of their onetime critics.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Phoenix, Arizona, May 2—The closed shop movement has made a nasty, lying attack on Barry Goldwater, Republican, the junior senator from Arizona. This is an early move in the rising national campaign to repeal the open shop laws and constitutional amendments in 18 states.

Mrs. Margaret Thornburg, of the AF of L's Washington bureaucracy, came to Arizona to address the state convention of the AF of L in the name of the Women's Division of Labor's League for Political Education. She said Goldwater was "one of the most hated men in the United States among working men and women."

This was a lie. Goldwater, a handsome, energetic citizen of many activities, including service in municipal politics in Phoenix, is easily the most popular individual citizen in the state. His personal reputation is spotless and no other freshman senator now sitting has stood out from the initial obscurity as favorably. He in consulted by elders in the Republican party and respected on both sides of the aisle. Outside politics he runs in Phoenix one of the largest department stores in the southwest and a branch in Scottsdale. He is a representative of a family of good renown which has been more and more prominent in Arizona for three generations. In these young states of the southwest such a family is comparable to the FFV's of Virginia. The Goldwater family's record in many labor relations in enviable.

Goldwater struck right back.

The Thornburg woman is a stranger in Arizona and has no credentials from the "working men and women" whom she had the effrontery to commit to hatred. Goldwater noted that she had introduced hate as a theme in a political dispute which thus far has been decided against the union bosses, national and local, three times by popular vote. James C. Wood, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, pounced on the word "hate" and noted that Mrs. Thornburg was only a paid propagandist. Goldwater said he was under attack for upholding a provision of the Arizona Constitution as he had sworn to do.

Eugene Pulliam's "Arizona Republic", the dominant daily of Arizona, jumped to Goldwater's side with clarity and emphasis unusual in a controversy involving a prelate of the Catholic Church. Bishop Daniel J. Gercke, in Tucson, had declared that the right-to-work amendment was tolling the "death knell of unions" and sending men "back to slavery." This seems to be the "line" of the prelacy although the church, as such, is said to be uncommitted.

Pulliam's "Republic" said: "The bishop well knows that neither of these doleful predictions has been borne out during the six years that Arizona has had a right-to-work law, which is nothing more than a prohibition against compulsory unionism."

"The "Republic" might have added a general reminder that the exemption of religious institutions from taxes on their incomes is not unconditional. Neither is the deductibility of contributions by communicants. These exemptions may be denied by internal revenue if the activities of a religious see, parish or congregation, to a substantial extent consist of efforts to influence legislation. Henry Morgenthau flatly declared that he would never dare enforce this congressional enactment although that was one of the duties which he swore faithfully to perform. It is a dead letter.

Robert Morrison, the attorney general of Arizona in a Democratic administration, also took part in the AF of L convention. During his campaign he flatly declared that he had never read the right-to-work legislation and so was neither for nor against it. He did not need to be reminded that he had left a police record in California where he engaged in check-bouncing, and had changed his name from Morzikian to Morrison for a fresh start in Arizona. His picture with his jail-bird's number was widely circulated. He tried to explain that some scoundrel had cashed a check instead of holding it.

The dominant union of the most important activity in the state is the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, a notorious Communist front. This union was involved in the recent Harvey Matusow conviction in the U. S. Court in El Paso, a trifling belittlement of one of the many witnesses against many Red traitors.

Goldwater has fought this union and familiar predatory rackets of the AF of L for years. He also called Walter Reuther "A Socialist who believes in control of all phases of our lives by the federal government except the activities of professional labor bosses."

The president of the Arizona Federation of Labor for many years was a stickup man, with a prison record from Deer Lodge, Mont. He was exposed in these essays but lingered several years thereafter in office. Ralph Howard Alsup, the czar of all unions in Nevada, adjoining Arizona, is a gunman, extortioner and habitual criminal. Bishop Gercke seems never to have taken any initiative to drive crooks out of the unions when criminal union bosses and their goons kill or main, burn property or wreck trains. Their subjects share their guilt as members of criminal conspiracies.

Appeals to Restore Maritime School Funds

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Rep. Fino (R-N. Y.) today appealed to a House Appropriations subcommittee to restore funds for four maritime colleges in New York, Maine, Massachusetts and California.

The requested funds, totaling $660,000, were not included in the administration budget for the year beginning July 1.

Fino, in his remarks prepared for the committee, said the New York school—located in his congressional district — stands to lose $204,300 if the cut is not restored.

New Instant Cake Mix for Delicious Poppy Seed Cake

QUICK AND EASY TO PREPARE is this Poppy Seed cake made with a new instant cake mix.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor

We went to a press luncheon at the Stork Club in New York where a new instant cake mix was introduced. Quite a performance. Really tender, fine grain cake with only one mixing step. Two eggs and water are all you need beside the mix, an egg beater, a bowl and a baking pan. There is only one mixing step to this pleasant business of making a cake.

Mrs. Charles Leuin of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, gave us her favorite recipe. It's home style Poppy Seed Cake. This Pennsylvania homemaker adds poppy seeds (which have been previously soaked in water) right to a package of instant yellow cake mix along with two fresh eggs, all at once. The cake is baked in two square pans and is served with a custard filling between the squares and a simple glaze on top.

Poppy Seed Cake

One-quarter cup poppy seeds, 2/3 cup water, 1 package instant yellow cake mix, 2 eggs, unbeaten, ½ cup water, Custard Cream filling, confectioners' sugar glaze.

Soak poppy seeds in 2/3 cup water about 1 hour. Then place cake mix in bowl. Add poppy seeds and water, eggs, and remaining ½ cup water. Beat 3 minutes until smooth and creamy. Pour batter into two 8 x 8 x 2-inch square pans, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 35 minutes. Cool cakes. Prepare Custard Cream filling and spread between the layers. Make the glaze and spread over the top of the cake. (Store leftover cake in refrigerator).

Custard Cream Filling

Combine 1/3 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons cake flour, and dash of salt in top of double boiler. Add 1 cup milk and 1 slightly beaten egg yolk, mixing thoroughly. Cook over boiling water about 10 minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool; then stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Confectioners' Sugar Glaze

Measure 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar into small bowl. Add 1 to 2 tablespoons water gradually and blend well until mixture is thin enough to be poured over cake.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Fruit cup, ham steak, mustard cream gravy, baked potatoes, quick-cooked new cabbage, rye bread, butter or margarine, poppy seed cake, coffee, tea, milk.

GOP Calls Veto Of Fund Check Slap at Workers

Albany, May 3 (AP)—Republican legislative leaders declared today that Gov. Harriman's veto of a bill calling for state regulation of employe welfare funds "exposes as a mockery his pretended interest in the welfare of working men and women."

Walter J. Mahony, Senate majority leader, and Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck contended that Harriman had "resorted to the strange reasoning that nothing is better than something."

The Democratic governor, in disapproving the Republican bill, said it had "weaknesses." He announced that his principal ground for the veto was that "a complete study" should be made before any regulatory legislation was enacted.

THE BILL would have required operators of the funds to file annual financial statments with the insurance department. The trustees of the health and welfare funds would have been held personally responsible for the operation.

Heck and Mahoney commented, "an experienced superintendent of insurance who devoted many months to probing into the sordid record of mismanagement of a substantial minority of these funds provided overwhelming evidence of abuses . . ."

"HOW ANYONE can read that record of corruption, averice, kickbacks and unconscionable mismanagement in a sizeable minority of these funds without feeling a compelling urge to take remedial action is beyond our understanding," they continued.

"While the governor's 'do nothing' attitude may be hailed by a small minority of union officials, the action will be a bitter disappointment to the rank and file of those members whose funds have been dissipated for vacations in luxury hotels, expensive automobiles, questionable real estate deals and exorbitant management expenses diverted to the pockets of relatives of union officials."

YESTERDAY, Heck and Mahoney contended that the governor had "openly repudiated" Democratic lawmakers in vetoing bills that would have reduced income taxes for working mothers, the sick, the aged and the blind.

Democrats in the Senate and Assembly had supported the Republican bills. They would have provided an extra $500 exemption for taxpayers who are blind or over 65, special exemptions up to $600 for working mothers or widowers with young children and greater deductions allowed for medical expenses.

The governor said he vetoed the bills because the Legislature had not provided for revenue from other sources to replace that lost to the state in income taxes. He said the loss to the state would have been 8½ million dollars a year. The GOP put the figure at $7,400,000.

Heck and Mahoney described the vetoes as "incontrovertible evidence" that Harriman intended to put "greater and greater taxes on the people of the State of New York."

More than 800,000 standard box cars would be required to load the annual U. S. production of paper and paperboard.

Eagle Still May Be Sold as Unit

New York, May 3 (AP)—The official deadline for sale of the strike-closed Brooklyn Eagle as a unit has passed, and publisher Frank D. Schroth Sr., says that auction of the equipment and other assets will proceed as scheduled on May 11, 12 and 13.

Schroth said, however, that there still is some hope for a sale that would make it possible for the 114-year-old newspaper to resume publication.

HE COMMENTED that "time is running out fast" as the deadline he had set for unit sale passed yesterday without a buyer.

O. Rundle Gilbert, auctioneer who now is arranging a public sale, said two Brooklyn groups have indicated interest in buying the Eagle. He said it is still possible for them to acquire the Eagle as a unit, even though yesterday was theoretically the last day for unit purchase.

Gilbert said he appraised the property for auction purposes at about $500,000.

THE AUCTION plans are to sell the Eagle in three packages: (1) The good will, including the paper's name; the library, and the "morgue" of newspaper clippings; (2) the mechanical plant; (3) the typewriters and other office equipment. Anyone buying all three would become owner of the paper as a unit.

The Eagle's building, which is not involved in the scheduled auction, was sold recently to make way for a new court building in a civic center being constructed in downtown Brooklyn. At the time the strike started the Eagle was about to move to a new building.

Urge New Court System

Hartford, Conn., May 3 (AP)—Connecticut's Legislature began another work week today confronted by new appeals for a reorganization of the entire state court system. The State Bar Association and the State Judicial Council combined yesterday at a public hearing of the judiciary committee to urge that the present system of town, city, borough and justice of the peace courts be abolished. However, the two groups remained apart on other aspects of court reform, among them the recommendation that the present probate court system also be revamped.

Probe Is Proposed

Trenton, N. J., May 3 (AP)—A resolution proposing a full-scale investigation into the governmental affairs of Hudson county —keystone of New Jersey's Democratic organization — was in the state Legislature today. The resolution was introduced yesterday by Assemblyman Alfred N. Beadleston (R.-Monmouth). It proposes appointment of a six-member legislative commission "to investigate the finances, affairs and operations" of Hudson county and its municipalities, administrative and executive departments, boards, offices and commissions. A $100,000 appropriation to finance the probe is proposed in the resolution.

Four Planes Found

Stockholm, May 3 (AP)—Four missing Swedish jet fighter planes were discovered today to have crashed in close formation through the melting ice of Lake Glottern. An air force officer said "the four planes all fell in a line about 20 yards long."

Port Ewen

Port Ewen, May 3—The Dorcas Society of the Port Ewen Reformed Church will hold a cleaning bee Wednesday at the church. Members and friends are requested to meet at 9:30 a. m. and bring their lunches and cloths for cleaning.

All members of the Port Ewen Men's Bowling League who are going to attend the banquet Wednesday at the Flamingo, Route 9W, are requested to meet at the church at 5:30 p. m.

News Conference Set

Washington, May 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference at 11 a. m. tomorrow. The time was set a half hour later than usual because the President will be meeting beforehand with Republican congressional leaders.

Cerebral Palsy Drive

Once regarded as a hopeless ailment, cerebral palsy now responds to new treatment techniques. To improve and increase the efficacy of treatment is among the aims of the current United Cerebral Palsy Campaign.

He'd Rather Farm

Louisville, Ky., May 3 (AP)—He has just won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction but William Faulkner prefers farming. "I'm not a literary man," he declared, then began expounding on a subject that intrigues him—horses. "I've always liked horses. I raise them at home and use them a lot." He lives somewhat aloofly from the world on an Oxford, Miss. plantation. Faulkner paused long enough to admit he was "very flattered" by the Pulitzer award for "The Fable" yesterday but added: "It's not better because it won this prize. I'm surprised the book was being considered," he said during the interview.

Eight Hurt in Blast

Washington, May 3 (AP)—The navy said today that eight workers were injured in an explosion yesterday at a secret testing plant at Daingerfield, Tex. The plant, an aerial physics laboratory, is operated for the navy by the Consolidated-Vultee Co. The navy said no details were available.

Fable, Cat Drama Pulitzer Winners

New York, May 3 (AP)—Novelist William Faulkner has been awarded the 1955 Pulitzer Prize for fiction for "A Fable," an allegorical novel of a World War 1 munity.

The year's drama award went to Tenessee Williams' "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," a play dealing with the dissolution of a Mississippi delta family. Williams "A Streetcar Named Desire" won him his first Pulitzer Prize in 1948.

Both, Faulkner, 57, a first time winner, and Williams, 41, are Mississippi-born. Faulkner won the 1949 Nobel prize for literature.

Gian-Carlo Menotti, Italian-born composer and lyricist, received the music award for "The Saint of Bleecker Street," an opera based on religion and Greenwich Village life. Menotti was the winner of the 1950 music prize for another opera, "The Consul."

The awards, set up in the will of the late publisher Joseph Pulitzer, were announced yesterday by the Columbia University Board of Trustees. They were recommended by an advisory board of prominent members in the newspaper and publishing fields.

The Columbus, Ga., Ledger and Sunday Ledger-Enquirer won the 1955 award for "Disinterested and Meritorious Public Service."

The newspaper was cited for its complete news coverage and "fearless editorial attack" on the widespread corruption in nearby Phenix City, Ala.

News of Our Own Service Folks

DONALD SCHICK, son of Mrs. Edna Schick, 236 Smith avenue, is currently spending a 15-day leave with his mother prior to reporting to his new assignment at Altus Air Force Base, Okla. Airman Third Class Schick enlisted in the U. S. Air Force in November 1954 through the local Air Force Recruiting Station, and at that time was assigned to Lackland AFB, Tex. He was then sent to the Jet Aircraft and Engine Mechanics school at Amarillo, Tex., where he completed a five months course in mechanics. In his new assignment with the 96th Bomb Wing at Altus he will work on the B-47 type jet bomber, which is one of the weapons of the Strategic Air Command. Airman Schick previously served two years in the army before his enlistment in the Air Force. He was stationed in Germany in 1952 and 1953.

THOMAS LEO McNIERNEY, son of Mrs. Rose Rafferty, 6 Cottage Row, has been assigned to Randolph Air Force Base, Tex., where he will enter the B-57 "Night Intruder" school. During his nine weeks at Randolph, Lt. McNierney's training will consist of academic training in the B-57 and the T-33 jet trainer, 25 flying hours in the T-33, 25 flying hours in the B-57, special weapons training survival training and jet instrument training. Prior to his assignment to Randolph, Lt. McNierney was a B-26 pilot at Mitchel AFB.

Appeals to Restore Maritime School Funds

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Rep. Fino (R-N. Y.) today appealed to a House Appropriations subcommittee to restore funds for four maritime colleges in New York, Maine, Massachusetts and California.

The requested funds, totaling $660,000, were not included in the administration budget for the year beginning July 1.

Fino, in his remarks prepared for the committee, said the New York school—located in his congressional district — stands to lose $204,300 if the cut is not restored.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder if folks in Saugerties know the following found in The Kingston Weekly Freeman of Thursday, May 9, 1901: "The first paper machine used in America was made in Saugerties, according to the Paper Trade Journal of above year. In 1827 this Fourdrinier machine was introduced in this country at Saugerties, N. Y., while the cylinder machine came into use about 10 years earlier." I wonder if that first paper machine is in existence somewhere, perhaps in a museum. Another item read: Population of Kingston, 24,535 with 54 deaths during March, with 12 under the age of 5. I imagine the population, which increased some 5,000 over a period of a half a century, did rise a great deal during the recent building boom in this territory.

In this paper there is an item on the observation of Arbor Day in the Kingston schools. It was proper in those years to have outdoor exercises and plant trees. I do not think that has been done for a long time. At the time they said there was no more room at the Academy Green lawn to plant trees. Many of the trees you now see at the Academy Green park were planted by young folks, perhaps some 50 years ago on Arbor Day. How different the young folks are today about trees. They take everything for granted. One of the quickest growing trees is a maple, one can actually see it grow, I think. Perhaps the young ones could be taught tree planting and care and something about flower and vegetable gardening. Now with all the house building going up and the banks being so free with their lending of money for building and improvement of property, most house owners like to go in for a little gardening. Most of it they have to learn from the back of the flower seed packages or catalogues. Kingston High School has a magnificent lawn and I often wondered why it never had any flowers around the building. A course in planting flowers and tree care would no doubt interest many young folks and give them a chance to go outdoors during the nice weather. It certainly will give them as much exercise as "gym" but I think they will enjoy it more and will build up a love for planting trees and flowers and vegetables and seeing them grow. After all that is how our country was built. Nowhere in the history books, do I find anything about "gym" periods, "gym" classes or anything pertaining to "gym."

For those who care about tree planting, Arbor Day is an annual holiday, recognized in United States, Canada and New Zealand, when trees are planted and especially by school children, the date varies in different districts. The first celebration took place April 10, 1872, in Nebraska, at which time over one million trees were planted. It just so happens that Kingston and Rondout were incorporated as Kingston City May 29, 1872. Perhaps they could use that date for some tree planting each year.

One of the most interesting hands of the Eastern Championships came from the first event on the program, the Men's Pairs. Alfred Sheinwold, well-known New York expert and bridge author, got himself into an unsound contract, but managed to scramble to safety when the defense slipped.

Sheinwold's decision to reopen the bidding was based on the principles he stated in his excellent new book, "How to Bid and Play in Duplicate Tournaments." He wrote: "If the opponents stop at the seven or eight-trick level, you or your partner must pause before the final pass and decide whether or not to intervene.

"In many cases the last man to speak will reopen the bidding; and in some of these cases, he will find that he has stepped into a buzz saw. Nevertheless, this course will salvage many hands and will sometimes push the opponents just one trick too high instead of allowing them to make a plus score."

In this case, prompt trump leads by the defense would have reminded Sheinwold of the buzz saw, but West actually opened the king of hearts and then shifted to the ten of diamonds.

Sheinwold won the second trick with the queen of diamonds, ruffed a heart in dummy, and led another diamond towards his hand. East discarded a club, and declarer won with the ace. (East would have done better to ruff, of course, but he didn't know.)

South now cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a heart in dummy and a club in his hand, and led the queen of hearts. West couldn't gain by ruffing with the ace, and he therefore ruffed low. Dummy overruffed and led the queen of clubs, whereupon the defenders were powerless to defeat the contract.

One of the advantages of making "pushing" bids is that the opponents sometimes fail to realize how far you have crawled out on the limb; and, as in this case, they wind up rewarding instead of punishing you.

Radiators should not be painted with dark or metallic paints. Use light-colored wall paint to get more heat from them.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder if folks in Saugerties know the following found in The Kingston Weekly Freeman of Thursday, May 9, 1901: "The first paper machine used in America was made in Saugerties, according to the Paper Trade Journal of above year. In 1827 this Fourdrinier machine was introduced in this country at Saugerties, N. Y., while the cylinder machine came into use about 10 years earlier." I wonder if that first paper machine is in existence somewhere, perhaps in a museum. Another item read: Population of Kingston, 24,535 with 54 deaths during March, with 12 under the age of 5. I imagine the population, which increased some 5,000 over a period of a half a century, did rise a great deal during the recent building boom in this territory.

In this paper there is an item on the observation of Arbor Day in the Kingston schools. It was proper in those years to have outdoor exercises and plant trees. I do not think that has been done for a long time. At the time they said there was no more room at the Academy Green lawn to plant trees. Many of the trees you now see at the Academy Green park were planted by young folks, perhaps some 50 years ago on Arbor Day. How different the young folks are today about trees. They take everything for granted. One of the quickest growing trees is a maple, one can actually see it grow, I think. Perhaps the young ones could be taught tree planting and care and something about flower and vegetable gardening. Now with all the house building going up and the banks being so free with their lending of money for building and improvement of property, most house owners like to go in for a little gardening. Most of it they have to learn from the back of the flower seed packages or catalogues. Kingston High School has a magnificent lawn and I often wondered why it never had any flowers around the building. A course in planting flowers and tree care would no doubt interest many young folks and give them a chance to go outdoors during the nice weather. It certainly will give them as much exercise as "gym" but I think they will enjoy it more and will build up a love for planting trees and flowers and vegetables and seeing them grow. After all that is how our country was built. Nowhere in the history books, do I find anything about "gym" periods, "gym" classes or anything pertaining to "gym."

May Day Held On Both Sides Of Iron Curtain

(By The Associated Press)

Workers throughout the world marched in traditional May Day celebrations Sunday. Religious and political leaders on both sides of the iron curtain took grim note of East-West tensions.

Violence broke out in France. Algerian Nationalists took the occasion to stage independence demonstrations and wound up in scuffles with the police. At least 41 persons were injured and 70 demonstrators were arrested.

The day, established as Labor Day by the International Socialist Congress in 1899, was observed by Communists and non-Reds alike.

In Moscow, President Eisenhower's wartime friend, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, stood in drenching rain reviewing a parade of Russia's military might. But the rain forced cancellation of the usual mammoth march by "spontaneous" civilian demonstrators. The customary air force fly-past also was canceled.

Later Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, blasted "imperialists' threats and provocations" in a speech and said the Paris agreements to free and rearm West Germany increased world tensions.

Peiping radio said Red China's leader, Mao Tze-tung, observed the day watching a "seemingly endless parade" down Peiping's central boulevard. Peiping Mayor Peng Chen made the May Day speech with a call for strengthened defenses and "liberation" for Formosa.

At Vatican City, Pope Pius XII addressed hundreds of thousands of workers assembled from all parts of Italy in St. Peter's Square.

Priest to Conduct Youth Meetings at Port Ewen Church

The Rev. Francis X. Bader, CSsR, who has conducted scores of missions and retreats in correctional institutions of the Eastern United States, will conduct a series of meetings for teenagers at the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, this week.

The meetings will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The talks have been arranged particularly for teenagers of Presentation Parish, Port Ewen, and Sacred Heart Parish, Esopus, but any interested young people are invited to attend.

The Rev. Joseph L. Kerins, CssR, pastor, pointed out today that "schools for crime is the title often given to our prisons and correctional institutions. All too often the criticism is true. But some things can be learned from the wretched lives therein encountered. Those who devote their lives to rehabilitating these unfortunate inmates gain an acute insight into the early signs of a wrong turn in the road of life."

Father Kerins said Father Bader would particularly stress the lessons that can be learned by today's youth from the mistakes of the youth of yesterday, pointing out that Father Bader had seen those mistakes bear bitter fruit in hundreds of lives and had dealt with those old in crime as well as those on the threshold of disaster. "These experiences give his talks to youth a straight-from-the-shoulder character that has proven of immense benefit to the thousands of teenagers who have had the benefit of hearing him."

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer . . . glamorous "hardtop."

What's all this talk about "Price Class!"

It gets to be a little confusing—this talk about what "price class" a car is in. This new Dodge is making a clean sweep in every price field!

Owners who are used to paying a thousand dollars more for a car find that money can't buy more luxury, more exciting features and beauty than in the dashing Custom Royal Lancer shown above. It's up to 9 inches longer than competitive models costing more!

And owners of so-called "low-priced cars" are finding that a new Dodge, with all its dashing length and flashing style, can be theirs for only a few dollars a month more than any of the small cars—up to 19 inches shorter and far less exciting!

In fact, the Dodge Coronet 4-door shown below actually costs less than some models in the lowest price class. So let yourself go. Travel first class in the car that's knocking "price class" into a cocked hat.

HARMONY—The quartet from the Kingston High School choir pauses during a rehearsal this week for the concert at the high school, Friday and Saturday evenings. Taking part in the selection, "How Lovely Are the Messengers" from "St. Paul" by Mendelssohn, are George Dahl, Audrey Cherny, Jacie Haulenbeek, and Richard Bunting. Accompanist is Miss Francine Turck, her first year with the choral group. She is a pupil of Lina M. Schmidtkonz. Tickets are now available for the two performances under the direction of Leonard Stine. (Freeman photo).

May Day Held On Both Sides Of Iron Curtain

(By The Associated Press)

Workers throughout the world marched in traditional May Day celebrations Sunday. Religious and political leaders on both sides of the iron curtain took grim note of East-West tensions.

Violence broke out in France. Algerian Nationalists took the occasion to stage independence demonstrations and wound up in scuffles with the police. At least 41 persons were injured and 70 demonstrators were arrested.

The day, established as Labor Day by the International Socialist Congress in 1899, was observed by Communists and non-Reds alike.

In Moscow, President Eisenhower's wartime friend, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, stood in drenching rain reviewing a parade of Russia's military might. But the rain forced cancellation of the usual mammoth march by "spontaneous" civilian demonstrators. The customary air force fly-past also was canceled.

Later Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, blasted "imperialists' threats and provocations" in a speech and said the Paris agreements to free and rearm West Germany increased world tensions.

Peiping radio said Red China's leader, Mao Tze-tung, observed the day watching a "seemingly endless parade" down Peiping's central boulevard. Peiping Mayor Peng Chen made the May Day speech with a call for strengthened defenses and "liberation" for Formosa.

At Vatican City, Pope Pius XII addressed hundreds of thousands of workers assembled from all parts of Italy in St. Peter's Square.

Priest to Conduct Youth Meetings at Port Ewen Church

The Rev. Francis X. Bader, CSsR, who has conducted scores of missions and retreats in correctional institutions of the Eastern United States, will conduct a series of meetings for teenagers at the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, this week.

The meetings will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The talks have been arranged particularly for teenagers of Presentation Parish, Port Ewen, and Sacred Heart Parish, Esopus, but any interested young people are invited to attend.

The Rev. Joseph L. Kerins, CssR, pastor, pointed out today that "schools for crime is the title often given to our prisons and correctional institutions. All too often the criticism is true. But some things can be learned from the wretched lives therein encountered. Those who devote their lives to rehabilitating these unfortunate inmates gain an acute insight into the early signs of a wrong turn in the road of life."

Father Kerins said Father Bader would particularly stress the lessons that can be learned by today's youth from the mistakes of the youth of yesterday, pointing out that Father Bader had seen those mistakes bear bitter fruit in hundreds of lives and had dealt with those old in crime as well as those on the threshold of disaster. "These experiences give his talks to youth a straight-from-the-shoulder character that has proven of immense benefit to the thousands of teenagers who have had the benefit of hearing him."

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer . . . glamorous "hardtop."

What's all this talk about "Price Class!"

It gets to be a little confusing—this talk about what "price class" a car is in. This new Dodge is making a clean sweep in every price field!

Owners who are used to paying a thousand dollars more for a car find that money can't buy more luxury, more exciting features and beauty than in the dashing Custom Royal Lancer shown above. It's up to 9 inches longer than competitive models costing more!

And owners of so-called "low-priced cars" are finding that a new Dodge, with all its dashing length and flashing style, can be theirs for only a few dollars a month more than any of the small cars—up to 19 inches shorter and far less exciting!

Jaycee Driving Road-e-o Set Stadium, May 15

The fourth annual Teen-Age Driving Road-e-o, sponsored by the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Dietz Memorial Stadium Sunday, May 15. The Road-e-o will consist of written examination and a skill test, involving driving through prescribed exercise such as parking, smooth stopping and other achievements.

ALL TEEN-AGERS, boys and girls who hold a driving permit or a license or are presently enrolled in a driver training course are eligible to enter this safe driving event. The local winner in this national Jaycee contest will be eligible to compete in the state road-e-o, June 26 in Oswego. State winners compete for $3,000.00 in scholarships in a national contest July 25 to 29 in Washington, D. C. Local prizes besides the expense paid trip for the winner will be announced at a later date.

Robert Stedge, local Jaycee president, said five sub-committees have been organized under the general chairmanship of Stanley Dempsey to carry out the various aspects of the program. They are Donald Lawson, judging and scoring; Irving Kotrady, course and equipment; Victor Barger, publicity; and Arnold Bellini, prizes; James Cook, eligibility and screening. By emphasizing the rules of the road and the skills needed for safe driving, the Jaycees intend to give local youths a chance to prove that some of America's best drivers are teen-agers, Mr. Stedge said.

LAST YEAR 250,000 teen-agers took part in teen-age Road-e-o in more than 1000 towns and cities. Sponsors of the National Teen-Age Road-e-o are the U. S. Jaycees, Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies and American Trucking Association, Inc.

Hub Caps Stolen

Two large chrome hub caps were taken from the front wheels of a 1940 passenger vehicle yesterday afternoon while it was parked in front of 103 Hasbrouck avenue, it was reported to city police by Frank Fischer, who resides at that address. He estimated their value at $10.

Reports Diamond Lost

Loss of a 1.13 karat diamond from a ring sometime Saturday between Pine and Abruyn streets was reported to city police by Jacob Kreppel of 44 Abruyn street. He estimated the value of the diamond at $1,000.

Would Tighten Rules To Keep Teachers

Louisville, Ky., May 3 (AP)—School administrators find that one way to get and keep teachers is to make it harder to be a teacher.

The number of states requiring a college degree in education to teach in elementary schools now is nearing 35, and others are planning to put degree requirements into effect.

A group of school superintendents of state associations of administrators here discussed this development in a panel interview today.

"We put in a requirement for a degree about three years ago," said Dale Whitenack of Vancouver, Wash., "and, as many states have found, we discovered that the higher the requirements, the better are the chances of getting teachers.

"The first question prospective teachers usually ask our recruiters is 'what are your requirements?' Money is important, too, but most of all they seem to want to work where their associates are well trained."

"It's only the same thing that the bar and medical profession did 40 or 50 years ago," commented William H. Buker, Holden, Mass. "They raised their standards, and you can see the results."

Practical Nurses Meet in Syracuse

The state convention of Practical Nurses of New York, Inc., is being held this week in Syracuse with a number of nurses from the Ulster County Division of the organization in attendance, it was announced today by Miss Margaret Louise Bowen of Kingston, president of the county division.

The convention opened Monday. There will be a banquet Wednesday evening, tours Thursday and a post-convention meeting Friday.

Dr. Richard F. Binzley of Albany, assistant commissioner of the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene, will be guest speaker at the afternoon session Wednesday. Dr. William R. Willard, dean of the medical college, Syracuse University, will address the banquet meeting. Mrs. Christine B. Quell of Richmond Hill, president of the state organization, will preside at all convention sessions.

One of the tours will be to the Bristol Laboratories where antibiotics are made and another to the famous salt museum and French Fort.

Harriman Signs Aid for Growing School Districts

Albany, May 3 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has approved legislation greatly increasing state financial aid to fast-growing school districts.

Completing action on the 1,199 bills passed by the 1955 Legislature, the governor also signed measure establishing a judicial conference to administer the state court system.

Harriman, a Democrat, followed the practice of his Republican predecessor, Thomas E. Dewey, in taking action on every bill put before him. He did not resort to the "pocket veto."

The governor approved 872 and vetoed 327 measures submitted to him by the Republican-controlled Legislature. Any bills remaining on his desk at midnight last night—30 days after the Legislature adjourned—would have died automatically

THE NEW SCHOOL aid law almost doubles the per-capita assistance to consolidated school districts. It doubles the number of pupils that may be counted for state aid purposes in those districts.

The judicial conference law empowers the new body to appoint a state court administrator and subordinate committee of jurists and lawyers in each judicial department.

The conference is to replace the present judicial council and assume administration of personnel and fiscal affairs of the courts, including assignments of judges.

Harriman's 27 per cent score of vetoes was higher than Dewey's 1954 figure but lower than that set by Dewey two years ago. Dewey disapproved 22 per cent of the measures reaching his desk last year and 28 per cent in 1953.

TWO REPUBLICANS, Sen. George Metcalf of Auburn and Assemblyman Ray S. Ashbery of Tompkins county, introduced the school-aid bill. It becomes effective immediately.

The new law increases from $100 to $200 the per capita aid paid consolidated school districts for each pupil who lives in the outside area on the day before the effective date of consolidation, less an amount based on the total assessed valuation of property. It increases from 200 to 400 the maximum number of pupils for which the consolidated district may claim aid.

THE GOVERNOR declared the legislation "a forward step in providing equal educational opportunities for the city and non-city youth. He said he believed such cities as Ithaca, Newburgh, Saratoga Springs, Fulton, Auburn, Hornell, Kingston, Oneida, Oneonta, Rome and Middletown would be provided with better school systems through enlarged districts.

The Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals will head the judicial conference. The four presiding justices of the Appellate Division and State Supreme Court justice from each of the four departments will be the other members. The measure was drafted by the temporary state commission on the courts. It is effective immediately.

Harriman approved a bill providing for annual fire-hazard inspection of private and public schools by school authorities in cities of less than 125,000 population. They must make reports to the state safety director.

SAFETY DIRECTOR Michael Prendergast said, "many of these structures are located in areas not enjoying fire protection."

Formerly, fire officials had the responsibility for inspection in smaller communities. The measure was sponsored by Sen. S. Wentworth Horton of Greenport and Assemblyman Charles A Cusck of Cayuga, both Republicans.

He signed a bill providing that state employes will be paid once every two weeks instead of twice a month. It will become effective next April 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year.

Here is what AFL President George Meany says about the political intentions of the proposed federation he is slated to head, second of five stories.*

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Organized labor is planning today to move into politics in the 1956 elections on a scale never before attempted in the history of the American trade union movement.

This move will begin after the American Federation of Labor (AFL) and the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) merge their 140 unions into one 15 million-man organization — perhaps in December.

AFL President George Meany, who will head the new federation, said in an interview:

"WE'RE GOING as far down that (political) road as it is necessary to go to achieve our objective — and that objective is the raising of the living standards of the working man."

This plunge into politics will be an historic turning point for labor as far as the 10 million-member AFL is concerned. In the past, the AFL has remained pretty much on the political sidelines except to endorse this or that candidate for public office, although the CIO has been active politically for years.

But as Meany interprets present day trends in labor-management relations, labor must move onto the political front in force for self protection. The CIO has long believed unions should get into politics on the doorbell-ringing, precinct level.

FOR MANY YEARS, while the late William Green was head of AFL and even under the leadership of AFL founder Samuel Gompers, the federation stayed clear of any concerted effort to steer the AFL membership as a voting bloc.

But the new trend is toward political action on a major scale —and here is Meany's explanation of why this is happening:

"We are being compelled by the force of events to take defensive action to make sure that we are not hampered and restricted at the bagraining table. We are being compelled to enter the political field in order to change the political picture that is developing against labor. And the job must be done not only on the national level—but on the state level.

"The Taft-Hartley law and restrictive state laws are putting all the weapons in the hands of employers. So there is no other way left open to use but to take political action."

MEANY REFERRED to the spread of so-called "right to work" laws which have been adopted by 18 states (most of them in the south and midwest) and laws which curb the use of union funds for political purposes.

The Taft-Hartley law forbids the use of union funds for political purposes and it also bans the closed shop in which only union members may be hired. The law permits, under certain conditions, the union shop in which a worker must become a union member within a certain period after he is hired. Now 18 states have the right-to-work laws which, for the most part, ban the union shop. Some states are moving, too, to curb union political activity.

West Germany's economy, in the meantime, made rapid strides. Today she is the strongest nation in Europe, economically, competing commercially in world markets. The Republic's 1954 import and export figures more than doubled pre-war 1936 levels.

IN REFERRING to these laws, Meany said: "We are seeing right now a new move underway to strike at labor from a new direction. There is a new effort to block us on the political front and to prevent our members from taking action on a political level.

"But I say we are going to be political to the extent that we are forced to be in the protection of our own rights at the bargaining table. What the hell is the use of going to the bargaining table if you are going to have your hands tied behind your back?

"We are not going into any political arena just to throw our weight around. We aren't going into politics merely to be in politics. We are being forced into political action."

MEANY IS SKILLED in politics, having gained by experience on the legislative front in helping push pro-labor laws through the New York Legislature in years past. He has long favored stronger political action by the AFL.

As Meany and his colleagues see it, the Taft-Hartley law, in combination with the growing state restrictions, merely are moves by labor's enemies to throttle the labor movement which has boomed to new power and influence in the past 20 years.

Labor's political strategy will be to concentrate the main effort in areas where there is a good chance to elect candidates friendly to labor.

CAN THE LABOR vote be delivered as a bloc for any one party or candidate?

Labor leaders believe that with intense political education, workers will better understand how to vote in their own interests—and in the interests of the labor movement—thus becoming a far stronger political force.

In this way, they believe, labor will be able to do a great deal more at the ballot box than in the past—notably the 1948 election in Ohio, where labor opposition failed signally to defeat the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

THEY SEE labor repeating in future elections the CIO successes won in Michigan last fall. In this election, Republicans were swept out of state offices they had controlled for years—and a virtual political unknown, Pat McNamara (a Democrat and onetime AFL leader) ousted Republican Homer Ferguson from his U. S. Senate seat.

The CIO claimed — and was given—considerable credit in the outcome of this election. And now the Michigan election is regarded by labor as the classic example of what can happen in other states.

In counties and states where the balance of power between parties lies in a small percentage of votes, it doesn't require a student of politics to see that an effort such as the CIO staged in Michigan might easily provide the margin of victory for candidates supported by labor.

WHERE COULD organized labor make its weight felt more heavily by a vigorous campaign in support of its candidates?

The answer would seem to be in those states where there is the heaviest concentration of union members. And these states are: New York, Pennsylvania, California, Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey, Michigan, Texas, Missouri and Massachusetts. But many other states have important numbers of labor votes. The question is whether labor's leaders can hold them in line at the polls.

In any event, labor is getting ready for a political push. And just how potent it will be may be reflected in the 1956 elections.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Keep Walking

The power failed. In the great city the millions of tiny hand cars that carried the people even the shortest distance from bed to breakfast table stopped moving. For a long time the people clung to the cars on which they depended, but hunger and finally panic set in. On hands and knees, they began to crawl in thousands as their beautiful civilization ground to a halt.

Science fiction? Of course. A writer's dream of the future when man's feet have become as useless as his appendix.

Could it happen? Look out the window at a beautiful May day. You would not want to lose the power of walking down a country road or even a city street on such a day. But how often do you do it? Do you really walk, or just get around? If you started out right now, how soon would you tire?

Muscles have to be used, or they lose tone and weaken. Our feet are a remarkable delicate assembly of small bones and muscles. To do their job, they must be kept at peak efficiency.

But, you say, I'm a housewife and I'm on my feet just about every minute the live-long day. You may be on them, but do you really use them? Do they carry you comfortably, or just complaining at every step?

It is lucky that our feet do not suffer and grow weak without complaining. If they are in trouble, we get pain signals not only from the feet themselves but also from the back and the head. We feel tired all over.

We can prevent foot trouble by practicing correct walking methods. Take a good walk now and then, and when you do, use your whole body, and swing your legs from the hips. Always walk with your feet parallel, and put them down with the whole sole touching the ground. Shoes must be correctly fitted. If you only have to sit and look pretty, spike heels will do, but if your feet must work, low heels are the thing.

You may be the first to order one of those little machines to speed you through your household tasks, but let's keep the power of walking for pleasure with pleasure.

Mt. Vernon MPs Win Eisenhower Trophy

Albany, May 3 (AP)—A military police company from Mt. Vernon has won the National Guard's coveted Eisenhower trophy for the seventh consecutive year.

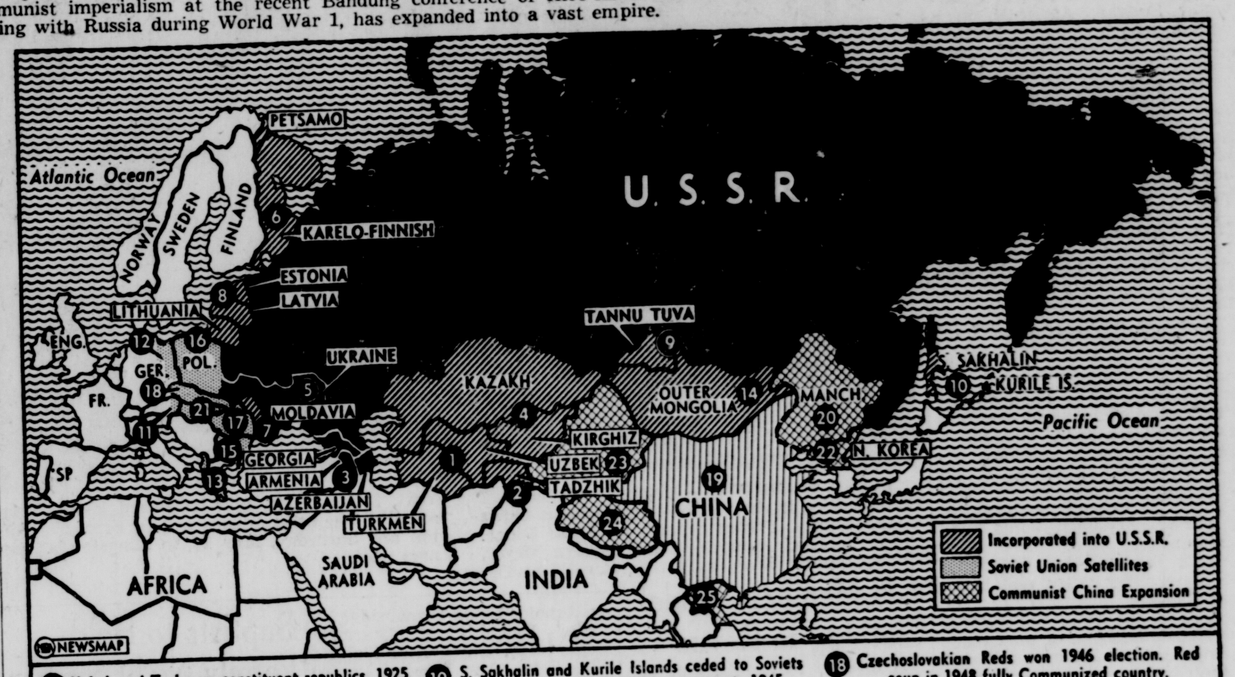

Maj. Gen. Karl F. Hausauer, commanding the New York guard, announced yesterday that the 42nd Military Police Co. was the first outfit in the nation to be seven-time winner. It is given each year to the "most outstanding" company or battery-sized unit in the United States and territories.

In the past six years, Hausauer said, the 42nd MP's shared the honor with the Bristol, R. I., Anti-Aircraft Battery.

Labor Plans Big Step Into Political Picture

Editor's note: As labor moves to consolidate 15 million CIO and AFL workers into one group a major question is: What will the merger mean politically? Here is what AFL President George Meany says about the political intentions of the proposed federation he is slated to head, second of five stories.

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Organized labor is planning today to move into politics in the 1956 elections on a scale never before attempted in the history of the American trade union movement.

This move will begin after the American Federation of Labor (AFL) and the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) merge their 140 unions into one 15 million-man organization — perhaps in December.

AFL President George Meany, who will head the new federation, said in an interview:

"WE'RE GOING as far down that (political) road as it is necessary to go to achieve our objective — and that objective is the raising of the living standards of the working man."

This plunge into politics will be an historic turning point for labor as far as the 10 million-member AFL is concerned. In the past, the AFL has remained pretty much on the political sidelines except to endorse this or that candidate for public office, although the CIO has been active politically for years.

But as Meany interprets present day trends in labor-management relations, labor must move onto the political front in force for self protection. The CIO has long believed unions should get into politics on the doorbell-ringing, precinct level.

FOR MANY YEARS, while the late William Green was head of AFL and even under the leadership of AFL founder Samuel Gompers, the federation stayed clear of any concerted effort to steer the AFL membership as a voting bloc.

But the new trend is toward political action on a major scale —and here is Meany's explanation of why this is happening:

"We are being compelled by the force of events to take defensive action to make sure that we are not hampered and restricted at the bagraining table. We are being compelled to enter the political field in order to change the political picture that is developing against labor. And the job must be done not only on the national level—but on the state level.

"The Taft-Hartley law and restrictive state laws are putting all the weapons in the hands of employers. So there is no other way left open to use but to take political action."

Can you see, steer, stop safely? . . . Check your car . . . check accidents

LOOKING FOR MORE VALUE from your motor car dollars? Then, look no more. Ford brings you a wealth of fine-car features that even some of the higher-priced cars can't match.

For example, the chart above shows that in feature after feature Ford gives you everything you have come to expect in a medium-priced car . . . and more. Yet, a Ford Fairlane Town Sedan costs* you less than the lowest-priced comparably equipped 4-door sedan of four popular medium-priced makes.

And, with Ford recognized as the style leader . . . "at home" wherever you may go . . . why pay more?

Feature for feature . . . price for price . . . you can't buy better than Ford.

*Based on manufacturer's suggested list price.

I am financing my new car with The Rondout National Bank . . . and I'll tell you why

As one who is interested in the growth and prosperity of Kingston I believe we all should patronize local business and industry.

AND—Because I decided to finance my car with a Rondout National Bank Auto Loan, I was pleasantly surprised to find I saved nearly $50.00—because local bank loans cost less.

AND—Your auto loan can be arranged quickly and easily at the Rondout National Bank—it is much more convenient when making the monthly payments.

AND—It is important to remember by establishing your credit with the Rondout National Bank you have available the many other banking services and loans.

Margaret Barnes, Robert Clearwater Wed at Holy Cross

Miss Margaret Barnes became the bride of Robert Clearwater Sunday, April 24, in a double ring ceremony held at 2:30 p. m. at Holy Cross Church. The Rev. Stanley Dean, rector, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnes, Sr., of 17 Prince street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clearwater of 48 Gage street.

Walter Kidd accompanied Miss Evelyn Prist, soloist, in traditional selections. The church was decorated with Easter lilies and white chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length ice blue gown of Alencon lace fashioned with fitted long torso with modified off the shoulder neckline and bouffant skirt, and matching lace mitts. Her street-length veil was attached to a half crown of ice blue lilies of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

Miss Fanny Brady was maid of honor. Her gown and headpiece were identical to the bride's in ice pink. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink chrysanthemums with blue iris and blue ribbon.

James Brady served as best man. Ushers were Frank Barnes, Jr., brother of the bride, and John Finch, brother in-law of the bride.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the Kozy Restaurant following the ceremony.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York, Washington, D. C., and Maryland, the couple will live at 48 Gage street. For traveling, the bride chose a beige suit with green accessories and a corsage of gold chrysanthemums.

The bride is with Hercules Powder Co., and the bridegroom, with Channel Master, Ellenville.

Bridge Authority To Award Garage Contracts May 4

Contracts for the construction of a garage on the Poughkeepsie bank of the Hudson, south of the Mid-Hudson Bridge will be formally awarded at a meeting of the New York State Bridge Authority Wednesday in the offices at 22 Ferry street.

The garage, to be 30 by 40 feet, will house two trucks and a car stationed in the bridge area.

Besides the awarding of contracts, other routine business is on the agenda, it was said.

THIS WILL BE the first meeting attended by Ernest Heppner of 35 Crane street who was appointed to the authority early last month by Gov. Harriman succeeding former Congressman Jay H. LeFevre.

At the time of his appointment Heppner pledged to serve "the interests of developing the entire mid-Hudson valley." He said he would carry to the authority a belief that through "mutual understanding" great achievements could be recorded.

He declined at the time to outline his views on what the authority had done or what it should do until "I have an opportunity to make a full study of bridge problems and solutions."

Home Bureau

GLENFORD UNIT of the Home Bureau will meet Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. at the school. The project will be making pocketbooks.

YWCA HAS ANNIVERSARY—Celebrating the 100th anniversary of the YWCA, the local group held a Centennial dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel Monday evening. Present were, seated, left to right, Mrs. John Glennon, Mrs. Fred Port, Mrs. Esther Merrick Crane, guest speaker, and Mrs. Lloyd Le Fever. Standing, Mrs. Henry Eighmey, Mayor Frederick H. Stang, and Mrs. Vincent Carr. The costumes added an authentic note to the event. (Freeman photo)

Jersey Senate Okays Free Inoculations

Trenton, N. J., May 3 (AP)—A half million dollar appropriation for purchase of Salk polio vaccine is half way through the New Jersey Legislature.

The Senate passed the bill 17-0 yesterday and sent it to the Assembly. The bill provides for free inoculation of children from 1 to 10 years old and leaves it up to the state health commissioner to determine how to do the job. The appropriation will not pay for inoculation of all the estimated 900,000 children in the age group covered.

The Assembly passed a bill designed to prevent black marketing of the Salk vaccine. It would keep all distribution in normal medical channels under control of the State Health Department. The measure now goes to Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

Memorial Is Dismantled

Berlin, May 3 (AP)—German workmen today began dismantling the Soviet tank memorial, symbol of the first Russian war machines to crash the Nazi defenses of Berlin. The job is expected to take two days. The tanks, which now rest on a pedestal in the American sector of the city, is scheduled to be loaded on a flat car tomorrow for shipment to the Soviet zone.

Republic Gets Contract

Farmingdale, May 3 (AP)—Republic Aviation Corp. announced it has been awarded an air force contract for development of the RF-105, a photo-reconnaissance version of the fighter bomber F-105.

London, May 3 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor arrived today from Paris for a short private visit. The duchess didn't come.

Miss Janet Smith, F. Bendewald, Jr. Wed in Ponckhockie

Ponckhockie Congregational Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Janet Barbara Smith and Frederick Bendewald, Jr. Saturday, April 30, at 11:30 a. m. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Vardell Swett of this church. Miss Marianne Purhamus was soloist with Charles E. Shutts at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Francella A. Smith of 16 Ponckhockie street and Arthur Smith of New York city, and the bridegroom is the son of Frederick Bendewald, Sr. of Pierpont street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of hand clipped lace styled with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves, and bouffant scalloped waltz length skirt. She wore matching gauntlets and a bridal cap of rosepoint lace trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins to which she attached her four-tiered circular French illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses with orchid center.

Miss Dorothy Smith was honor attendant for her cousin. She wore a pink strapless ballerina length gown of lace and nylon tulle with matching cape, headpiece of pink net with rosebuds and forget me nots, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Leonard Miller of this city served as best man. The ushers were James Nerone and Frank Parslow, 3rd, of this city.

A reception was held for 120 guests in the church parlors.

For the motor trip to Virginia, the bride chose a traveling ensemble of orchid suit with black and white accessories and a white orchid corsage. On their return, the couple will live at 16 Ponckhockie street.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, is with New York Telephone Company. The bridegroom, who served two years in the army, 17 months of which were spent in Korea, is with Federal Bearings, Poughkeepsie.

Bridge Authority To Award Garage Contracts May 4

Contracts for the construction of a garage on the Poughkeepsie bank of the Hudson, south of the Mid-Hudson Bridge will be formally awarded at a meeting of the New York State Bridge Authority Wednesday in the offices at 22 Ferry street.

The garage, to be 30 by 40 feet, will house two trucks and a car stationed in the bridge area.

Besides the awarding of contracts, other routine business is on the agenda, it was said.

THIS WILL BE the first meeting attended by Ernest Heppner of 35 Crane street who was appointed to the authority early last month by Gov. Harriman succeeding former Congressman Jay H. LeFevre.

At the time of his appointment Heppner pledged to serve "the interests of developing the entire mid-Hudson valley." He said he would carry to the authority a belief that through "mutual understanding" great achievements could be recorded.

He declined at the time to outline his views on what the authority had done or what it should do until "I have an opportunity to make a full study of bridge problems and solutions."

Home Bureau

GLENFORD UNIT of the Home Bureau will meet Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. at the school. The project will be making pocketbooks.

Top Dai General

premier was marshalling all his support for a political victory over chief of state Bao Dai.

THE PREMIER formally convoked a "states general"—an assembly of political party representatives and municipal and provincial officials—to pass judgment on the national revolutionary committee's weekend recommendation to depose Bao Dai. The assembly was called to meet in Saigon tomorrow.

In a nationwide broadcast, Diem said the national army also would have voice in the final decision on the committee's recommendations. Both the states general and the army were expected to approve the ousting of the playboy ex-emperor, who has been living on the French Riviera for the past 13 months.

THE DEMANDS for Bao Dai's deposition followed his cabled order last week for Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, a supporter of his, to supplant Diem. The army refused to follow Vy, who scurried back to the hill resort of Dalat.

Reports of new French support and renewed U. S. backing bolstered the premier.

In Washington, chief State Department press officer Henry Suydam told newsmen the United States "continues to support the legal government of free Viet Nam" headed by Diem. He refused to say whether Washington still regards Bao Dai as chief of state.

Merger Is

name doesn't queer the whole merger idea.

This seems unlikely but both Meany and Reuther appear fairly determined on the point. The AFL feels its name ought to be preserved as the senior organization dating back to 1882. The CIO was formed in 1935 by a group of unions splintering away from the AFL.

The CIO feels it already has gone pretty far in agreeing that Meany will head the new organization and that the AFL will provide most of the other officers.

IN ANOTHER MATTER involving union mergers, the AFL council yesterday rejected a bid from Dave Beck, president of the million-member AFL Teamsters Union, to take over jurisdiction in the longshore industry.

Beck has been dickering to get the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) and the new AFL International Brotherhood of Longshoremen (IBL) to join his organization. The council told Beck that if he took over the ILA— ousted from the AFL because it allegedly harbored hoodlum elements — the Teamsters might face an AFL ouster move, and if he took over the IBL he would need the AFL's sanction.

A 50-unit motel is under construction near McCormack's Corners in the Capital District.. At Schroon Lake a public bathing beach and parking lot is being developed on the Leland Hotel property, bought by the town for $45,000. The beach will open Memorial Day.

Three motels have been rebuilt at Old Forge and two new motels with sixty-two units have been added. Ninty motel units have been built at Inlet and a hotel at Fourth Lake has been modernized.

Hotels have been improved and new motel units added at Watkins Glen. Accommodations at Niagara Falls have been increasing constantly since World War 2. Since last fall four new motels, with accommodations for 300 guests, have been added. In the Chautauqua Lake area new motels have been built on Route 17 and Route 17J.

In Binghamton the Arlington Hotel recently announced plans for a $200,000 to $300,000 reconstruction.

Information on resort facilities is contained in the latest edition of New York State Vacationlands, a 196-page guide, obtainable without charge from the State Department of Commerce, 112 State street, Albany 7 N. Y.

Similar conferences are being held May 4 in New York city and Smithtown on May 11.

Aviation Pioneer Buried

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Adm. John H. Towers, a pioneer of military aviation, was buried in Arlington National Cemetery today with full military honors. Adm. Towers, 70, died Saturday at the Long Island, N. Y. Naval Hospital. He had been in retirement since 1947. Funeral services were held in the Ft. Myer, Va. chapel today. Attending were high ranking navy officials and representatives of the aircraft industry with whom Adm. Towers worked to get flying from the stunt stage into its role as a powerful military force.

Strauss Arrives

Copenhagen, May 3 (AP)—Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, arrived by plane from London last night. He will spend three days in Denmark. Strauss is making a three-week tour of West Europe, accompanied by an aide. The U. S. atomic chief said he was on a holiday trip but added he would meet Niels Bohr, Danish atom scientist whom he has known since 1939.

treaty now is in progress in Vienna. A communique issued after the first session yesterday said "notable progress was made."

UNDER THE terms of the World War 2 peace treaties with Hungary and Romania, Russia should withdraw its troops from those nations as soon as they are no longer needed to protect the supply line to Soviet troops in Austria. Creation of a unified command would give the Russians a legal basis to continue their forces in the satellites—an estimated 300,000 men in Hungary, 300,000 in Romania and 400,000 in Poland. The Soviets reportedly have only military observers in Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Albania.

Actually, the eastern satellites and Russian forces are already believed to be under a unified command. Soviet officers have key advisory positions in many of the other armies. The uniforms of the troops are the same. Much of their equipment is standardized.

General Is Expelled

Paris, May 3 (AP)—Retired French Gen. Marcel Rime-Bruneau, head of a French colonists' organization which opposes more self-rule for Tunisia, was expelled today from that North African protectorate. A French government spokesman said the action was taken because of statements made by the general "tending to disturb public order."

Top Dai General

premier was marshalling all his support for a political victory over chief of state Bao Dai.

THE PREMIER formally convoked a "states general"—an assembly of political party representatives and municipal and provincial officials—to pass judgment on the national revolutionary committee's weekend recommendation to depose Bao Dai. The assembly was called to meet in Saigon tomorrow.

In a nationwide broadcast, Diem said the national army also would have voice in the final decision on the committee's recommendations. Both the states general and the army were expected to approve the ousting of the playboy ex-emperor, who has been living on the French Riviera for the past 13 months.

THE DEMANDS for Bao Dai's deposition followed his cabled order last week for Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, a supporter of his, to supplant Diem. The army refused to follow Vy, who scurried back to the hill resort of Dalat.

Reports of new French support and renewed U. S. backing bolstered the premier.

In Washington, chief State Department press officer Henry Suydam told newsmen the United States "continues to support the legal government of free Viet Nam" headed by Diem. He refused to say whether Washington still regards Bao Dai as chief of state.

Merger Is

name doesn't queer the whole merger idea.

This seems unlikely but both Meany and Reuther appear fairly determined on the point. The AFL feels its name ought to be preserved as the senior organization dating back to 1882. The CIO was formed in 1935 by a group of unions splintering away from the AFL.

The CIO feels it already has gone pretty far in agreeing that Meany will head the new organization and that the AFL will provide most of the other officers.

IN ANOTHER MATTER involving union mergers, the AFL council yesterday rejected a bid from Dave Beck, president of the million-member AFL Teamsters Union, to take over jurisdiction in the longshore industry.

Beck has been dickering to get the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) and the new AFL International Brotherhood of Longshoremen (IBL) to join his organization. The council told Beck that if he took over the ILA— ousted from the AFL because it allegedly harbored hoodlum elements — the Teamsters might face an AFL ouster move, and if he took over the IBL he would need the AFL's sanction.

A 50-unit motel is under construction near McCormack's Corners in the Capital District.. At Schroon Lake a public bathing beach and parking lot is being developed on the Leland Hotel property, bought by the town for $45,000. The beach will open Memorial Day.

Three motels have been rebuilt at Old Forge and two new motels with sixty-two units have been added. Ninty motel units have been built at Inlet and a hotel at Fourth Lake has been modernized.

Hotels have been improved and new motel units added at Watkins Glen. Accommodations at Niagara Falls have been increasing constantly since World War 2. Since last fall four new motels, with accommodations for 300 guests, have been added. In the Chautauqua Lake area new motels have been built on Route 17 and Route 17J.

In Binghamton the Arlington Hotel recently announced plans for a $200,000 to $300,000 reconstruction.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Adrian Siegel Story In Herald Tribune

Woodstock, May 2 — Adrian Siegel, cellist of the Philadelphia Orchestra, who makes his summer home in Bearsville, is the subject of a feature story in the New York Herald Tribune, in the photography section, Sunday, May 1. Don Langer has written the article, which is accompanied by an in-action shot by Siegel, made with available light, of violinist Nathan Milstein.

Langer writes as follows: "Those parents who must endure hours of musical practice by their children should take heart—for the training may help the child to join a great orchestra, become a painter or photographer, or all three.

"Anyway, that is the experience of Adrian Siegel, former oboist and now a cellist, who has spent thirty-three years with the Philadelphia Orchestra. In addition to his music, he paints and does photography—chiefly of musicians at work.

" 'My early training in music helped develop an understanding and therefore an appreciation of art. It taught me the meaning of interpretation with a camera or a musical instrument,' Mr. Siegel says.

" 'But I can't say that those early years learning music were all extremely happy for my parents or myself,' he added smiling. 'There were times when I regarded music as my personal enemy to be scraped away with a bow or forcibly blown right through the oboe.'

"If Mr. Siegel's musicianship is good enough to keep him in the forefront of that exacting and highly competitive art, his skill with a camera is sufficiently great to have won him a number of one-man exhibits in the Museum of Modern Art, the George Eastman House at Rochester, and several Philadelphia art institutions.

"The camera in his hands is an interpretive rather than a recording instrument. Despite the crowded, busy conditions of the average stage occupied by several score musicians, Mr. Siegel's camera-studies of solo artists, conductors and players, possess an individuality that is striking.

"The pictorial quality of the photos becomes all the more impressive when it is realized they are often taken while both the subject and the lensman are participating in a recital. By now, Mr. Siegel's fellow musicians have become accustomed to the sight of Mr. Siegel quietly laying aside his bow when an interval in the music permits and resting a Leica on his cello, using it as a tripod to take a picture.

"Sir Thomas Beecham in a Carnegie Hall concert of the Philadelphia Orchestra once turned to the orchestra while the audience was applauding and called, 'Camera—where is the camera! Get up and take pictures!'"—which the musician-lens-man proceeded to do much to the delight of the audience.

"Mr. Siegel's entry into the camera world was with a Brownie bought for $1 in his early teens. It almost ended his photo career, too, for it left him without funds for film. In 1937 he tried out his first 35mm miniature, and a year later invested in his first Leica. He now owns three Leicas, including the M3.

" 'I don't really need them all, but I always think I might—so I keep them, as well as five or six lenses, wide-angle and long-focal ones.'

"His first use of a camera was to record scenes for his paint brush, but soon he discovered the camera could stand up as an interpretive medium on its own. He them invested in a complete darkroom outfit, including half-dozen F-R developing tanks. 'Film just seem to flow through my camera, and I always find myself with several rolls to develop,' he explained.

"For years he used Plus-X, and now Tri-X, developing in various standard medium fine grain solutions.

"His advice to those who would use a camera in moments of stress is to relax

" 'Do so emotionally and physically. Try to blend in with the surroundings so that your subjects will practically look through you. Then they will be more themselves and you will get better pictures.

" 'As I practice with my cello, so do I practice with my camera. Always, I try new methods, new papers, new films. I take pictures of faces, at work and at rest. Composition can be done later with the enlarger, but the expression must be there. If you take pictures of your children with musical instruments, shoot for the faces too, for even at their age, they cannot help but mirror the music, or their thoughts.

" 'Which of the three mediums do I like best? Yes, it's been asked before. I can only repeat, I like best the medium I am working with at the time. If I play, it is my instrument and the music; if I paint it is the brush and canvas, and when the camera is in my hands, or I am in the darkroom, I am filled with the boundless interpretative power of photography.' "

Error Is Noted

Music Notes

Woodstock, May 2 — Joseph Wolman, who is well known to audiences at the Maverick Concert Hall as pianist, was the conductor of Chamber Music Associates, at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, last Friday night. The group played works by Mozart, Handel, Beethoven, Corelli, Hindemith and Grieg.

On Tuesday, April 26, Leon Barzin, conductor of the National Orchestral Association, conducted Berlioz' Requiem at Carnegie Hall.

Meeting Notices

Woodstock, May 2—The Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club will meet Wednesday at the clubhouse at 8 p. m.

The Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Tuesday at the clubhouse at 8 p. m. Annual dues are payable at that meeting.

The Agapae Rebekah Lodge will meet Wednesday at the Bearsville Lodge Hall at 8 p. m.

Girl Scout News

Woodstock, May 2—The final meeting of the season of the Woodstock Girl Scout Community Association will be held Monday, May 9, at 8 p. m., at the Woodstock School. The Girl Scout cookie sale will also begin on that date, for which Mrs. Melvin Leshen and Mrs. Donald Jackson will serve as chairman and assistant chairman, respectively.

To Hold Musical

Woodstock, May 2—Thomas Dendy, president of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association, has announced that a musical evening, From Bach to Bop, will be presented for the benefit of the Parent-Teachers' Association fund. The program is scheduled for Saturday, May 28, at 8 p. m.

Among those who will appear on the program are: The Woodstock Choral group under the direction of Bernice Schlemowitz; Dr. Hans Cohn, cellist and possibly an ensemble; Gladys Tandler, soprano, who will sing several songs from the Broadway show, Fanny; Roger Baer and his Hammond Organ; the Kingston Kiwanis Kapers Sextette, consisting of Alexander Embree, Jr., Dr. George Bushnell, District Attorney Howard C. St. John, Ray Myers and William Keyser; the Bruce Prosser Show of Beacon, a jazz organization which has appeared on WKNY-TV, and before the Woodstock Business Association last winter.

Dendy said that this would be strictly a musical show with no acts and no comedy. "It will be the highest in the classics and the lowest in the jazz."

Mrs. Margaret Wetterau will be in charge of the posters, to be made by some of Woodstock's well-known artists. Leon Carey is in charge of tickets which are being furnished by C. J. Van Rijn. Tickets will be mailed to all PTA members.

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 2 — Robert Elwyn, motion picture director, is making a documentary film for the navy at San Diego, Calif., where he will be for six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Striebel and Edward Mann are leaving next September for a year in England and the Continent, mainly in France and Italy. The Dixie Dugan cartoon strip will be done from over there. Abe Molyneaux will rent the Striebel home in Bearsville while they are away.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Frederick and son Shawn of New York were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Herbert. Herbert came from New York to spend the weekend at his home here.

Annual Picnic Listed

Woodstock, May 2—At a meeting of Sunday school teachers of the Woodstock Methodist Church at the home of Mrs. Harry Kennedy of Bearsville Wednesday afternoon, April 22, it was decided to have children's day and closing of Sunday school for the summer vacation on Sunday, June 26. The annual Sunday school picnic will be held Wednesday, June 29.

Recreation Program

Woodstock, May 2—A letter has been received from Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson by the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee saying that the Woodstock Recreation Committee would be happy to again have the health group conduct its summer receration program for girls this year at the recreation field. The committee plans to hire two teachers and two assistants to be in charge of the program for the months of July and August. The committee met last Thursday afternoon at the health center to discuss the program. Mrs. Charles King and Mrs. George Laws will be co-chairmen of the program.

5 BASIC REASONS FOR PONTIAC'S RECORD-BREAKING SALES

1. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS 200 HORSEPOWER

If you delight in flashing performance, here's all the reason you need to join the record-breaking thousands who are swinging to Pontiac. The 200 horsepower delivered by the economical Strato-Streak V-8 with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at extra cost, is the highest power ever delivered by a car at Pontiac's price—higher than that of cars costing considerably more. For thrift and thrills it's Pontiac all the way!

2. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS LONG WHEELBASE

Model for model, Pontiac has a longer wheelbase than any car at its price, or any car delivering 200 horsepower . . . 122" or 124", depending on the Pontiac you select. That's size where it really counts—and it's important because a long wheelbase is the reason for Pontiac's smooth, road-leveling ride and the roomy comfort of Pontiac's large, luxurious Body by Fisher—advantages that put Pontiac on a level with far costlier cars for sheer riding pleasure.

3. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS LUXURY-CAR STABILITY

The big, husky Pontiac with rugged X-member frame gives you the safe, solid feel at cruising speeds that motorists have formerly paid high prices to enjoy. And it links this road-holding comfort with ease of control like that of costly sports cars. You travel in superlative comfort in a Pontiac for the lowest price ever placed on such big-car stability.

4. PONTIAC'S DISTINCTIVE BEAUTY IS UNMATCHED AT ANY PRICE

Pontiac's style and beauty are a perfect match for its colorful performance. Future-fashioned lines, Vogue Two-Toning and Twin-Streaked hood provide dash and glamour unsurpassed by any other car at any price.

5. You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes

Come in and let us fill you in on all the facts and figures. We know you'll be pleased to see how little it costs to enjoy the pride and pleasure of fine-car ownership!

Adrian Siegel Story In Herald Tribune

Woodstock, May 2 — Adrian Siegel, cellist of the Philadelphia Orchestra, who makes his summer home in Bearsville, is the subject of a feature story in the New York Herald Tribune, in the photography section, Sunday, May 1. Don Langer has written the article, which is accompanied by an in-action shot by Siegel, made with available light, of violinist Nathan Milstein.

Langer writes as follows: "Those parents who must endure hours of musical practice by their children should take heart—for the training may help the child to join a great orchestra, become a painter or photographer, or all three.

"Anyway, that is the experience of Adrian Siegel, former oboist and now a cellist, who has spent thirty-three years with the Philadelphia Orchestra. In addition to his music, he paints and does photography—chiefly of musicians at work.

"'My early training in music helped develop an understanding and therefore an appreciation of art. It taught me the meaning of interpretation with a camera or a musical instrument,' Mr. Siegel says.

"'But I can't say that those early years learning music were all extremely happy for my parents or myself,' he added smiling. 'There were times when I regarded music as my personal enemy to be scraped away with a bow or forcibly blown right through the oboe.'

"If Mr. Siegel's musicianship is good enough to keep him in the forefront of that exacting and highly competitive art, his skill with a camera is sufficiently great to have won him a number of one-man exhibits in the Museum of Modern Art, the George Eastman House at Rochester, and several Philadelphia art institutions.

"The camera in his hands is an interpretive rather than a recording instrument. Despite the crowded, busy conditions of the average stage occupied by several score musicians, Mr. Siegel's camera-studies of solo artists, conductors and players, possess an individuality that is striking.

"The pictorial quality of the photos becomes all the more impressive when it is realized they are often taken while both the subject and the lensman are participating in a recital. By now, Mr. Siegel's fellow musicians have become accustomed to the sight of Mr. Siegel quietly laying aside his bow when an interval in the music permits and resting a Leica on his cello, using it as a tripod to take a picture.

"Sir Thomas Beecham in a Carnegie Hall concert of the Philadelphia Orchestra once turned to the orchestra while the audience was applauding and called, 'Camera—where is the camera! Get up and take pictures!'—which the musician-lens-man proceeded to do much to the delight of the audience.

"Mr. Siegel's entry into the camera world was with a Brownie bought for $1 in his early teens. It almost ended his photo career, too, for it left him without funds for film. In 1937 he tried out his first 35mm miniature, and a year later invested in his first Leica. He now owns three Leicas, including the M3.

"'I don't really need them all, but I always think I might—so I keep them, as well as five or six lenses, wide-angle and long-focal ones.'

"His first use of a camera was to record scenes for his paint brush, but soon he discovered the camera could stand up as an interpretive medium on its own. He them invested in a complete darkroom outfit, including half-dozen F-R developing tanks. 'Film just seem to flow through my camera, and I always find myself with several rolls to develop,' he explained.

"For years he used Plus-X, and now Tri-X, developing in various standard medium fine grain solutions.

"His advice to those who would use a camera in moments of stress is to relax

"'Do so emotionally and physically. Try to blend in with the surroundings so that your subjects will practically look through you. Then they will be more themselves and you will get better pictures.

"'As I practice with my cello, so do I practice with my camera. Always, I try new methods, new papers, new films. I take pictures of faces, at work and at rest. Composition can be done later with the enlarger, but the expression must be there. If you take pictures of your children with musical instruments, shoot for the faces too, for even at their age, they cannot help but mirror the music, or their thoughts.

"'Which of the three mediums do I like best? Yes, it's been asked before. I can only repeat, I like best the medium I am working with at the time. If I play, it is my instrument and the music; if I paint it is the brush and canvas, and when the camera is in my hands, or I am in the darkroom, I am filled with the boundless interpretative power of photography.'"

Error Is Noted

Woodstock, May 2—Through an error in this column it was reported that the Woodstock Business Association had renewed the lease on the Fire Hall. It was the Woodstock Square Club which met Thursday, April 21, renewed the lease on the fire hall and held a hobby night on the same evening.

Music Notes

Woodstock, May 2 — Joseph Wolman, who is well known to audiences at the Maverick Concert Hall as pianist, was the conductor of Chamber Music Associates, at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, last Friday night. The group played works by Mozart, Handel, Beethoven, Corelli, Hindemith and Grieg.

On Tuesday, April 26, Leon Barzin, conductor of the National Orchestral Association, conducted Berlioz' Requiem at Carnegie Hall.

Meeting Notices

Woodstock, May 2—The Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club will meet Wednesday at the clubhouse at 8 p. m.

The Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Tuesday at the clubhouse at 8 p. m. Annual dues are payable at that meeting.

The Agapae Rebekah Lodge will meet Wednesday at the Bearsville Lodge Hall at 8 p. m.

Girl Scout News

Woodstock, May 2—The final meeting of the season of the Woodstock Girl Scout Community Association will be held Monday, May 9, at 8 p. m., at the Woodstock School. The Girl Scout cookie sale will also begin on that date, for which Mrs. Melvin Leshen and Mrs. Donald Jackson will serve as chairman and assistant chairman, respectively.

To Hold Musical

Woodstock, May 2—Thomas Dendy, president of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association, has announced that a musical evening, From Bach to Bop, will be presented for the benefit of the Parent-Teachers' Association fund. The program is scheduled for Saturday, May 28, at 8 p. m.

Among those who will appear on the program are: The Woodstock Choral group under the direction of Bernice Schlemowitz; Dr. Hans Cohn, cellist and possibly an ensemble; Gladys Tandler, soprano, who will sing several songs from the Broadway show, Fanny; Roger Baer and his Hammond Organ; the Kingston Kiwanis Kapers Sextette, consisting of Alexander Embree, Jr., Dr. George Bushnell, District Attorney Howard C. St. John, Ray Myers and William Keyser; the Bruce Prosser Show of Beacon, a jazz organization which has appeared on WKNY-TV, and before the Woodstock Business Association last winter.

Dendy said that this would be strictly a musical show with no acts and no comedy. "It will be the highest in the classics and the lowest in the jazz."

Mrs. Margaret Wetterau will be in charge of the posters, to be made by some of Woodstock's well-known artists. Leon Carey is in charge of tickets which are being furnished by C. J. Van Rijn. Tickets will be mailed to all PTA members.

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 2 — Robert Elwyn, motion picture director, is making a documentary film for the navy at San Diego, Calif., where he will be for six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Striebel and Edward Mann are leaving next September for a year in England and the Continent, mainly in France and Italy. The Dixie Dugan cartoon strip will be done from over there. Abe Molyneaux will rent the Striebel home in Bearsville while they are away.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Frederick and son Shawn of New York were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Herbert. Herbert came from New York to spend the weekend at his home here.

Annual Picnic Listed

Woodstock, May 2—At a meeting of Sunday school teachers of the Woodstock Methodist Church at the home of Mrs. Harry Kennedy of Bearsville Wednesday afternoon, April 22, it was decided to have children's day and closing of Sunday school for the summer vacation on Sunday, June 26. The annual Sunday school picnic will be held Wednesday, June 29.

Recreation Program

Woodstock, May 2—A letter has been received from Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson by the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee saying that the Woodstock Recreation Committee would be happy to again have the health group conduct its summer receration program for girls this year at the recreation field. The committee plans to hire two teachers and two assistants to be in charge of the program for the months of July and August. The committee met last Thursday afternoon at the health center to discuss the program. Mrs. Charles King and Mrs. George Laws will be co-chairmen of the program.

JACKIE GLEASON'S manager is named Bullets Durgom. That nickname, which he got in high school because of his small size and fast footwork, has been, he says, both a help and sometimes an annoyance. It helps because it's easily remembered. But—

"But there've been times when it's been a problem," he says. "Especially when I met one of the mob. I went to Italy and a mutual friend introduced me to Lucky Luciano, the old gangster. Lucky said, 'Bullets? You must be one of the new guys.' And he gave me a long, cold look. I was glad to get back home."

Gore Vidal did the adaptation on CBS' "Stage Door" some weeks back. The star was Diana Lynn, and Gore and Diana are now dating frequently. So, when Vidal was signed to do the adaptation for the coming CBS production of "Farewell to Arms," he insisted on Diana as the leading lady.

Nothing like a dramatic part to change a man. Look at Richard Boone, who plays Dr. Konrad Styner on "Medic." Time was when Dick Boone would just about keel over at the sight of a bad hangnail.

But now?

"Well," says Dick. "I'm getting used to blood and things. I'm even pretty handy at first aid around the house.

"My son, Peter, is 18 months old. Not so long ago, he had his first adventure. He toddled outside the house and fell on a milk bottle. Came screaming back inside with his hand badly cut. A year ago I would have been lost. But I was perfectly calm — I washed it off and bandaged it beautifully."

Of course, he's far from being a finished medical product. When Peter was born, Dick was in the midst of shooting the unforgettable "Medic" story about a Caesarean birth. By coincidence, Peter was born in that way, too.

"For a week before," Dick says, "I was able to talk about it with the doctors very intelligently, very objectively. I looked at my wife's X-rays, and talked to our obstetrician in technical terms. I knew what I was doing. I thought I had it licked."

But the day Peter was born, Dick Bone realized he was just another anxious father-to-be. He practically collapsed.

Boone is a tall, almost-handsome Californian, who came to New York after the war and studied acting with Marlon Brando, Eva Marie Saint and that crowd at the Actors' Studio and the Neighborhood Playhouse. But his only Broadway job was as John Gielgud's understudy in "Medea." Dick never got a chance to go on. But he did a lot of TV, and got called to Hollywood.

Would End Marriage

Cleveland, May 3 (AP)—Caral Gimbel Greenberg, heiress to a department store fortune, has asked an end to her nine-year marriage with Hank Greenberg, home run hitter who became general manager of the Cleveland Indians baseball team. Mrs. Greenberg, a noted horsewoman, yesterday claimed "gross neglect and extreme cruelty" and asked custody of their three children, Glenn, 8, Stephen, 6, Alva, 2. She also demanded alimony. Greenberg, 44, said he was "terribly distressed."

SPRING STORMS ADD TO DUST BOWL'S WOES

America's Dust Bowl is getting dustier. Spring has brought soil-robbing winds and crop-ripping tornadoes throughout the Great Plains, already in critical shape after five years of drought conditions. The destructive weather greeted 600 delegates from all over the world as they gathered in Albuquerque, N. M., for the International Conference on Arid Lands. In its April report, the Soil Conservation Service added five million acres of land already blowing from the Dust Bowl area. This brought the total of land damaged by wind erosion since last November to more than 13 million acres. In addition, the report warned that another 20 million acres are ready to blow, because they lack enough vegetable cover to anchor the topsoil if high winds and drought persist through late spring and early summer. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson recently inspected the area. What he saw caused him to issue a call for governors of 10 Great Plains states to meet in Denver on June 1 to devise a program to attack the causes of drought damage and wind erosion. Map below shows the Dust Bowl area, with allocations of some of the nearly 10 million dollars Washington has given for emergency tillage for new wind-resistant cover crops and other measures.

A lone bit of life amid an arid desert is Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson as he trudges almost ankle-deep in dust across what were once lush green acres on a Colorado farm. Benson toured the wind-raked area after which he declared that his main goal will be alleviation of the causes of drought.

Map shows the drought-stricken Dust Bowl of the western plains. The monthly report of the Soil Conservation Service in April said more than 13 million acres have been damaged by wind erosion since last November. In addition, another 20 million acres are in condition to blow if high winds and drought persist.

ON THE SUBJECT OF CONVERSATION

A reader asks: "Is there any rule to follow for conversing in company—meaning when at a party in the presence of a group of people who are strangers? I never know what topics are safe to start and in consequence usually remain silent."

Conversation on every occasion is necessarily an exchange of casual thought. Ideal general conversation at a party should be amusing and have gay lightness suggestive of balloons tossed back and forth. It is always tactful to avoid controversial subjects unless you know that you are not in danger of offending the opinions of those present. Also, it is well to remember that strangers are not interested in having you air your private concerns. If you happen to be one of those who dread meeting strangers because you can't think of anything to say, you should console yourself with the fact that the faults of conversation are committed not by those who talk too little but by those who talk too much. To "listen eagerly" is really the best advice on conversation possible to give, since the person whom most people love to sit next to is a sympathetic listener who makes others want to talk.

The Bride Walks Alone

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for a bride to ever walk up the aisle alone? A friend of mine insists that it is, but I have never in my life seen this and furthermore, think she would look very forlorn. Will you please answer this in your column?

Answer: It is unusual, but not unheard of, for a bride who has no male relative or close family friend, to walk up the aisle alone. One who has natural grace and an eager happy face can be the loveliest bride imaginable!

When Name Is Unknown

Dear Mrs. Post: What should a waiter or waitress, or even a sales person in a store call a lady whose name is unknown?

Answer: All women customers or patrons, whether married or unmarried are correctly called "Madam." Young girls are called "you." For example: "May I help you?" or "What would you like to see." "Miss" is said in British shops but rarely in American stores.

What dress is worn by the guest at the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Clothes for daytime or evening receptions are described in leaflet E-6. London, May 3 (AP)—Britain's Communist party said today it is entering 17 candidates for House of Commons seats in the May 26 general election. It urged its supporters to vote for Labor party candidates in the other 608 districts.

Church Says Daughter May Live With Mother

White Plains, May 3 (AP) — Mayor Stanley W. Church of New Rochelle agreed yesterday to let his 16-year-old daughter, Jacqueline, live with his former wife, Mrs. Eleanor Watson, of Queens.

The agreement was reached in a three-hour conference in Westchester county Children's Court attended by Jacqueline, Church, his present wife and his former wife, the child's mother.

Judge George W. Smuth, who helped work out the agreement, commented that Church's main interest is the child's happiness. The pact awaits formal court approval.

The conference was a sequel to Jacqueline's flight from the Mary Burnham School for Girls at Northampton, Mass., with a school mate last month. Jacqueline, who rebelled against continuing to live with her father, was reunited with her mother within a few days.

The child had been the subject of bitter custody fights between Church and his former wife. Church was awarded custody of Jacqueline and a son, Sammy, who was less of a problem in the custody fights.

Fingold Criticized

Boston, May 3 (AP)—A charge that four desperate convicts dictated the terms of their own surrender to end an 84-hour rebellion last January at the Massachusetts state prison is contained in a report filed yesterday by a Suffolk county grand jury. The report sharply criticized Atty. Gen. George Fingold, Corrections Commissioner E. Lawrence Spurr and the prison administration. The grand jury said a "shocking breakdown of discipline and morale" was responsible for the revolt in which a bank robber, cop killer, rapist and gunman teamed up to hold five guards and six other prisoners hostages 84 hours before releasing them unharmed. A seven-man citizens' committee negotiated release of the inmate rebels.

"My son, Peter, is 18 months old. Not so long ago, he had his first adventure. He toddled outside the house and fell on a milk bottle. Came screaming back inside with his hand badly cut. A year ago I would have been lost. But I was perfectly calm — I washed it off and bandaged it beautifully."

Of course, he's far from being a finished medical product. When Peter was born, Dick was in the midst of shooting the unforgettable "Medic" story about a Caesarean birth. By coincidence, Peter was born in that way, too.

"For a week before," Dick says, "I was able to talk about it with the doctors very intelligently, very objectively. I looked at my wife's X-rays, and talked to our obstetrician in technical terms. I knew what I was doing. I thought I had it licked."

But the day Peter was born, Dick Bone realized he was just another anxious father-to-be. He practically collapsed.

Boone is a tall, almost-handsome Californian, who came to New York after the war and studied acting with Marlon Brando, Eva Marie Saint and that crowd at the Actors' Studio and the Neighborhood Playhouse. But his only Broadway job was as John Gielgud's understudy in "Medea." Dick never got a chance to go on. But he did a lot of TV, and got called to Hollywood.

Would End Marriage

Cleveland, May 3 (AP)—Caral Gimbel Greenberg, heiress to a department store fortune, has asked an end to her nine-year marriage with Hank Greenberg, home run hitter who became general manager of the Cleveland Indians baseball team. Mrs. Greenberg, a noted horsewoman, yesterday claimed "gross neglect and extreme cruelty" and asked custody of their three children, Glenn, 8, Stephen, 6, Alva, 2. She also demanded alimony. Greenberg, 44, said he was "terribly distressed."

SPRING STORMS ADD TO DUST BOWL'S WOES

America's Dust Bowl is getting dustier. Spring has brought soil-robbing winds and crop-ripping tornadoes throughout the Great Plains, already in critical shape after five years of drought conditions. The destructive weather greeted 600 delegates from all over the world as they gathered in Albuquerque, N. M., for the International Conference on Arid Lands. In its April report, the Soil Conservation Service added five million acres of land already blowing from the Dust Bowl area. This brought the total of land damaged by wind erosion since last November to more than 13 million acres. In addition, the report warned that another 20 million acres are ready to blow, because they lack enough vegetable cover to anchor the topsoil if high winds and drought persist through late spring and early summer. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson recently inspected the area. What he saw caused him to issue a call for governors of 10 Great Plains states to meet in Denver on June 1 to devise a program to attack the causes of drought damage and wind erosion. Map below shows the Dust Bowl area, with allocations of some of the nearly 10 million dollars Washington has given for emergency tillage for new wind-resistant cover crops and other measures.

A lone bit of life amid an arid desert is Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson as he trudges almost ankle-deep in dust across what were once lush green acres on a Colorado farm. Benson toured the wind-raked area after which he declared that his main goal will be alleviation of the causes of drought.

Map shows the drought-stricken Dust Bowl of the western plains. The monthly report of the Soil Conservation Service in April said more than 13 million acres have been damaged by wind erosion since last November. In addition, another 20 million acres are in condition to blow if high winds and drought persist.

ON THE SUBJECT OF CONVERSATION

A reader asks: "Is there any rule to follow for conversing in company—meaning when at a party in the presence of a group of people who are strangers? I never know what topics are safe to start and in consequence usually remain silent."

Conversation on every occasion is necessarily an exchange of casual thought. Ideal general conversation at a party should be amusing and have gay lightness suggestive of balloons tossed back and forth. It is always tactful to avoid controversial subjects unless you know that you are not in danger of offending the opinions of those present. Also, it is well to remember that strangers are not interested in having you air your private concerns. If you happen to be one of those who dread meeting strangers because you can't think of anything to say, you should console yourself with the fact that the faults of conversation are committed not by those who talk too little but by those who talk too much. To "listen eagerly" is really the best advice on conversation possible to give, since the person whom most people love to sit next to is a sympathetic listener who makes others want to talk.

The Bride Walks Alone

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for a bride to ever walk up the aisle alone? A friend of mine insists that it is, but I have never in my life seen this and furthermore, think she would look very forlorn. Will you please answer this in your column?

Answer: It is unusual, but not unheard of, for a bride who has no male relative or close family friend, to walk up the aisle alone. One who has natural grace and an eager happy face can be the loveliest bride imaginable!

When Name Is Unknown

Dear Mrs. Post: What should a waiter or waitress, or even a sales person in a store call a lady whose name is unknown?

Answer: All women customers or patrons, whether married or unmarried are correctly called "Madam." Young girls are called "you." For example: "May I help you?" or "What would you like to see." "Miss" is said in British shops but rarely in American stores.

What dress is worn by the guest at the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Clothes for daytime or evening receptions are described in leaflet E-6. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Church Says Daughter May Live With Mother

White Plains, May 3 (AP) — Mayor Stanley W. Church of New Rochelle agreed yesterday to let his 16-year-old daughter, Jacqueline, live with his former wife, Mrs. Eleanor Watson, of Queens.

The agreement was reached in a three-hour conference in Westchester county Children's Court attended by Jacqueline, Church, his present wife and his former wife, the child's mother.

Judge George W. Smuth, who helped work out the agreement, commented that Church's main interest is the child's happiness. The pact awaits formal court approval.

The conference was a sequel to Jacqueline's flight from the Mary Burnham School for Girls at Northampton, Mass., with a school mate last month. Jacqueline, who rebelled against continuing to live with her father, was reunited with her mother within a few days.

The child had been the subject of bitter custody fights between Church and his former wife. Church was awarded custody of Jacqueline and a son, Sammy, who was less of a problem in the custody fights.

Fingold Criticized

Boston, May 3 (AP)—A charge that four desperate convicts dictated the terms of their own surrender to end an 84-hour rebellion last January at the Massachusetts state prison is contained in a report filed yesterday by a Suffolk county grand jury. The report sharply criticized Atty. Gen. George Fingold, Corrections Commissioner E. Lawrence Spurr and the prison administration. The grand jury said a "shocking breakdown of discipline and morale" was responsible for the revolt in which a bank robber, cop killer, rapist and gunman teamed up to hold five guards and six other prisoners hostages 84 hours before releasing them unharmed. A seven-man citizens' committee negotiated release of the guards and surrender of the inmate rebels.

Destroyers, Chez Emile, Hercules Capture Softball Openers

Chezzies Score 14 Runs In First Against Yurcam

City Softball League players had their hitting shoes on in the 1955 openers yesterday.

Among other developments of the four-game slate were:

Destroyer A.C., the 1954 Shaughnessy champions, collected 20 hits to crush Cedar Rest, 15 to 8.

Hercules won over Les Pommiers, 11 to 8, in a game with some semblance of sanity.

WHILE RONNIE Freer was making a 3-hit pitching debut for Chez Emile, the winners raked Genuario for 20 safeties, including three each by Nick Carl and George Glaser. One of Carl's blows was good for three bases.

Dave Brandon spaced 10 hits judiciously and was effective after the second inning when Cedar Rest tied the score at 5-5.

Brandon aided his own cause with four hits and Johnny Armstrong chipped in with four more as the Destroyers scored in five of their seven turns at bat. B. Miller and D. Lindsey each collected three hits.

HERCULES scored early and often off veterans Walt Bigler and Charlie Dasher and ran up a 11-4 lead in the first three innings. A Pommier ally was choked off at three runs in the seventh.

John Grube belted a homer and two singles for Hercules. Bechtold was one short of the cycle with a single, double and triple. Billy Throneberg, Bechtold and Grube starred on defense for the Powdermen.

In the Destroyer-Cedar Rest game, Chops Lindsay and Johnny Armstrong rapped tremendous homers, the clout by Lindsay soaring an estimated 375 feet.

Ben Freer pitched 3-hit ball for Chez Emile.

Basilio-DeMarco First Day Sellout

Syracuse, May 3 (AP) — The Carmen Basilio-Tony DeMarco fight for the welterweight boxing championship is a one-day sellout.

Tickets for the June 10 bout here went on sale yesterday morning. They were gone before nightfall, according to Promoter Norm Rothschild of the Arena Boxing Club.

At a $20 top, with nearly 9,000 seats available in the War Memorial Auditorium, the gross gate will be about $118,000. DeMarco won the title from Johnny Saxton in Boston April 1.

Marlboro Wins Over Highland

Marlboro Central regained its winning touch with a 11-6 victory over Highland in a Ulster County Athletic League game yesterday at Marlboro.

The win was the third in four starts for Coach Jack Kroh's defending champions and Highland's second setback in two league decisions.

CHARLIE MANDIA permitted only four hits and was riding on a 11-1 lead when Highland exploded for five runs in the seventh. The Centrals scored six times in the fourth and added four more in the fifth.

Carston Conn rapped two doubles and a single for Marlboro. George Mackey hit two singles and Mandia helped himself with a single and triple.

Leaders Unchanged In ABC Tournament

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 3 (AP)—Leaders in the major divisions of the American Bowling Congress remained unchanged after yesterday's shooting.

In the doubles, William Gangle and Eugene Yurek of Plainfield, N. J., rolled the day's best score, 1,255 but it was 15 pins short of getting into the top 10. The pace setters in doubles Harry Zoeller and George Pacropis of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., have 1,365.

The best singles series was 662 by Louis Dowling of Huntington, W. Va., on games of 223, 244 and 195. He was 27 pins away from the 10th man in the event, which is topped by Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee with 738.

Fights Last Night

Las Vegas — Archie Moore, 196½, Miami, outpointed Nino Valdes, 209½, Cuba, 15.

Brooklyn—Tony Puleo, 134½, Brooklyn, drew with Carmelo Costa, 132¼, Brooklyn, 10.

Montreal — Pat Marcune, 130½, Brooklyn, outpointed Charlie Titone, 127, Brooklyn, 10.

Akins Surprise KO Victor Over Ronnie Delaney

New York, May 3 (AP)—Virgil Akins was hoping today that his surprising eighth round knockout of hitherto iron-chinned Ronnie Delaney wouldn't scare off any other high-ranking opponents.

The 25-year-old St. Louis veteran, a 4-1 underdog, flattened the sixth-ranking middleweight contender from Akron, O., with a picture left hook and right to the jaw in 2:41 of the eighth heat of their television 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

It was the first time Ronnie has been stopped in 54 scraps and it was only the second defeat of his career. Delaney hadn't lost since Aug. 30, 1948 when he dropped an eight-round decision to Jimmy Welch, whom he beat later. Akins scored his 27th victory against 13 defeats and his 13th knockout.

"I'd LIKE TO get a shot at welterweight champion Tony De Marco," said Akins. "But I'll be glad to settle for Hector Constance, Kid Gavilan or any of the ranking welterweights."

In another surprise, Tony Puleo, a 22-year-old Brooklyn rookie making his debut as a main eventer, held heavily favored Carmelo Costa to a 10-round draw in a televised scrap at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena.

Costa, the sixth ranking featherweight contender, was a 4-1 choice to box rings around his neighborhood rival, who has been a pro only 10 months. Tony, however, wasn't awed by his more experienced, if younger, opponent.

Favorite Wins At Roosevelt

Westbury, May 3 (AP)—Ceyway scored her second harness racing victory in five starts this season when she gained a half length decision over Bertram Hanover in 2:05 last night at Roosevelt Raceway. The winner is owned by Russell Laird of Franklin Park, N. J.

Stanley Dancer, seemingly beaten in the stretch after relinquishing the lead, urged Ceyway onward to beat Bertram Hanover and Prudence's Boy in a close three-horse finish.

The heavy favorite in the contest, Ceyway rewarded her backers with a payoff of $4.10, $3.00 and $2.60.

City Softball League players had their hitting shoes on in the 1955 openers yesterday.

Among other developments of the four-game slate were:

Chez Emile launched its season with a 14-run first inning to rout Turcams, 19 to 2.

Destroyer A.C., the 1954 Shaughnessy champions, collected 20 hits to crush Cedar Rest, 15 to 8.

Hercules won over Les Pommiers, 11 to 8, in a game with some semblance of sanity.

WHILE RONNIE Freer was making a 3-hit pitching debut for Chez Emile, the winners raked Genuario for 20 safeties, including three each by Nick Carl and George Glaser. One of Carl's blows was good for three bases.

Dave Brandon spaced 10 hits judiciously and was effective after the second inning when Cedar Rest tied the score at 5-5.

Brandon aided his own cause with four hits and Johnny Armstrong chipped in with four more as the Destroyers scored in five of their seven turns at bat. B. Miller and D. Lindsey each collected three hits.

HERCULES scored early and often off veterans Walt Bigler and Charlie Dasher and ran up a 11-4 lead in the first three innings. A Pommier ally was choked off at three runs in the seventh.

John Grube belted a homer and two singles for Hercules. Bechtold was one short of the cycle with a single, double and triple. Billy Throneberg, Bechtold and Grube starred on defense for the Powdermen.

In the Destroyer-Cedar Rest game, Chops Lindsay and Johnny Armstrong rapped tremendous homers, the clout by Lindsay soaring an estimated 375 feet.

Ben Freer pitched 3-hit ball for Chez Emile.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching: Bob Purkey, Pirates—Gave up seven hits and an unearned run as Pittsburgh clubbed three St. Louis pitchers for 14 hits and defeated the Cardinals 5-1.

Batting: Carl Furillo, Dodgers—Slammed his eighth home run of the season with a man on base in the 12th inning to break up a brilliant scoreless pitching duel between Brooklyn's Carl Erskine and Milwaukee's Gene Conley and gave the Dodgers a 2-0 triumph.

Basilio-DeMarco First Day Sellout

Syracuse, May 3 (AP) — The Carmen Basilio-Tony DeMarco fight for the welterweight boxing championship is a one-day sellout.

Tickets for the June 10 bout here went on sale yesterday morning. They were gone before nightfall, according to Promoter Norm Rothschild of the Arena Boxing Club.

At a $20 top, with nearly 9,000 seats available in the War Memorial Auditorium, the gross gate will be about $118,000. DeMarco won the title from Johnny Saxton in Boston April 1.

Marlboro Wins Over Highland

Marlboro Central regained its winning touch with a 11-6 victory over Highland in a Ulster County Athletic League game yesterday at Marlboro.

The win was the third in four starts for Coach Jack Kroh's defending champions and Highland's second setback in two league decisions.

CHARLIE MANDIA permitted only four hits and was riding on a 11-1 lead when Highland exploded for five runs in the seventh. The Centrals scored six times in the fourth and added four more in the fifth.

Carston Conn rapped two doubles and a single for Marlboro. George Mackey hit two singles and Mandia helped himself with a single and triple.

Leaders Unchanged In ABC Tournament

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 3 (AP)—Leaders in the major divisions of the American Bowling Congress remained unchanged after yesterday's shooting.

In the doubles, William Gangle and Eugene Yurek of Plainfield, N. J., rolled the day's best score, 1,255 but it was 15 pins short of getting into the top 10. The pace setters in doubles Harry Zoeller and George Pacropis of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., have 1,365.

The best singles series was 662 by Louis Dowling of Huntington, W. Va., on games of 223, 244 and 195. He was 27 pins away from the 10th man in the event, which is topped by Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee with 738.

Fights Last Night

Las Vegas — Archie Moore, 196½, Miami, outpointed Nino Valdes, 209½, Cuba, 15.

Brooklyn—Tony Puleo, 134½, Brooklyn, drew with Carmelo Costa, 132¼, Brooklyn, 10.

Montreal — Pat Marcune, 130½, Brooklyn, outpointed Charlie Titone, 127, Brooklyn, 10.

Akins Surprise KO Victor Over Ronnie Delaney

New York, May 3 (AP)—Virgil Akins was hoping today that his surprising eighth round knockout of hitherto iron-chinned Ronnie Delaney wouldn't scare off any other high-ranking opponents.

The 25-year-old St. Louis veteran, a 4-1 underdog, flattened the sixth-ranking middleweight contender from Akron, O., with a picture left hook and right to the jaw in 2:41 of the eighth heat of their television 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

It was the first time Ronnie has been stopped in 54 scraps and it was only the second defeat of his career. Delaney hadn't lost since Aug. 30, 1948 when he dropped an eight-round decision to Jimmy Welch, whom he beat later. Akins scored his 27th victory against 13 defeats and his 13th knockout.

"I'd LIKE TO get a shot at welterweight champion Tony De Marco," said Akins. "But I'll be glad to settle for Hector Constance, Kid Gavilan or any of the ranking welterweights."

Outweighed 149¾ to 146½, Akins held a slight lead when he nailed the Ohio southpaw in the eighth. The left hook staggered Ronnie and the right finished him off.

In another surprise, Tony Puleo, a 22-year-old Brooklyn rookie making his debut as a main eventer, held heavily favored Carmelo Costa to a 10-round draw in a televised scrap at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena.

Costa, the sixth ranking featherweight contender, was a 4-1 choice to box rings around his neighborhood rival, who has been a pro only 10 months. Tony, however, wasn't awed by his more experienced, if younger, opponent.

Favorite Wins At Roosevelt

Westbury, May 3 (AP)—Ceyway scored her second harness racing victory in five starts this season when she gained a half length decision over Bertram Hanover in 2:05 last night at Roosevelt Raceway. The winner is owned by Russell Laird of Franklin Park, N. J.

Stanley Dancer, seemingly beaten in the stretch after relinquishing the lead, urged Ceyway onward to beat Bertram Hanover and Prudence's Boy in a close three-horse finish.

The heavy favorite in the contest, Ceyway rewarded her backers with a payoff of $4.10, $3.00 and $2.60.

High School Netmen Hand Newburgh First Loss in 46 Matches

Kantrowitz Wins Over McDon'ugh

Maroons Score By 3-2 Margin

Kingston High scored an historic tennis victory yesterday, smashing Newburgh Academy's 45-match streak and handing the Goldbacks' Jack McDonough the first setback of his high school career.

Coach Ken Brown's swingers ground out a 3-2 victory that reverberated around the DUSO League and promised a wide open scramble for the 1955 pennant.

MARTY KANTROWITZ, restored to the No. 1 position, rallied for a magnificent victory over McDonough. The Goldback won the first set 2-6, but the big Ulster county amateur kingpin squared it with a 6-1 set and then won a furious third-set struggle, 6-4.

Not only had McDonough never lost a match in DUSO competition but he never had dropped so much as a set. That gives you an idea of the stature of Kantrowitz's victory.

HAROLD KAPLAN the basketball wizard, won the No. 2 singles from Richard Smith, 6-0, 6-3, but George Baechtle won the pivotal third singles match in straight sets over Dick Zodikoff, 6-3, 6-3.

MARTY KANTROWITZ

McDonough and Kaplan polished off Smith and Kantrowitz 6-2, 6-2 in the No. 1 doubles.

That left the issue up to Baechtle and Ronnie Schoonmaker and the Maroon tandem responded brilliantly with a 6-3, 6-3 win over the NFA combine of Zodikoff and Frank Fidelholtz.

Kingston plays at Monticello Thursday.

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Fritz Jordan, the Arlington High School baseball coach, is one of the finest in the state. And definitely one of the more interesting characters in high school baseball, a sport that can stand all the color it can accrue.

Jordan operates the highly successful Dutchess county Maroons in big league fashion, has sent more boys up for organized baseball tryouts than any other mentor in these parts. You have to be close to Fritzie, close to the Arlington bench, to appreciate the real character and color of the man.

Such was the case last week at Dietz Stadium. It was a few minutes before game time and the Arlington tossers weren't showing concentration and interest in the imminent struggle. Perhaps their youthful minds wandered to more earthly pursuits like dates, cokes, hot rods and maybe one of those new style haircuts with field jacket to match.

Suddenly, Fritz's sharp tenor crashed through the sound barrier like a first sergeant addressing first day formation at a training camp.

Standing squarely in front of the Arlington bench, Jordan addressed his tossers thusly:

"Gentlemen, it is Wednesday, April 27, and at 4:15 p. m. we are scheduled to play Kingston High on this ball field. Please get your mind on the ball game."

The squad was quickly galvanized into action. They moved into the game and were mesmerized by Kingston's Alo Saluste for four innings. Jordan's frustration mounted with each inning and, no longer able to contain himself, he addressed the squad for the second time, just before the start of the fifth inning.

"Gentlemen," he said, "that's not Robin Roberts out there pitching against you. I repeat, gentlemen, that is not Robin Roberts."

Well, the Maroons must have believed him because they hopped on Alo for a couple of runs.

Never a dull day with Mr. Jordan.

Man Yells 'Burglary'

Moore Registers Close Decision Over Valdes

Las Vegas, Nev., May 3 (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore may well have earned a shot at Rocky Marciano and his world heavyweight title.

Ageless Archie last night met and whipped the No. 1 contender, Nino Valdes of Cuba, in a 15-round fight that was action packed from start to finish.

Sitting at ringside was Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, who said that yes indeed, the 38-year-old Moore deserved a chance to meet Marciano.

GIBSON SAID the match would probably be scheduled for September in New York, provided, of course, that Rocky disposes of England's Don Cockell in San Francisco May 16.

It was a repeat victory for Moore over Valdes and while Archie had aged two years since that meeting, he didn't show it.

And the only evidence of a heart ailment was simply that Moore had more than enough heart to take the best that Valdes had to offer and then dish out more himself.

Moore weighed 196½, the heaviest in a ring career that stretches back 18 years. Valdes weighed 209½.

Referee Jimmy Braddock, the old time ex-champion of the heavies, gave Archie eight, rounds, Valdes five and he called two even. One round was taken away from each fighter for hitting low.

MOST EVERYONE at ringside thought Moore earned the decision. But there were some who thought it was much closer.

There were no knockdowns, but the estimated 10,000 or so fans who paid $102,608—a figure given out by the promoter, Jack Kearns—saw a match that was viciously fought.

Valdes fought the last two rounds with his left eye closed tight. Archie puffed it in the sixth and just before the 13th ended it went completely shut.

It probably cost him the fight, because Archie poured on the coal in the final two rounds to win.

Valdes was furious at the decision. He faked a faint in his corner, sprawling out on the canvas. His manager, Bobby Gleason, yelled "burglary."

Bosox Sinking Deeper As Ted Keeps Casting

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press

If Ted Williams was casting base hits around the American League instead of reeling in the big ones off the Florida Keys these days, Boston's Red Sox might be a lot better off. He's having a good time, but they're in sixth place in the American League.

If the Red Sox ever needed thumpin' Ted, they need him now.

You remember Williams. He's the guy with the .348 lifetime batting average who some folks daily claimed was due to show up at Boston's training camp this spring. But Williams spent the training season fishing.

WITHOUT WILLIAMS, the Bostons are having domestic problems of their own. After a fast start, when they were 6-1 and in first place by April 20, the Red Sox now have tailed off to lose 10 of their last 12, including five in a row.

They've been batting a puny .180 through the slump, getting shut out four times en route. Yesterday the Red Sox ran afoul of a healthy Early Wynn as Cleveland kept first place, 4-2.

Wynn, a 23-game winner last season, grabbed his first victory of the season, scattering six hits in a recovery from an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

Detroit kept the pace, a half game back of the Indians, by whipping the New York Yankees 7-1. The Yanks, who were tied for second with the Tigers and Chicago White Sox at the day's start, fell off to fourth. The White Sox, idle, leveled off at third.

WASHINGTON blasted Kansas City 12-1 in the only other AL game.

In the National, Brooklyn kept up its fantastic pace, widening its lead to six games as Carl Furillo rammed his eighth home run into the left field stands to beat Milwaukee's Braves 2-0 in 12 innings. That pushed the Braves into fourth with Chicago's Cubs leaping into second on a 2-1 victory at Philadelphia after wrapping up a 4-2 decision by completing a suspended Sunday game.

Carl Furillo

Pittsburgh's Bob Purkey had no trouble with St. Louis, beating the Cardinals 5-1 in the only other NL game.

Wynn was hardly bothered at all by the Red Sox, coasting in after Dave Pope's three-run homer in the first.

DETROIT knocked off the Yanks with the pitching of veteran Steve Gromek, now 4-1 for the season.

The Tigers got eight hits, including Jim Delsing's home run and a two-run double by Ferris Fain, off four Yank pitchers starting with loser Bob Weisler.

Until Furillo whacked his shot, Gene Conley looked as invincible as ever against the Brooks. He had allowed but three hits, fanning eight and walking six in a duel with Carl Erskine. The Dodger ace won his fourth without defeat, leaving five men stranded in the last two innings.

The victory was the 16th in 18 games this season for the Brooks—an unprecedented getaway in the majors. To get it they handed Conley, who was 5-1 vs the Brooks last season, his first defeat in three decisions.

THE CARDINALS got nowhere against Purkey, who won his second straight by spacing seven hits. The lone run against him was unearned while his mates clubbed Harvey Haddix for 11 of their 14 hits. Jack Shepard had four of the Pirate hits, including two doubles. Purkey singled three times, driving two runs home.

The Cubs moved up by making Sunday's doubleheader success official and then sweeping the three-game set at Philadelphia. Eddie Miksis singled Dee Fondy home with the winning run in the third inning of the regulation game to beat Robin Roberts. Ernie Banks and Del Ennis had matched homers for a 1-1 tie in the second, and the one-run edge was all Warren Hacker needed for his first victory.

Before the regular game, Hacker warmed up by getting the final two outs in the completion of the curfew halted game.

Announcing A New Premium Gasoline that Gives Your Car the BIGGEST POWER BOOST IN GASOLINE HISTORY

It's the

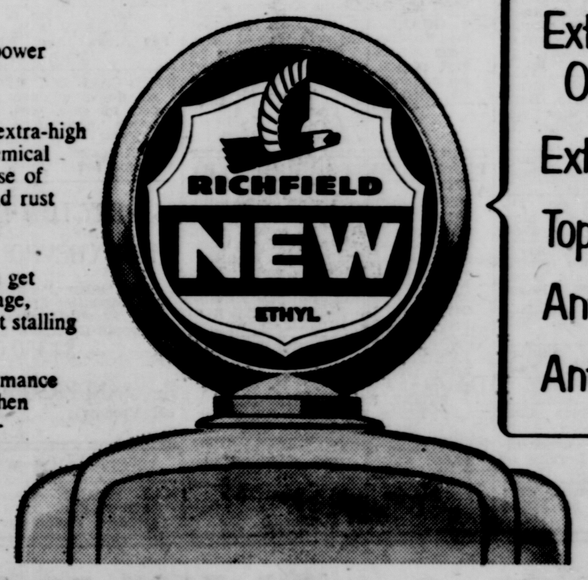

NEW RICHFIELD ETHYL

Now you can give your car the biggest power boost in gasoline history – thanks to New Richfield Ethyl gasoline.

You get this vast power because of new, extra-high octane refining methods; because of chemical elements added for extra power; because of elements added to prevent corrosion and rust deposits that can rob your power and reduce your mileage.

No matter what car you drive, you can get maximum knock-free power, top mileage, easy starting and quick warm-up without stalling due to carburetor "icing."

All these benefits add up to extra performance in city traffic or on the open highway when you buy New Richfield Ethyl gasoline – at your Richfield Dealer's today. Try it for 30 days – get all the "extras"– then you be the judge!

High School Netmen Hand Newburgh First Loss in 46 Matches

Maroons Score By 3-2 Margin

Kingston High scored an historic tennis victory yesterday, smashing Newburgh Academy's 45-match streak and handing the Goldbacks' Jack McDonough the first setback of his high school career.

Coach Ken Brown's swingers ground out a 3-2 victory that reverberated around the DUSO League and promised a wide open scramble for the 1955 pennant.

MARTY KANTROWITZ, restored to the No. 1 position, rallied for a magnificent victory over McDonough. The Goldback won the first set 2-6, but the big Ulster county amateur kingpin squared it with a 6-1 set and then won a furious third-set struggle, 6-4.

Not only had McDonough never lost a match in DUSO competition but he never had dropped so much as a set. That gives you an idea of the stature of Kantrowitz's victory.

HAROLD KAPLAN the basketball wizard, won the No. 2 singles from Richard Smith, 6-0, 6-3, but George Baechtle won the pivotal third singles match in straight sets over Dick Zodikoff, 6-3, 6-3.

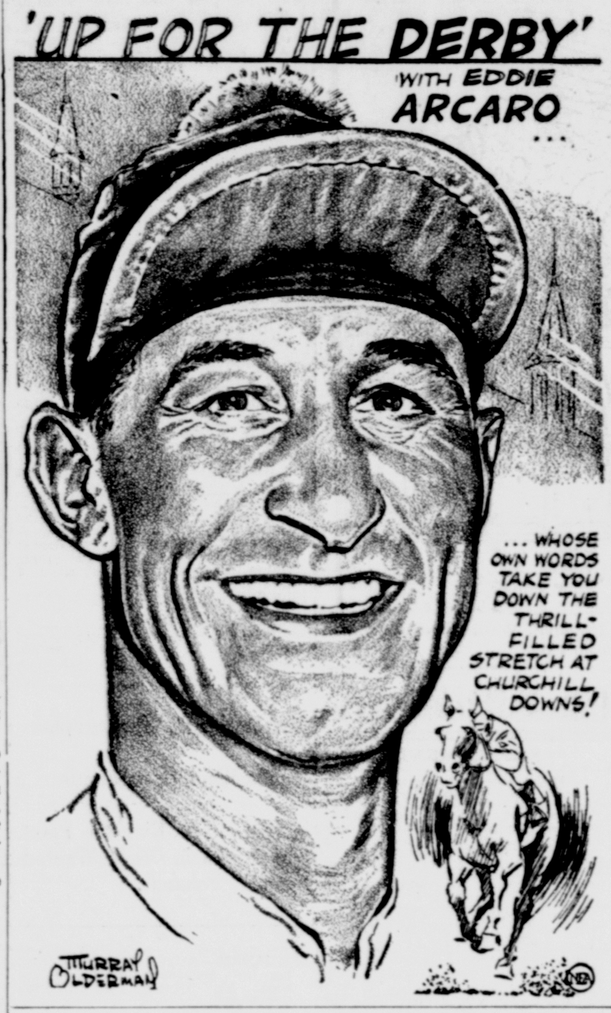

MARTY KANTROWITZ

McDonough and Kaplan polished off Smith and Kantrowitz 6-2, 6-2 in the No. 1 doubles.

That left the issue up to Baechtle and Ronnie Schoonmaker and the Maroon tandem responded brilliantly with a 6-3, 6-3 win over the NFA combine of Zodikoff and Frank Fidelholtz.

Kingston plays at Monticello Thursday.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Fritz Jordan, the Arlington High School baseball coach, is one of the finest in the state. And definitely one of the more interesting characters in high school baseball, a sport that can stand all the color it can accrue.

Jordan operates the highly successful Dutchess county Maroons in big league fashion, has sent more boys up for organized baseball tryouts than any other mentor in these parts.

You have to be close to Fritzie, close to the Arlington bench, to appreciate the real character and color of the man.

Such was the case last week at Dietz Stadium. It was a few minutes before game time and the Arlington tossers weren't showing concentration and interest in the imminent struggle. Perhaps their youthful minds wandered to more earthly pursuits like dates, cokes, hot rods and maybe one of those new style haircuts with field jacket to match.

Suddenly, Fritz's sharp tenor crashed through the sound barrier like a first sergeant addressing first day formation at a training camp.

Standing squarely in front of the Arlington bench, Jordan addressed his tossers thusly:

"Gentlemen, it is Wednesday, April 27, and at 4:15 p. m. we are scheduled to play Kingston High on this ball field. Please get your mind on the ball game."

The squad was quickly galvanized into action. They moved into the game and were mesmerized by Kingston's Alo Saluste for four innings. Jordan's frustration mounted with each inning and, no longer able to contain himself, he addressed the squad for the second time, just before the start of the fifth inning.

"Gentlemen," he said, "that's not Robin Roberts out there pitching against you. I repeat, gentlemen, that is not Robin Roberts."

Well, the Maroons must have believed him because they hopped on Alo for a couple of runs.

Never a dull day with Mr. Jordan.

Bosox Sinking Deeper As Ted Keeps Casting

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press

If Ted Williams was casting base hits around the American League instead of reeling in the big ones off the Florida Keys these days, Boston's Red Sox might be a lot better off. He's having a good time, but they're in sixth place in the American League.

If the Red Sox ever needed thumpin' Ted, they need him now.

You remember Williams. He's the guy with the .348 lifetime batting average who some folks daily claimed was due to show up at Boston's training camp this spring. But Williams spent the training season fishing.

WITHOUT WILLIAMS, the Bostons are having domestic problems of their own. After a fast start, when they were 6-1 and in first place by April 20, the Red Sox now have tailed off to lose 10 of their last 12, including five in a row.

They've been batting a puny .180 through the slump, getting shut out four times en route. Yesterday the Red Sox ran afoul of a healthy Early Wynn as Cleveland kept first place, 4-2.

Wynn, a 23-game winner last season, grabbed his first victory of the season, scattering six hits in a recovery from an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

Detroit kept the pace, a half game back of the Indians, by whipping the New York Yankees 7-1. The Yanks, who were tied for second with the Tigers and Chicago White Sox at the day's start, fell off to fourth. The White Sox, idle, leveled off at third.

WASHINGTON blasted Kansas City 12-1 in the only other AL game.

In the National, Brooklyn kept up its fantastic pace, widening its lead to six games as Carl Furillo rammed his eighth home run into the left field stands to beat Milwaukee's Braves 2-0 in 12 innings. That pushed the Braves into fourth with Chicago's Cubs leaping into second on a 2-1 victory at Philadelphia after wrapping up a 4-2 decision by completing a suspended Sunday game.

Carl Furillo

Pittsburgh's Bob Purkey had no trouble with St. Louis, beating the Cardinals 5-1 in the only other NL game.

Wynn was hardly bothered at all by the Red Sox, coasting in after Dave Pope's three-run homer in the first.

DETROIT knocked off the Yanks with the pitching of veteran Steve Gromek, now 4-1 for the season.

The Tigers got eight hits, including Jim Delsing's home run and a two-run double by Ferris Fain, off four Yank pitchers starting with loser Bob Weisler.

Until Furillo whacked his shot, Gene Conley looked as invincible as ever against the Brooks. He had allowed but three hits, fanning eight and walking six in a duel with Carl Erskine. The Dodger ace won his fourth without defeat, leaving five men stranded in the last two innings.

The victory was the 16th in 18 games this season for the Brooks—an unprecedented getaway in the majors. To get it they handed Conley, who was 5-1 vs the Brooks last season, his first defeat in three decisions.

THE CARDINALS got nowhere against Purkey, who won his second straight by spacing seven hits. The lone run against him was unearned while his mates clubbed Harvey Haddix for 11 of their 14 hits. Jack Shepard had four of the Pirate hits, including two doubles. Purkey singled three times, driving two runs home.

The Cubs moved up by making Sunday's doubleheader success official and then sweeping the three-game set at Philadelphia. Eddie Miksis singled Dee Fondy home with the winning run in the third inning of the regulation game to beat Robin Roberts. Ernie Banks and Del Ennis had matched homers for a 1-1 tie in the second, and the one-run edge was all Warren Hacker needed for his first victory.

Before the regular game, Hacker warmed up by getting the final two outs in the completion of the curfew halted game.

Man Yells 'Burglary'

Moore Registers Close Decision Over Valdes

Las Vegas, Nev., May 3 (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore may well have earned a shot at Rocky Marciano and his world heavyweight title.

Ageless Archie last night met and whipped the No. 1 contender, Nino Valdes of Cuba, in a 15-round fight that was action packed from start to finish.

Sitting at ringside was Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, who said that yes indeed, the 38-year-old Moore deserved a chance to meet Marciano.

GIBSON SAID the match would probably be scheduled for September in New York, provided, of course, that Rocky disposes of England's Don Cockell in San Francisco May 16.

It was a repeat victory for Moore over Valdes and while Archie had aged two years since that meeting, he didn't show it.

And the only evidence of a heart ailment was simply that Moore had more than enough heart to take the best that Valdes had to offer and then dish out more himself.

Moore weighed 196½, the heaviest in a ring career that stretches back 18 years. Valdes weighed 209½.

Referee Jimmy Braddock, the old time ex-champion of the heavies, gave Archie eight, rounds, Valdes five and he called two even. One round was taken away from each fighter for hitting low.

MOST EVERYONE at ringside thought Moore earned the decision. But there were some who thought it was much closer.

There were no knockdowns, but the estimated 10,000 or so fans who paid $102,608—a figure given out by the promoter, Jack Kearns—saw a match that was viciously fought.

Valdes fought the last two rounds with his left eye closed tight. Archie puffed it in the sixth and just before the 13th ended it went completely shut.

It probably cost him the fight, because Archie poured on the coal in the final two rounds to win.

Valdes was furious at the decision. He faked a faint in his corner, sprawling out on the canvas. His manager, Bobby Gleason, yelled "burglary."

Says Guaranteed Wage Dangerous

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Frank B. Cliffe, vice president of the H. J. Heinz Co. of Pittsburgh, said today the guaranteed annual wage being demanded by some unions may endanger expansion of programs of some businesses and bankrupt others.

Cliffe said in a speech prepared for the 43rd annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce that many firms have found it possible to regularize production and pay checks "with varying degrees of success."

But the risks are great, Cliffee continued, for companies subject to seasonal fluctuations in sales or sensitive to the ups and downs of the business cycle.

"WHILE I AM in strong sympathy with the desire for steady work and correspondingly steady pay, the demand for a guaranteed annual wage seems to be using the wrong tool for the job," Cliffe said.

"Certainly the destruction of an employer's willingness to expand and experiment and the bankruptcy of other employers who could not survive the additional load of payments demanded would harm employes far beyond the benefits they would have received."

Cliffe spoke of problems he said would be faced by Ford and General Motors, now negotiating on demands for a guaranteed wage from the CIO United Auto Workers and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

"SHOULD FORD or Chevrolet hold down production now because history shows that fewer people will be in market for new cars in November than in April?" Cliffe asked.

"Can one of them do it if the other does not? If they agree with each other that both would do it, is that a combination in restraint of trade, subject to federal prosecution and penalties?

"Should an employer with a growing market limit his employment for fear of future slackening?"

Jayvees Lose 8-3 at Arlington

Limited to three hits by Jack Bloomer, the KHS baseball Jayvees dropped their seasonal opener to Arlington Jayvees, 8-3, yesterday at Arlington.

The Dutchess nine collected eight hits off the combined slants of Jim Uhl and Joe Beaver. Bloomer was wild with 11 walks but he fanned 10 to match the Kingston total of Uhl (6) and Beaver (4).

BISHOP CRACKED a run scoring triple and later scored himself in the first inning when Coach Al Gruner's nine picked up two runs. Stump hit a double and single for Arlington.

The other Kingston safeties went to George Uhl and Joe Beaver.

The Jayvees play Poughkeepsie Thursday at Dietz Stadium.

National Golf Day Is June 4

The American Red Cross will share in the proceeds of National Golf Day for the first time this year, it has been announced by Life Magazine and the United States Golf Association, cosponsors of the event.

The 1955 event is scheduled Saturday, June 4, with all Ulster county golf courses cooperating.

Fred Hoffman, chairman of the Ulster county chapter of the Red Cross, has announced he will appoint a chairman to coordinate county participation.

A new format for the tournament will have the ladies competing against their own National champion, the fabulous Babe Didrikson Zaharias, and trying to win their own medals.

The men will compete against National Open champion, Ed Furgol, who with Mrs. Zaharias will shoot their round at the Olympic Club in San Francisco, site of this year's U. S. Open.

As in the past, in addition to the charity beneficiary, the National Golf Fund will receive its share of Golf Day participation dollars. Also, as in the past, none of the expense of the event is deducted from the money raised.

Every golfer paying $1.00 entry fee to the pro or starter running the tournament at his local or home course is eligible to compete.

Players will use their club handicap against the champions who will be playing from scratch at San Francisco.

Players who have no handicap will be rated on the Calloway system.

Participating clubs or public courses will be supplied with official National Golf Day score sheets; players will sign up for the tournament on these. Score cards will be turned in to the golf committee, club pro, or public course official at the end of each round.

Contestants may play as many rounds as they wish with the payment of an additional fee for each 18-hole round played.

Says Guaranteed Wage Dangerous

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Frank B. Cliffe, vice president of the H. J. Heinz Co. of Pittsburgh, said today the guaranteed annual wage being demanded by some unions may endanger expansion of programs of some businesses and bankrupt others.

Cliffe said in a speech prepared for the 43rd annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce that many firms have found it possible to regularize production and pay checks "with varying degrees of success."

But the risks are great, Cliffee continued, for companies subject to seasonal fluctuations in sales or sensitive to the ups and downs of the business cycle.

"WHILE I AM in strong sympathy with the desire for steady work and correspondingly steady pay, the demand for a guaranteed annual wage seems to be using the wrong tool for the job," Cliffe said.

"Certainly the destruction of an employer's willingness to expand and experiment and the bankruptcy of other employers who could not survive the additional load of payments demanded would harm employes far beyond the benefits they would have received."

Cliffe spoke of problems he said would be faced by Ford and General Motors, now negotiating on demands for a guaranteed wage from the CIO United Auto Workers and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

"SHOULD FORD or Chevrolet hold down production now because history shows that fewer people will be in market for new cars in November than in April?" Cliffe asked.

"Can one of them do it if the other does not? If they agree with each other that both would do it, is that a combination in restraint of trade, subject to federal prosecution and penalties?

"Should an employer with a growing market limit his employment for fear of future slackening?"

Jayvees Lose 8-3 at Arlington

Limited to three hits by Jack Bloomer, the KHS baseball Jayvees dropped their seasonal opener to Arlington Jayvees, 8-3, yesterday at Arlington.

The Dutchess nine collected eight hits off the combined slants of Jim Uhl and Joe Beaver. Bloomer was wild with 11 walks but he fanned 10 to match the Kingston total of Uhl (6) and Beaver (4).

BISHOP CRACKED a run scoring triple and later scored himself in the first inning when Coach Al Gruner's nine picked up two runs. Stump hit a double and single for Arlington.

The other Kingston safeties went to George Uhl and Joe Beaver.

The Jayvees play Poughkeepsie Thursday at Dietz Stadium. The boxscore:

National Golf Day Is June 4

The American Red Cross will share in the proceeds of National Golf Day for the first time this year, it has been announced by Life Magazine and the United States Golf Association, cosponsors of the event.

The 1955 event is scheduled Saturday, June 4, with all Ulster county golf courses cooperating.

Fred Hoffman, chairman of the Ulster county chapter of the Red Cross, has announced he will appoint a chairman to coordinate county participation.

A new format for the tournament will have the ladies competing against their own National champion, the fabulous Babe Didrikson Zaharias, and trying to win their own medals.

The men will compete against National Open champion, Ed Furgol, who with Mrs. Zaharias will shoot their round at the Olympic Club in San Francisco, site of this year's U. S. Open.

As in the past, in addition to the charity beneficiary, the National Golf Fund will receive its share of Golf Day participation dollars. Also, as in the past, none of the expense of the event is deducted from the money raised.

Every golfer paying $1.00 entry fee to the pro or starter running the tournament at his local or home course is eligible to compete.

Players will use their club handicap against the champions who will be playing from scratch at San Francisco.

Players who have no handicap will be rated on the Calloway system.

Participating clubs or public courses will be supplied with official National Golf Day score sheets; players will sign up for the tournament on these. Score cards will be turned in to the golf committee, club pro, or public course official at the end of each round.

Contestants may play as many rounds as they wish with the payment of an additional fee for each 18-hole round played.

Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, and chief medical officer of the county's civilian defense commission, presented the members with certificates and pins for completing the course at the West Hurley Firehouse. The group, consisting of 41 members, was sponsored by the West Hurley Home Bureau unit under instruction of Mrs. Merrill Yaple and Mrs. Theodore Lyke, both registered professional nurses of Kingston. The entire group has been enrolled for the Medical Aide Second Class course which is given after completion of the initial course. (Freeman photo)

Bowers' Car Found In High Falls Area

A 1953 red convertible belonging to City Policeman Harold Bowers, 71 Lafayette avenue, stolen some time late Saturday night or Sunday morning, was recovered early yesterday afternoon in a swampy area off a back road southwest of High Falls by deputies of the Ulster county sheriff's office.

The car was stolen from in front of the residence of Edward Francus, 119 Linderman avenue. The sheriff's office said Francus had accidentally left the keys in the ignition when he parked it.

Deputies William R. Churchill and Andy Ellsworth, who investigated, said the car had been driven off the road across from the High Falls dump. It was mired to the hub caps in some brush about 75 feet off the road.

THEY REPORTED THE car appeared to be in good condition with the exception of the right front headlight which had been broken, perhaps in a collision.

Bowers reported the theft of the car to police headquarters at 8:55 a. m. Sunday. It was stolen some time between 11:30 p. m. Saturday and the time it was reported.

School Open to Public

The new Wallkill Elementary School will be open for public inspection today at 8:30 p. m. The kindergarten through Grade 6 school building contains 12 classrooms, two kindergarten rooms and an all-purpose room. It is one of three projects under contract in the Wallkill Central School District, the others being an addition to the Plattekill School and an addition to the Wallkill Central School. Harry Halverson of Kingston is the architect.

Writer Ordered Out

Colombo, Ceylon, May 3 (AP)—The Ceylon government has ordered an American woman, Margaret Weil, to leave the island within 24 hours, an immigration official said today. Miss Weil, who described herself as a free-lance journalist and writer from New York city, arrived in Colombo by plane yesterday from Japan. She said she was on her way to the United States.

Adlers Plan Move

Adler was formerly an executive with Fairchild Publications, New York, and for some years prior to coming to Kingston was vice-president of the Worcester Knitting Co., Worcester, Mass.

46 Building Permits Issued During April

A total of 46 permits amounting to $213,497 were issued during the month of April, it was reported today by S. Burrell Schwarzwaelder, city superintendent of buildings.

During the month of March the superintendent issued 37 permits amounting to $130,204.

Permits issued during April were broken down as follows:

Seventeen permits for new buildings, $179,672; four permits for new garages, $4,230; six permits for fire escapes, $2,030; four permits for repairs, $3,300; four permits for oil burners, $3,985; eight permits for additions to buildings, $19,250; one permit for gas unit, $380; one permit for gas tank and pump, $150, and one permit for car port, $500.

Postpone Inoculations

London, May 3 (AP)—The Medical Research Council postponed plans today to vaccinate "several hundred" British children in six cities with the new Salk anti-polio vaccine. A spokesman for the council said tests on the new vaccine would be "held up probably until Autumn, or until further information arrives from America on results of the investigation there."

Togliatti Still Ill

Trieste, Italy, May 2 (AP)—Palmiro Togliatti, 62-year-old chief of Italy's Communist party, was still confined to bed today following a sudden illness during a May Day speech. Togliatti described the attack Sunday as sunstroke. He is staying in a villa near Opicina.

Action Is Settled

In Supreme Court today a negligence action brought by Sheila Furman and another against George Tobel was announced settled by Philip Korn, counsel for plaintiff. McCabe and McCabe appeared for defendant. There were no cases ready for trial at the opening of court and Justice Hamm recessed court for conferences with counsel in cases on the day calendar.

The Weather

TUESDAY, MAY 3, 1955

Sun rises at 4:51 a. m.; sun sets at 6:57 p. m., EST.
Weather: Cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 54 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 68 degrees.

Weather Forecast

NEW YORK CITY and vicinity—Pleasantly warm with hazy skies this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday. Temperatures this afternoon and again Wednesday afternoon ranging from about 65 along the coast to the 70s inland and lowest tonight in the 50s. Gentle variable winds becoming moderate southerly this afternoon. Gentle again tonight but increasing to moderate south to southwesterly Wednesday afternoon. Visibility fair this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday although lowering to poor in haze and smoke for a short time around daybreak.

OUTLOOK: Thursday partly cloudy and continued warm. Friday cloudy with chance of showers and not quite so warm.

EASTERN New York: Considerable cloudiness and warm today, tonight and tomorrow with scattered showers and a few thunderstorms mainly in the north and west portion today and in the north portion tomorrow. High temperature today in the 70s in the north and west to around 80 in the southeast. Low tonight in the 50s.

CITY ENGINEERS weather report: Temperature at 10 a. m. today 66 degrees, pressure 29.88 inches, humidity 73 per cent, winds SE at 4 MPH. High temperature yesterday 79 at 2:40 p. m., 49 at 4 a. m. THE REV. ARTHUR E. OUDEMOOL, seated in center, was presented with a pre-paid tour of the Holy Land by the congregation of the Old Dutch Church on the occasion of his 20th anniversary as pastor of the church. Pictured above shortly after the surprise announcement was made at Thursday night's annual congregational meeting are, left to right, seated, Mrs. Oudemool, the Rev. Mr. Oudemool, and Charles Bell, chairman of the consistory's building and grounds committee. Standing, Charles Rinschler, senior deacon and finance chairman; James T. Little, clerk of the consistory; Jan Oudemool, son of the pastor; Edward DeWitt, chairman of the Pastor's 20th Anniversary Committee; and Clarence Beehler, senior elder. Dirk Oudemool, the pastor's other son, was not present when the picture was taken. The congregation at the annual meeting elected new members of the consistory and approved plans for expenditure of $45,000 to repair the organ, install new carpeting and lighting and undertake other improvements in the church sanctuary. New elders elected were Ellis Griffith, Edward Wheyle, and Charles Horne. Newly elected deacons are Robert MacKinnon, William Markle and Robert Hogan.

WEST HURLEY FIRST AIDERS — The largest class in "Self Help, Neighbor Help for the injured in Ulster county," was graduated Monday night. Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, and chief medical officer of the county's civilian defense commission, presented the members with certificates and pins for completing the course at the West Hurley Firehouse. The group, consisting of 41 members, was sponsored by the West Hurley Home Bureau unit under instruction of Mrs. Merrill Yaple and Mrs. Theodore Lyke, both registered professional nurses of Kingston. The entire group has been enrolled for the Medical Aide Second Class course which is given after completion of the initial course. (Freeman photo)

Bowers' Car Found In High Falls Area

A 1953 red convertible belonging to City Policeman Harold Bowers, 71 Lafayette avenue, stolen some time late Saturday night or Sunday morning, was recovered early yesterday afternoon in a swampy area off a back road southwest of High Falls by deputies of the Ulster county sheriff's office.

The car was stolen from in front of the residence of Edward Francus, 119 Linderman avenue. The sheriff's office said Francus had accidentally left the keys in the ignition when he parked it.

Deputies William R. Churchill and Andy Ellsworth, who investigated, said the car had been driven off the road across from the High Falls dump. It was mired to the hub caps in some brush about 75 feet off the road.

THEY REPORTED THE car appeared to be in good condition with the exception of the right front headlight which had been broken, perhaps in a collision.

Bowers reported the theft of the car to police headquarters at 8:55 a. m. Sunday. It was stolen some time between 11:30 p. m. Saturday and the time it was reported.

School Open to Public

The new Wallkill Elementary School will be open for public inspection today at 8:30 p. m.
